4 STATES HOLD PRIMARIES; PICK FOR SENATE IN 3

Fiery Contests Mark Ohio Election.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The ability of Roosevelt administration leaders to sway Democratic voters in their choice of senatorial candidates will be tested anew in some of the primary contests to be settled tomorrow.

Citizens of Ohio, Idaho, Arkansas and Nebraska will select their party tickets for the fall elections. The outcome of some of the contests may decide how far the President will go in the south later this week toward indicating his opposition to renomination of senators who have opposed a substantial portion of the New Deal.

In the campaigns ending at the polls tomorrow the issue of New Deal loyalty versus flatly asserted independence has been raised most clearly in Idaho, although Mr. Roosevelt did not go into that state on his recent transcontinental tour.

Pope Gets New Deal Aid.

Senator James P. Pope of Idaho is running for renomination against Representative D. Worth Clark, who says "a senator must rely on his own judgment." Pope has campaigned as a 100 per cent supporter of administration measures. He has received the good wishes of Secretary of State Hull and James A. Farley, the Democratic national chairman. Mr. Roosevelt himself has given aid to Pope's proposals for the development of phosphate lands in the west.

Politicians here have raised the question whether some Idaho Republicans might take a hand in deciding this contest. A new primary ballot, on which the names of both party's candidates are printed, would enable them to do so without sacrificing their right to vote Republican this fall. Their leaders have counseled them, however, to participate instead in the selection of their own party's candidate.

Three Hot Ohio Races.

In Ohio the campaign between Robert A. Taft, son of the former President, and Supreme Court Judge Arthur H. Day for the Republican senatorial nomination, has shared attention with the Democratic senatorial race and the President's part in that contest.

Day has accused Taft of trying to buy the nomination with tremendous campaign expenditures. Denying the charge, Taft said his opponent's "mud-slinging" tactics were tending to ruin the party.

Senator Robert J. Bulkley and former Gov. George White have both been campaigning for the Democratic senatorial nomination as administration supporters. During his recent trip through Ohio, Mr. Roosevelt spoke words of praise for Bulkley.

Gov. Davey Strongly Opposed.

Another element of more than state-wide interest in the Ohio primary is the contest between Gov. Martin L. Davey and former Lieut.-Gov. Charles Sawyer for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The federal social security board has accused Davey of using the old age pension system to further his candidacy, and the governor in turn has defied the board to find a "thin excuse" to withdraw federal pension grants.

The senatorial campaign in Arkansas has produced a dispute as to whether Senator Hattie W. Caraway received the President's endorsement for renomination. Mr. Roosevelt referred to her during his transcontinental tour as a "very old friend of mine," but Representative John L. McClellan, one of Mrs. Caraway's opponents, contended this was no endorsement.

The only one of tomorrow's primaries in which no senatorial contest is involved is that in Nebraska. Voters in that state will nominate candidates for governor and for five seats in the national house of representatives.

Dentist with Bag of Songs Seeks Utah Senate Seat

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Dr. Arthur C. Wherry, former president of the American Dental association, set out today with a bag full of range songs on a tuneful trail he hopes will lead him to the United States senate. Wherry, a Republican seeking the office to which Democratic Senator Elbert D. Thomas is seeking reëlection, believes "music hath charm" at the polls, and accordingly took along a cowboy orchestra with him on a state-wide political tour.

Stormy Career Cut Off by Killing.

James G. Dungan, czar of the painters' union, was ambushed and slain by assassins last night in front of his home at 3116 Lowe avenue. It was the second attempt on his life within four years.

The murder was accomplished with the precision of the professional killer. Several men, women, and children were within sight of the assassination. But only a few would admit to the police that they saw the slayers.

Dungan was a business agent of Local 191 and a member of district council No. 14 of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators, and Paperhangers of America. Police believe he was the victim of a rival gang seeking control of the union treasury. He was 36 years old.

Violence in Union's Affairs.

For many years control of the union has been marked with murders, bombings, and other labor violence. Since 1928 Dungan has occupied a prominent rôle in the union's management.

Lieut. Charles Egan of the state's attorney's office asked the police to question any one known to have been involved in Dungan's turbulent past. One of those sought is William Schaaf, former financial secretary of the local, who was questioned in 1936 about another union murder.

Last night Dungan was alone in his home. He had returned in the morning from a small farm near Hebron, Ill., where he left his wife, Ann, and their daughter, Dorothy, 11 years old.

Intending to go for a drive in his automobile, Dungan left his home shortly before 9 o'clock. He was about to enter the car which was parked at the curb when a man with whom he apparently was acquainted approached him.

Boy Describes Scene.

They talked. Dungan sat on a small iron railing about the parkway. His visitor remained standing.

Police pieced together the action of a few minutes later from the account given by a boy, 14 years old, who was almost knocked down by one of the assassins. In the fear that the gangsters would try to harm him, police withheld the boy's name.

As the two men conversed Dungan's visitor whipped out a revolver. Dungan started up from his seat and the gunman fired two shots. They struck Dungan in the neck and he fell forward on the pavement.

Four More Shots Fired.

At that instant an automobile drew to the curb. Inside were three men. As the gunman stepped in one of the men in the car, wearing a handkerchief mask, poked a revolver through one window. He fired four shots. Two struck Dungan in the head and side.

Startled by the burst of gunfire, pedestrians scurried off the street. The gang car, gathering speed, fled south in Lowe avenue.

Deering police reached the scene a few minutes later and took Dungan to St. Paul's hospital. He appeared to be semi-conscious despite his wounds, but died two hours later without talking.

One of those who visited him was Charles Mustin, 4020 Central Park avenue, the union president. Mustin said he was unable to account for the

WPA WORKERS START AIRPORT AT SCHOOL; GET RECESS WITH JOB

When 700 WPA toilers went out to build an airport on the grounds of the Holy Name Technical school near Lockport they were seized with old yearnings.

They remembered recess. Recess, when you could go out for fifteen minutes and rob your own or your neighbor's lunch box and stay the pangs of a gnawing stomach. That Holy Name is a junior high school and doesn't have recesses mean nothing at all. They'd have a recess, or else. They struck.

So yesterday J. V. McCarthy, county WPA director, agreed that the men might have their recess and their lunch boxes. And the dipper in the water pail will be sterilized between drinks.

A GIRL, CLOTHED ONLY IN SMILE, PARADES IN RAIN

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Patrolman John Pfeufer's eyes bulged in amazement tonight when they fell on an attractive young brunette striding through Central park in the rain, clothed only in a smile, her head held high. He summoned his courage to ask her what's the idea, please?

"Nothing at all," she replied. "I love to walk in the rain—just this way." She carried her clothes in a bundle.

Pfeufer threw his raincoat over her when she refused to dress. At the police station she gave her name as Ann Evans, 21 years old, and was taken to Bellevue hospital for observation.

May Be a Tidy Fortune for Buyer of Trash Pile

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Tons of paper discarded by the Philadelphia customs house today awaited any buyer who wants to ferret through the heap for supposedly valuable documents which might have been included in the waste. The federal government recently sold 40 tons of accumulated customs house trash to a paper company for $215. Dealers and collectors soon found that it contained valuable stamps, signatures and historical documents. When the paper company realized its good fortune, it halted piecemeal sales and is holding the rest of the trash for the highest bidder.

Ah! Peace! It's Wonderful! On to Crum Elbow

Crum-Elbow-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Two thousand followers of Father Divine today entered into a land overflowing with soda pop, fried chicken, and ice cream!

A great feast was set before them, for on the morrow Father Divine and his followers will inherit their new "Kingdom of Heaven," a 500 acre estate across the Hudson from President Roosevelt's Hyde Park home.

Chanting their cry of "Peace! It's wonderful!" and eating watermelons, the dusky Messiah's disciples set out from New York this morning aboard two excursion boats.

The Angels were taken to "heaven" on a $1 excursion ticket [including turkey and pork chops.]

Mosquitoes Lack Respect.

Docking at the Milton, N. Y., "heaven," a few miles from here, the singing, shouting angels sat down to a three hour feast amid a swarm of mosquitoes.

Father Divine himself, who is "God" to thousands in Harlem, presided at the picnic, smiling benignly on his followers and slapping at mosquitoes with the rest.

Howland Spencer sold his ancestral acres and home to the Divine Angels after a controversy with President Roosevelt over the right to the name, Crum Elbow. He said his reason for the sale was "to test the theories of Roosevelt against those of Father Divine."

Divine Explains Mission.

Divine intends to establish a self-sustaining colony of 3,000 men and women on the Spencer estate. He explained his objectives.

"My mission," he said, "is to renovate and improve, morally and intellectually. Let us do the same things sociologically. We mean to lift our standards of living in this country for business, for labor, for trade. Men must become self-respecting."

Meanwhile, Divine disciples toiled all day at Crum Elbow preparing the new promised land. They stretched bunting over the boathouse, placed colored umbrellas and terrace tables in front of the main house, and painted "Peace" signs.

POLICE CHIEF'S 'KIN' LIFE OF PARTY UNTIL A TOUCHING MISHAP

George F. Schwartz was the hit of the tavern party Sunday in Rondout. Wasn't he the father of Police Chief Frank Druba of Libertyville, the bartender asked. Any relative of the chief could have credit. So there was plenty of beer—on Schwartz.

So well did Schwartz get along he appeared in the village again yesterday. This time in another tavern. To the bartender he explained his sister had recently married Chief Druba. He was a little short of cash and . . . Schwartz got his beer on credit.

He repeated his story to a stranger. He said if he had a little money he could visit Frank and his sister. The stranger offered him a ride. Schwartz accepted. The stranger, however, took Schwartz to the Libertyville jail. "I," he told Schwartz, "am Chief Druba."

Schwartz, 58 years old, of 3053 Poplar street, was locked up. Druba has been married for several years.

A CHICKEN LIKES PICNICS BUT NOT AS A DRUMSTICK

Chickens think picnics are fun, too—if they go as guests instead of drumsticks and wishbones. Ask Jimmy Van Cura's pet white Plymouth Rock hen, Biddy.

She got out of her coop yesterday as the Van Curas were starting on a picnic from their home at 23 North Geneva street, Elgin. They thought she flew under the family car, but they couldn't find her. And so they drove to the picnic grounds, five miles away.

Jimmy's mother was just opening the fried chicken when out popped Biddy from beneath the car, a bit oily but clucking happily. They fed her bread and jam, and she seemed to think picnics are fine. Jimmy's mother said she must have ridden to the picnic on the tie rod.

MOSCOW MASSES 56,000 TROOPS IN WAR SECTOR

WITH THE JAPANESE ARMY ON THE SIBERIAN BORDER, Aug. 9 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Two young soviet deserters who reached the Japanese lines before dawn yesterday said in an interview that more than 140 Russian war planes are in the Corean sector where frontier disputes have flared into intermittent conflicts.

Soviet air strength based at Spassk, 350 miles north of Changkufeng and near Lake Khanka, consists of forty-five heavy TB3 bombers, forty-five SB medium bombers, fifty pursuit planes, and an unknown number of squadrons of reconnaisance craft, they said.

The men had discarded their soviet uniforms, helmets, and rifles, and were dressed in new Japanese clothing.

Four Divisions at Front.

Four soviet divisions [about 56,000 men] are massed on the front, the deserters said, including one cavalry brigade and two brigades of tank corps.

The younger infantryman, who appeared to be in his early 20s, said he deserted because his father was a Kulak who recently was taxed 1,500 rubles [$300]. Kulaks are a class of well to do farmers who were made the object of a soviet drive in recent years to collectivize agriculture.

"Our slogan is defend the fatherland of liberty, but how can we soldiers defend such a system when the cows, horses, and even their barns are taken from them," he said.

He related that he was among new troops at Chatsufeng, north of Changkufeng.

Three Others Killed.

Three comrades started to desert, but the others were wounded and killed, he said.

Alleging junior officers usually drop behind during charges, he declared the officers led good lives while the soldiers never have enough to eat.

"If we have soup there is no meat," he explained. "If there is tea there is no bread."

"We all say we are fighting for freedom," he declared, "but when charges are made many drop behind."

Tries to Save Mine Gas Victim; Rescuer Also Dies

Minersville, Pa., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Joseph Foran was overcome by mine gas today about 12 feet from the mouth of an abandoned shaft near here where he had taken refuge from a storm. A crowd gathered and Edward Woll, 32 years old, put on a smoke mask and despite warnings of experienced miners that such a mask would not filter out the deadly black damp, descended the short distance into the shaft, picked up Foran's body, and started for the surface. Before he had climbed six feet he fell back with his burden. Both men were dead when miners equipped with proper masks reached them.

FRONTIER TOWN BOMBED BY 20 SOVIET PLANES

Japan Reports 1,900 Border Casualties.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 8.—Twenty soviet war planes today crossed the border into the Japanese colony of Corea and bombed the town of Keiko. The number of casualties was not disclosed. Keiko is on the Tumen river near Changkufeng heights, for which Japanese and Russian forces have fought since July 11.

The soviet and Japanese killed and wounded to date in the Changkufeng sector—at the junction of the borders of Corea, Manchukuo, and Siberia—was placed at 1,900 by the Japanese war office.

Japanese losses were placed at 70 dead and 180 wounded up to Saturday and there have been 200 casualties since then. Soviet casualties were estimated at 1,500. One hundred soviet tanks were wrecked and six soviet planes shot down, the announcement added.

Report Russians Retreating.

Soviet troops were reported by a Japanese army communique to be retreating north of the disputed heights after an unsuccessful assault on Japanese lines near the summit. Denying a Moscow announcement that Changkufeng had been recaptured and Japanese driven from all Siberian soil, the Tokio foreign office declared the Russians had been repulsed in a "heavy engagement." Bitter hand-to-hand fighting resulted when soviet troops, covered by an intensive artillery barrage, advanced on the four mile long heights.

The foreign office disclosed the ambassador to Moscow, Mamoru Shigemitsu, repeated Japan's request for a joint border commission to be appointed to redemarcate the frontier, and said that the soviet commissar of foreign affairs, Maxim Litvinov, agreed "in principle."

Japs Want 3-Way Commission.

The main stumbling block to this plan when suggested previously was Japan's desire for a tripartite commission composed of three Japanese, three Russians and three representatives of Japan's protectorate of Manchukuo. It was not stated whether Japan was prepared to modify this condition.

[Yesterday in Moscow, Litvinov proposed a commission to be composed of two Russians, and one representative each from Japan and Manchukuo.]

The foreign office released a partial text of conversations in Moscow between Litvinov and Shigemitsu, disclosing the diplomats agreed fighting should cease immediately but disagreed on the manner of stopping it.

It was expected here Shigemitsu would continue peace talks in the Russian capital attempting to reach a basis for arbitrating the dispute.

Two Main Points of Friction.

In the conversations between Litvinov and Shigemitsu as reported by the foreign office, two points appeared to be the basis of friction. They were:

1. Litvinov insisted that the disputed Changkufeng area be returned to the status quo of prior to July 29, when the Japanese recaptured it, while Shigemitsu demanded it be returned to the status quo prior to July 11, when soviet troops occupied and fortified it.

2. Conflicting interpretations of the 1886 [Hunchun] treaty between Russia and China fixing the Manchurian-Siberian border.

Asserting "Japanese troops already have withdrawn outside the border as a result of attacks made by soviet troops," Litvinov said that "if the Japanese will suspend artillery bombardment, the soviets will do likewise."

"Never Taken the Offensive."

Shigemitsu replied to this that "Japanese troops are only defending the border and have never taken the offensive." He said that if the Russians cease their attacks, "the Japanese will feel no necessity of attacking the soviets."

"Therefore," he added, "suspension of attacks by the soviets is a necessary condition."

The Japanese envoy next proposed the dispute be referred to peaceful negotiations by agreeing to suspension of hostilities "with the status quo maintained" and also "by agreeing to settlement of the question of border re-demarcation."

Litvinov said he could not promise "to suspend hostilities so long as Japanese soldiers remain inside the borderline mentioned in the map attached to the Hunchun treaty," and that "redemarcation of the border is acceptable only subject to conditions mentioned" in the treaty.

Will Reply with Armed Force.

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The soviet government today indicated clearly that it would answer promptly with armed force any move on Japan's part to spread hostilities on the Manchukuo-Siberia border over a wider area.

This was stated plainly by soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov in conversation with Mamoru Shigemitsu, ambassador of Japan.

At the same time Litvinov said a new border incident had taken place on the Manchukuo-Siberia frontier at Suifenho. Suifenho is 250 miles north of the Changkufeng disputed area, at the junction of the borders of Japanese sponsored Manchukuo, the Japanese colony, Corea, and Siberia.

Attack with Machine Guns.

Japanese with machine guns were the attacking force near Suifenho, Litvinov said. Several Red soldiers were wounded.

At Suifenho the North Manchurian railway [formerly the Chinese Eastern] crosses from Manchukuo into Siberia.

Litvinov, referring to his warning to Shigemitsu, that "the time has come to terminate these endless 'incidents,'" said "the soviet government is determined in similar cases in the future to resort to the most drastic measures, including the use of artillery and aviation."

The Komsomolskaia Pravda, a communist organ, said the Red air force is "ready for any surprises in a war toward which Fascist bandits are trying so hard to drag us. Our planes will demonstrate their skill and fighting technique."

Firing Near Corean Border.

YUKI, Corea [near the Sibian frontier.]—Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Japanese army tonight reported new activity on the right flank of soviet forces at Changkufeng in apparent preparation for a new attack.

These preparations were reported after day long bombardments which were audible here, a few miles south of the Tumen river, the Corean border.

Invade New Point

Soviet Russia yesterday charged Japanese soldiers armed with machine guns had made a new invasion of Siberian territory near Suifenho and wounded Red soldiers. There was continued fighting for Changkufeng heights. Twenty soviet planes crossed the Corean border and bombed the town of Keiko. Extent of area above indicated by No. 1 in map below. Japanese invaders of China were repulsed by a Chinese counter-attack at Kiukiang (2) after their planes had raided Nanchang (3) and Canton (4).

CHINESE APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT IN JAP EXECUTIONS

SHANGHAI, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Fifteen Shanghai organizations cabled President Roosevelt today in support of the Chinese government's protest against the policy of the municipal council in handling alleged terrorists.

The municipal council was charged with "illegally handing over to the Japanese for certain execution young Chinese patriots charged with terrorist acts against disloyal Chinese."

Signers of the message included several American missionaries. Police still hold 20 alleged terrorists whom they have threatened to turn over to the Japanese.

N. Y. Trafic Bewildered by Storm Damaged Lights

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Thunderstorms this evening caused considerable property damage and brought to Times Square one of the worst trafic jams in recent years. For more than an hour automobiles virtually crept through Broadway from 39th street to 53d street and along Seventh avenue north of 47th street. The downpour affected trafic lights. Many of them went out, others failed to change properly, bewildering motorists.

GOV. R. W. LECHE BACKS STRIKERS WITH KITCHENS

Hammond, La., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Gov. Richard W. Leche's soup kitchens at the strike closed box factories at Hammond and Rosedale, La., continued to do a thriving business today when attempts to negotiate a settlement of the walkout apparently had fallen through.

Alex Wilson, president of the factories, clung to a determination not to reopen the plants until, as he notified Leche, the mobs are dispersed and full, complete, and unrestricted possession of the plant is restored to the owners.

C. Paul Barker, attorney for the national labor relations board, announced that attempts to arbitrate the strike had failed for the time being after a conference with officials of the company in Hammond. Leche announced that he would support the strikers because their wages are too low. He took personal charge of the soup kitchens.

JAPANESE BOMB CANTON TWICE IN 2 DAYS; KILL 200

Women and Children Die in Raid on Cathedral.

CANTON, China, Aug. 9 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Japanese war planes this morning raided Canton for the second successive day, killing approximately 200 persons.

Roaring over the city at 9 a. m. [Chicago time] the raiders unloosed their deadly cargoes while rescue workers were completing an all night task of extricating victims of yesterday's attack.

The greatest toll was taken by three large bombs which exploded in the heavily populated waterfront area, 400 yards from Shameen, the foreign settlement. The bombs fell where thousands of persons have been accustomed to take refuge during previous bombings.

At least 39 persons were killed and 50 injured in yesterday's most effective raid.

Children Blown to Bits.

Men, women, and children who had sought refuge in the grounds of Canton's Catholic cathedral were blown to pieces by three bombs exploding within 20 yards of the building. The building was plainly marked by a large French flag over the roof.

Bishop Antoine Fourquete, who has seen forty-three years' service in Canton, walked through the grounds after the attack, viewing the rows of bodies of small children.

Not a window in the cathedral remained intact. All the side chapels were ruined.

Japanese bombing planes also raided Nanchang, Kiangsi province, capital in central China, killing 63 persons and wounding 83. Two hundred houses were destroyed.

Sink Three Jap Boats.

The Chinese said they staged successful counterattacks on both banks of the river in the vicinity of Kiukiang, 135 miles downstream from Hankow. Chinese bombing planes were said to have attacked and sunk three Japanese warships in the Yangtze and damaged four others.

On the south bank fighting was reported raging on the heights between Shahochen, on the Kiukiang-Nanchang railway, ten miles south of Kiukiang, and Kuling, 15 miles east of Shahochen on the shore of Lake Poyang.

BRITISH CHIEF IN HOLY LAND ASKS BOTH SIDES TO HALT BLOODSHED

JERUSALEM, Aug. 8.—(AP)—An appeal to Jews and Arabs to end the "campaign of murder and sabotage" sweeping the Holy Land was broadcast tonight by Sir Harold Alfred MacMichael, high commissioner of Transjordan and commander in chief of Palestine.

To make this appeal for patience "and appeasement as a step toward the peace for which we all pray," Sir Harold said. He did not mention the secret two-day visit to Palestine which Malcolm MacDonald, British colonial secretary, concluded yesterday.

After MacDonald's departure officials here said his visit had no political motive and that Britain still adhered to her partition policy, to which both Arabs and Jews are hostile.

An Arab was killed and eight persons wounded today by a bomb explosion in Tiberias. Such incidents have become a daily occurrence.

AGREE ON 29 NEW WAVE BANDS FOR POLICE RADIOS

Thirty-five members of the Association for Police Communications in the Chicago area at a meeting last night were assigned bands on 29 new high frequencies for radio communication. The plan, designed by the association, was recently approved by the federal communications commission. It is intended to minimize interference. The changes will be put into effect immediately on the frequency range from 30 to 40 megocycles. Lee S. Fetcher, secretary, said the police districts represented range from Gary to Waukesha, Wis., and west to Elgin. Chicago, operating on a low frequency, is not affected by the changes.

U. S. FIXES TRADE OF 56 PRISONERS IN SPANISH WAR

SAINT JEAN-DE-LUZ, France, Aug. 8.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers announced today the Spanish government and the rebel régime had accepted a plan for the release of fifty-six war prisoners, including fourteen Americans, through mediation of the United States embassy.

The ambassador said each side agreed to free twenty-eight men, of whom fourteen held by the rebels were American privates in the government infantry. One of the Ameri-

LOYALIST DRIVE WRECKS REBELS' VICTORY CHANCE

Franco's Plans Set Back at Least Two Months.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish Frontier], Aug. 8.—(AP)—Despite Spanish rebel gains in the Ebro river valley today, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's chance of decisive military victory before the end of this year appeared to be practically zero because of the government's stubborn stand before Gandesa.

Government sources said the main purpose in its Ebro offensive — to wreck Franco's summer battle plans —had been accomplished.

Rebel dispatches said 4,000 government militiamen had been killed and 4,000 captured, wiping out the government's entire northern flank of the Ebro front 150 miles southwest of Barcelona.

Reserve Materials Used Up.

But such attacks, similar to that which cleaned out the Ebro river's bend north of Fayon, have gained little if any ground against government lines before Gandesa, central point of the Ebro fighting.

The government's Ebro offensive on July 25, bringing sharp threats to Gandesa and Caspe, rebel supply bases, forced Franco to abandon his elaborate plans for a "final" drive on Valencia.

Men and materials mobilized for the purpose were flung instead against the government's newly conquered Ebro valley positions.

Government sources figured Franco needs two months to prepare any new offensive. By then he would be hampered by rains wich usually begin in October in eastern Spain. Neither the rebels nor the government can do much during the winter, they declared, and by next summer the Catalonians plan to have stepped up their war industries sufficiently to put on an even better fight.

Fight Trapped Loyalists.

Insurgents today continued wide scale bombings along the Ebro river, south of Fayon, where the big stream bends. Their troops in the northern "hook of the Ebro" were reported still fighting several thousand government troops who remained on the river's right bank, territory the rebels said they had cleaned up.

The front around Gandesa still echoed with artillery duels, but action appeared to be limited to fierce local attacks and counterattacks of units jockying for positions in the hills.

FRANCE WILL FORTIFY INDO-CHINA BAY FOR USE AS NAVAL BASE

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 8.—A part of the $10,900,000 loan recently floated, partly in Indo-China, for the defense of France's eastern possessions will be devoted to fortifying Cam Ranh bay in Annam, French Indo-China, for use as a naval base. This work, it is stated, will begin soon. Cam Ranh bay, on the South China sea, has such a natural defense that no great expenditure will be needed to make it a safe base for the French fleet in far eastern waters, it is believed.

LABOR VIOLENCE HIT IN REPORT ON MILK INJUNCTION

Master Denies Plea for Federal Writ.

An indictment of labor violence and union leaders who resort to it was made yesterday in a report by Federal Master in Chancery Charles A. McDonald. The Milk Wagon Drivers' union, Local 753, had been accused in a petition for an injunction of strong arm methods in restraint of trade after bombs and bricks were thrown through the windows of cut rate milk stores.

The injunction was sought by the Amalgamated Dairy Workers' union, Local 819, and by three cut rate dairies. Master McDonald, however, denied the request, made to the United States District court, on jurisdictional grounds. The wagon drivers' union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, the dairy workers' union with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Find 2 Bars to Action.

Master McDonald's report denied jurisdiction for two reasons: [1] Because the milk resting in the store of the cut rate dealer had ceased to flow in interstate commerce, and [2] the dispute should come under provisions of the Norris-La Guardia act, in that it is a labor dispute.

During the hearings charges were made by Attorney David A. Riskind, representing the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, and his associates, Attorneys A. W. Brussell and Daniel Carmell, that the C. I. O. is conspiring against labor to keep milk drivers' wages down. Attorney Arthur Seelig, representing the C. I. O. and the dairies, countered with the assertion that the A. F. of L. union conspired against consumers to keep milk prices up.

A contention of the defendants that the C. I. O. union was not a "completed labor union," because no contract exists between the union and the companies, was supported in the master's report.

Doubt Actual Contract.

Pointing out that the C. I. O. union and the companies were supposed to have negotiated a contract 60 days after signing a temporary agreement and had not done so, Master McDonald said it was problematical that they ever would do so.

In his conclusions McDonald took occasion to criticise violence as a means of settling labor disputes. Speaking of the picketing of independent retail stores, the report continues:

"In several instances where efforts were unsuccessful, the pickets were withdrawn and within a few days thereafter, usually during the night, the store of the shopkeeper [some of whom were poor women struggling to make a living] was bombed, or bricks were thrown through the plate glass windows, or other acts of violence were committed.

"To request the master to conclude and find, in the absence of proof of the identity of the guilty culprits, that there was no connection between such acts of violence and the defendant union, or some of its members, is to overtax the credulity of the master.

Calls Violence Un-American.

"The master cannot condone or too severely condemn the resort to such malicious and cowardly conduct in support of any cause. Such lawless conduct has no place under our form of government, and the few lawless, radical union leaders or members who resort thereto are not only a blight upon the righteous cause of honest labor but reflect discredit upon our country and upon our American civilization as well."

Attorney Seelig said he would enter objections to the report within a few days before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan.

CORRIGAN'S $900 CRATE RECEIVED LIKE A TREASURE

New York, Aug. 8. — [Special.]—Douglas Corrigan's $900 ocean flying crate arrived in New York this morning and was unloaded from the ship that brought it from Ireland with all the care of a treasured museum piece. Two of Corrigan's Roosevelt field pals were on hand to supervise transfer of the plane to two trucks and a police escort accompanied the trucks to the airport.

Corrigan, accompanied by two air line officials, flew to Boston this morning to receive an enthusiastic reception and attend dinner in his honor. Tomorrow he will return to Newark, N. J., for a reception and then go to Philadelphia and Washington.

In Washington Corrigan's chief interest will be in recovering the experimental license for his plane which has been canceled by the department of commerce. His pilot's license was lifted for five days and restored by the time he returned to New York from Ireland.

PLAN CHICAGO VISIT.

Mayor Kelly's New Century committee yesterday announced plans for a New Century Air week in Chicago which will start Aug. 13. Douglas Corrigan probably will visit the city during that week, according to Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes.

The week's activities will center in the Congress street plaza, where a 21 passenger Douglas airliner will be placed by the American air lines. There will be an aviation fashion revue with models parading on the plane's wings and an exhibition of luggage suitable for airplane travel.

Visitors will be shown through the plane after it has been assembled at the plaza and hoisted on a platform. Special stamps for airmail letters will be distributed during the week. The plane will be lighted at night.

Praise for Irish Hero.

Chicago's Irish will spend a great deal of next Sunday in extoling the virtues of Douglas Corrigan, who set out for California and landed in Ireland. At Chicago's official Irish day celebration in Riverview picnic grove he will be toasted and praised.

A special fund will be raised during the day for Jeremiah Duggan, PWA employé, his wife, and ten children, 2537 Hutchinson street. Unable to keep up payments on an HOLC loan, he appeared before Judge Leon Edelman in Renters' court on June 15. Judge Edelman granted him ninety days instead of sixty, as is customary.

CHICAGO LACKS EMERGENCY AIR LANDING FIELDS

Well Equipped Alternate Ports 90 Miles Away.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Aviation Editor.]

An emergency or alternate airport is a flying field that can be used as a haven for planes if the main air terminals are blocked by fog, hard rain, snow, or other adverse weather conditions. They are like reserve divisions in an army corps. Or like the spare tire of an automobile—seldom used but indispensable when needed.

A survey of the Chicago area discloses that although there are fifteen flying fields around the southern and western rim of the city the only first class airport here is the Chicago airport. No other fields within ninety miles of the city have runways, lights, and radio facilities necessary for safe operation of modern airplanes.

Six Alternates Listed.

Through necessity the commercial airlines, the army and navy reserve flying forces, and National Guard flyers consider that Chicago has six alternate fields. These are: South Bend, Ind., ninety miles to the east; Milwaukee, Wis., ninety miles to the north; Joliet municipal airport, forty miles to the southwest; Ford-Lansing airport, Lansing, Ill., twenty-seven miles to the south; Curtiss Reynolds airport at Glenview, Ill., thirty-six miles northwest, and McCool, Ind., sixty miles to the east.

Of these, however, only South Bend and Milwaukee county airports have radio range stations, hard surfaced runways, and landing beacon lights. And both these fields are between thirty-two and thirty-five minutes flying time from Chicago at a speed of about 170 miles an hour.

"The truth is that unless an alternate field has all the radio, lights, and hard surface runways of a major air terminal it is not really safe for large or fast airplanes," said a flight dispatcher of one of the major airlines yesterday.

"If the main terminal is covered by fog or blotted out by storm, the odds are that the weather will be poor, perhaps dangerous, at alternate fields nearby. Then an airman needs all the help he can get from the ground."

Four Only Occasionally Useful.

Four of Chicago's so-called alternate airports—McCool, Ford-Lansing, Curtiss-Reynolds and Joliet—can now be utilized only if "contact" flight conditions exist. Under such conditions a pilot flies always within sight of the ground but above 500 feet.

Usually if contact flight is possible at these four fields, it is possible to land at Chicago.

Within recent weeks a plane that reached here from New York was forced to turn back and fly 250 miles to an emergency airport at Archbold, O., because of weather conditions around Chicago. The plane was one of the latest type of air liners with a number of passengers aboard.

Fortunately there was sufficient fuel in the tanks for this emergency flight. The incident, however, depicts the desperate straits in which pilots occasionally find themselves due to the lack of adequate alternate landing fields closer to Chicago.

Money Lacking, Says Pilot.

"Lack of funds to spend for modern radio and for the basic lighting equipment has prevented the development of other flying bases near here," said a commercial charter pilot of wide experience. "There are scores of air fields that would serve the purpose if money was forthcoming for the necessary equipment."

The federal bureau of air commerce which has just been superseded by the new Civil Aeronautics authority recognizes the situation at Chicago. Some of the old bureau's funds had been allocated for installation of radio beam equipment at Joliet, but work there has not been started.

[An article in tomorrow's TRIBUNE will discuss the sites where emergency airports should be established. The equipment needed for these fields also will be described.]

Emergency Airports

There are only six airports in the Chicago area with facilities which will permit their use as landing fields for planes unable to land at the Chicago airport because of bad weather. The indicated flying time for each of the six is based on an air speed of 170 miles an hour. Recent storms have emphasized the need for additional emergency fields.

NEW AVIATION CONTROL BOARD ASSUMES OFFICE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Members of the new civil aeronautics authority to regulate commercial and private aviation were sworn into office today.

They are Edward J. Noble of New York, chairman; Harllee Branch of Georgia, vice chairman; G. Grant Mason of the District of Columbia; Oswald Ryan of Indiana, and Robert H. Hinckley of Utah. Clinton M. Hester of Montana, administrator of the authority, assumed office at the same time. They each will receive $12,000 annually. Judge Harold M. Stephens of the District Court of Appeals administered the oath.

FOUNDRY STRIKE PICKET IS HELD TO WAUKEGAN JURY

Stanley Morun was ordered held to the grand jury yesterday by Justice of the Peace Henry Wallenwein at Waukegan. He was charged with inciting a riot. He was one of fourteen Committee for Industrial Organizations workers and sympathizers arrested July 19 when pickets at the Chicago Hardware Foundry company at North Chicago resisted Lake county police. Although not an employé of the company, Morun, a convicted rapist, was in the C. I. O. picket line. Morun was also fined $50 for disorderly conduct by Wallenwein, who sent him to the Lake county jail for ten days in default of payment.

C. I. O. Strike Shuts Mill First Time in 104 Years

Maysville, Ky., Aug. 8.—(AP)—M. W. Morgan, president of the local union of the Textile Workers' Organizing Committee, C. I. O. affiliate, said tonight a strike had been called today at the January & Woods cotton mill. Robert A. Cochran III., secretary-treasurer of the company, said the mill was shut down for the first time in 104 years. Morgan said the strike was in protest of a 12½ per cent wage cut which he said the company proposed in a new contract being negotiated.

A STRIKE WALKS UP AND KNOCKS AT 1 MAN SHOP

Furrier Has Pickets but No Employes.

What is a strike? Isadore Landau pondered this question yesterday. He watched pickets shuffling to and fro in front of his fur store at 2715 Milwaukee avenue and said he couldn't figure it out.

Over their coats the pickets wore signs:

"I. Landau workers on strike. Unfair to Chicago Fur Workers' union, Local 45." At the bottom of the sign, in large letters, is "C. I. O."

Keep Shop Together.

But Landau says he hasn't any workers. He and his wife, Rose, are the only employés. Business is not good and it is a topsy-turvy world these days, but they are sure they are not on strike. They put a large sign in the window:

"We are NOT on strike."

The pickets arrived Thursday. Two days later the Landaus put up their sign. It made no difference to the pickets. They continued to shuffle along.

Landau said he used to know what a strike is, because he was secretary of the fur workers' union from the time he was discharged from the army until he opened his own business in 1926. The union was affiliated with the American Federation of Labor then. It was taken over by the Committee for Industrial Organization two years ago.

Needs Only Seasonal Help.

The only time Landau requires outside help, he said, is during the rush season of November and December, and then he employs union workers. At present there is not enough work to keep him and his wife busy, he added.

Recently the union demanded that he sign a contract. Still unsigned, it lay on his desk in his bright, modern air conditioned store.

One provision of the contract is that a worker, after a two week trial period, must be paid a full week's wages even if lack of work compels the employer to lay him off before the end of a week. Landau can't afford these terms for his occasional needs for outside help, he said.

Lew Goldstein, business manager of the union, said the pickets will remain until Landau signs the contract. In previous years Landau hired union members in other months than November and December, he asserted.

Union Tells Stand.

"This year Landau said he and his wife would both work on garments in back of their store," Goldstein asserted. "He told us that extra work would be sent to outside contractors. That means it would be done in non-union shops. We won't stand for that."

But Landau—a mild man—insists he can't understand it. He's heard of strikers walking out before, but never of a walk-in strike. And he doesn't like it.

DENIED PAY BOOST, STRIKERS PROTEST PURCHASES OF ART

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Striking A. F. of L. building mechanics on city jobs marched on the city hall today with signs protesting against expenditures by the city art commission for museum pieces in face of the strikers' demands for higher wages.

One sign, apparently referring to the recent purchase of a bronze Egyptian cat, read: "$14,000 for a useless cat—nothing for labor."

Another said: "$30,000 for a Chinese Buddha—enough to pay hoisting engineers for 18 months."

NAVAL RESERVE FLYERS HURT IN LANDING CRASH

Lieut. George G. Lamb and A. R. Erickson, apprentice seaman, were injured yesterday when their Grumman two seater fighting plane crashed as they were about to land at the naval reserve air base at Glenview. Both are members of the naval reserve corps. They had been engaged in aerial target practice.

Lieut. Lamb, the pilot, was taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, in a serious condition. He lives at 7261 South Phillips avenue. Erickson, 5106 Nelson street, suffered only minor injuries.

FARMERS WEIGH LOW INCOMES IN TILT WITH LABOR

See Government Favors Go Other Ways.

BY FRED GRAFF.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Statistical proof that Wisconsin farmer families earn an average of only $600 a year, was one of the reasons for the farmers' revolt against legal advantages granted to organized labor, it was disclosed today.

In 1937 the average Wisconsin farmer's total cash income was only $1,700. Out of that he paid for seed, labor, feed, repairs, interest, taxes and he could use what was left for all his living expenses. His gloom was deepened by a steady decline in fluid milk prices in the first six months of this year.

Such was the picture that faced the directors of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, representing 80,000 farmers who declared war Saturday against advantages won by labor organizations over agriculture through state and national labor relations laws.

First Break at Creamery.

The revolt had been smoldering for months. At Richland Center, where union labor's demands first invaded the agricultural coöperative field, farmers fought unionization on the ground they couldn't afford to continue producing in the face of higher overhead expenses at their coöperative creamery plant.

But it was not until the council, a nonpolitical federation composed of thirty-five farm organizations, assembled figures and analyzed the situation that a concerted and vigorous protest was made.

From P. E. McNall, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Wisconsin, was obtained today some of the data which formed a part of the information on which the council made its study of state farm and labor conditions.

Studies 900 Families.

In order to obtain a fair cross-section of the field, Prof. McNall's survey was based on a study of 900 farm families in widely scattered parts of the state and included all types of farming practiced in Wisconsin. A table of his findings, as applied to an average farmer, follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Total cash income for 1936-'37 crop year | $1,700 |
| Operating expenses such as seed, labor, feed, fertilizer, and machinery repairs | 700 |
| Interest paid on average debt of $4,500 | 200 |
| Replacements for depreciation, taxes, etc. | 130 |
| Net income left for average family of four | 600 |

| | |
|---|---|
| Food | $215 |
| Clothing | 120 |
| Fuel | 45 |
| Medical services | 50 |
| Household operation | 70 |
| Personal incidentals | 35 |
| Education, recreation, reading material, and church and organization dues | 65 |

Agree with Other Survey.

Prof. McNall's figures are about the same as those obtained from Walter H. Ebling, state and federal crop statistician. Ebling's figures show an average cash income per Wisconsin farm of $1,640 for the calendar year 1937, whereas McNall's survey was based on the 1936-'37 crop year.

Ebling's figures gave the state's 199,878 farms [based on the last farm census in 1935] a total income of $326,000,000. This included cash income from the sale of crops and live stock and between 10 and 11 million dollars in government payments.

The Wisconsin farm dollar is at its lowest value in nearly three years, Wisconsin milk producers, who account for more than two-thirds of the farm income in this state, felt they were left out in the cold under the old AAA farm program and they see little hope of improving their position under the Roosevelt administration's new farm program.

Expected More Benefits.

Never having benefited as much as they felt they deserved when government crop control checks were raining down in the corn, wheat, and cotton belts, Wisconsin farmers now find themselves confronted by fluid milk incomes far less than in 1937, the difference being estimated at 1 million dollars a month, and increased production costs resulting from the demands of organized labor.

| Month— | 1937. | 1938. |
|---|---|---|
| January | $1.66 | $1.62 |
| February | 1.64 | 1.49 |
| March | 1.62 | 1.39 |
| April | 1.53 | 1.31 |
| May | 1.46 | 1.23 |
| June | 1.44 | 1.20 |
| July | 1.46 | *1.21 |

*Estimate, with report not complete.

The Pure Milk Products Coöperative, one of the largest associations of its kind in Wisconsin, recently attributed what it termed a dark outlook for the dairy industry in this state to a "consideration of government policy and the new recession."

Dairy Farm Income

A survey revealed that the average farmer had a net income of $600 for the 1936-'37 crop year. This was assigned to living expenses, which included food, clothing, fuel, medical services, household operation, personal incidentals, education, recreation, reading material, and church and organization dues.

WAVES TO WIFE AND BABY; SINKS TO DEATH IN LAKE

Stanley Jesonowski, 28 years old, 1445 North Kolin avenue, drowned at a beach in Gary yesterday within sight of his wife. She and their son, 2 years old, were on the sands. He was about a hundred feet out, his wife said, and had just waved to her, when he sank. An undertow was blamed. The body was recovered after about forty-five minutes. The accident occurred at an unguarded beach.

At a beach in Michigan City, also unguarded, Moe Mendelsohn, 35 years old, 3405 Broadway, died while swimming about 100 yards off shore. His sister-in-law was with him. Both had been warned not to go in because of the undertow. Two youths, Millard and Joseph Stein, ran to their canoe and paddled out to the couple when the woman screamed. They found her treading water and Mendelsohn floating, face down. They towed both in. Inhalator squads were unable to revive Mendelsohn. An autopsy was ordered by Coroner D. G. Bernoske. Mendelsohn's wife and two children were believed to be in Chicago.

HORAN APPEALS CONTEMPT TERM IN DEPUTY FIRING

Bailif Albert J. Horan of the Municipal court did not go to jail yesterday. It was the last day given him in which to file an appeal from a municipal court order sentencing him for contempt. His attorneys filed a brief with the Appellate court and he retained his freedom on his personal bond.

Horan was sentenced July 27 after a trial before twenty-seven municipal court judges. Twenty-five of them signed the order. His sentence was to last until he purged himself of contempt by rehiring fifty-five deputy bailifs. Horan discharged the bailifs during the April primary battle, when he sided with the Horner-Courtney faction of Democrats.

His appeal contends that municipal judges cannot hold court when they meet, and hence that they had no power to try him for his refusal to obey an administrative order. A more detailed argument will be filed with the Appellate court by Oct. 10. Horan has three attorneys—Francis X. Busch, John F. Cashen Jr., and Cassius M. Doty. He said they will be paid from his own funds.

ASK $7,500 TODAY FOR LAKE COUNTY GAMING CRUSADE

The Lake county board today will hear the request of Special State's Attorney Charles E. Jack for an initial appropriation of $7,500 to prosecute his gambling cleanup drive.

The finance committee of the board, it is understood, has approved the appropriation, but opposition is anticipated because a number of board members from the lakes resort area feel the gambling drive has hurt business.

GEORGIA AWAITS ROOSEVELT SAY ON ITS SENATOR

Thursday's Speech May Ask Purge.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt returns to the United States at this port tomorrow after a vacation of 24 days at sea. His immediate problem concerns the continuance of a purge of his party which has proved a failure thus far.

Persons close to the President, awaiting his arrival here, incline to the belief that he will, for the first time, make a verbal attack upon a Democratic senator when he makes a speech Thursday at Barnesville, Ga. He will speak at the dedication of a rural electrification project. The target of his remarks should be Senator Walter F. George, opponent of some of the President's most cherished ideas.

Expect Purge Recommendation.

Predicting Mr. Roosevelt's course of conduct is a hazardous occupation but those who know him think several influences will combine to bring forth from him a recommendation that Senator George be defeated for renomination at the Georgia primary Sept. 14.

In his trip across the continent before sailing from San Diego, July 16, the President confined his remarks about candidates to mild references of friendship except in the case of Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky whom he hailed as an experienced senator who could produce more benefits for his home state than a newly-elected senator. In no case, did he come out flatly against a sitting congressman.

Resents George's Remarks.

However, Senator George has incurred the President's specific enmity. It is said that the President has never forgotten a phrase used by the Georgian in a speech against the Supreme court packing plan.

"Others too have betrayed their friends and history has recorded the consequences," observed the senator apparently referring to the President, who is reported to have deeply resented the remark.

All the circumstances surrounding the speech scheduled for Barnesville indicate that the President will use the occasion to throw his influence against Senator George.

The senator's leading rival, Lawrence Camp, United States district attorney at Atlanta, had a part in arranging the affair. George had none. Local officials later invited George to participate and he accepted. Camp was put into the race by the administration. It is possible that the President may make favorable remarks about him and ignore George.

Smith Hated by New Dealers.

The third candidate for the Democratic nomination, which is equivalent to election, is former Gov. Eugene Talmadge who is staying away from the affair. He refers to it as the "Annointment" of Camp.

On his return to the White House this week, the President also passes through the territory of another Democratic senator who is cordially hated by the New Deal forces. This is South Carolina where Senator Ellison D. [Cotton Ed] Smith is running for renomination. So far as could be ascertained today, the President plans no speeches in the state.

Since the President left the United States primaries have been held in several states to the discomfiture of the administration machine.

Labor Indorses George.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The American Federation of Labor has indorsed Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.] for renomination as having a 100 per cent labor record, William Green, president of the federation, announced today.

The action placed the A. F. of L. in opposition to the C. I. O. which had put George on its black list and marked him for defeat in the Georgia primary.

FORMER CHICAGOAN DIES.

Thomas J. Callahan, a former Chicagoan who has lived for a number of years in Madison, Wis., died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital there. He was the son of Mrs. Delia Callahan of Madison.

ROOSEVELT PUT IN MIDDLE OVER NLRB APPOINTEE

Must Choose Between C. I. O. and A. F. L.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The term of Donald W. Smith, radical member of the National Labor Relations board, expires Aug. 27. The American Federation of Labor is after Smith's scalp, as well as those of Edwin S. Smith and Chairman J. Warren Madden.

Donald W. Smith.

The reappointment of Donald Smith for five years was taken for granted until William Green, president of the A. F. of L., attacked him as a C. I. O. partisan before the Massachusetts Federation of Labor last week. Then the state federation adopted resolutions demanding the removal of both Smiths, accusing them of perverting the national labor relations act.

Antagonizes Labor Factions.

If President Roosevelt should replace Donald Smith he would antagonize John L. Lewis' C. I. O., as well as the left-wingers of his administration, including Labor Secretary Frances Perkins.

If he should reappoint Smith he would antagonize the A. F. of L. and risk a senate confirmation battle, involving the first test vote on the labor relations board, at the next session.

If Smith should receive a recess appointment it would expire, under the constitution, at the end of the next session of congress unless acted upon by the senate. Hence senate confirmation would be necessary to keep him on the board.

Green's sharpest blast before the Massachusetts federation was aimed at Edwin Smith, who was assailed as a rabid C. I. O. partisan.

Decisions Against Crafts.

"In every decision Smith has decided against the craft unions," Green said. "We never dreamt, when it was created, that any board setup by the American Federation of Labor would be used to destroy us. He [Smith] has gone so far as to declare that the crafts are nothing more than company unions."

The Massachusetts federation, however, called for the removal of both Smiths and it is understood that the executive council of the A. F. of L., which meets in Atlantic City a week before the expiration of Donald Smith's term, will demand that he be replaced. General opposition of the A. F. of L. to the labor board extends to its chairman, Madden.

A. F. of L. Has Most Influence.

President Roosevelt would be risking an important senate defeat if he reappointed Donald Smith. The A. F. of L. demonstrated its political influence in congress during the last two sessions, while legislative demands of the C. I. O. were flouted consistently.

To date the A. F. of L. indorsed candidates have been renominated with only two or three minor exceptions, while the C. I. O. blacklist has been a conspicuous flop. In Texas four congressmen on the C. I. O. "D list were overwhelmingly renominated, while three on the C. I. O. "A" list were defeated.

The A. F. of L. has three major complaints against the labor board. The first is that the board has undertaken, in about a dozen instances, to set aside A. F. of L. collective bargaining contracts with employers and to certify C. I. O. unions as the bargaining agency or else order an election.

C. I. O. Favored Consistently.

The second is that the board consistently favors the C. I. O. in deciding whether the appropriate unit for collective bargaining should represent the employés of a craft, of a plant, of all the plants of a particular employer, or of all the employers in a particular industry.

The third complaint is that the general attitude of the labor board is pro-C. I. O., that it expedites C. I. O. complaints of unfair labor practices and times collective bargaining elections to favor the C. I. O.

The labor board conspicuously favored the C. I. O. last June 22 when it certified the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, District No. 1 as the exclusive collective bargaining agency for all the longshoremen on the Pacific coast, embracing thirty-one ports. The C. I. O. was certified as the first major geographical bargaining unit in the maritime industry despite the fact that the employés of some of the companies affected, particularly in Portland and Seattle, had voted for the A. F. of L. union.

The chief beneficiary of this sweeping decision was Harry Bridges, Australian born communist, who is John L. Lewis' C. I. O. proconsul on the west coast. Leaders of four large C. I. O. affiliates on the west coast, the International Ladies' Garment Workers, United Automobile Workers, United Rubber Workers, and United Shoe Workers, just have voted to withdraw from Bridges' C. I. O. industrial union council, charging that he was subordinating the interests of trade unionism to communism.

Deportation of Bridges as an alien member of an organization [the communist party] advocating violence to overthrow the government has been recommended by the bureau of immigration and naturalization. Secretary Perkins, however, ordered the proceedings suspended, pending Supreme court determination, when the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans ruled that membership in the communist party was not per se cause for deportation.

Meets the Man Who Stole His Good Name in Morgue

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Robert W. McKenna, salesman of school supplies, was asked by the police today for information about Robert W. McKenna, whose body had been brought to the morgue. McKenna went to the morgue, looked at the man and said: "Why, that's the man who held me up six weeks ago. He took my cards and my signet ring and other things." Fingerprints then disclosed that the dead man was Nickey Bronoslav, 50 years old, who served a term in the penitentiary a decade ago for larceny.

TELLS OF AMPLE TVA PHOSPHATE BEFORE BIG DEAL

34 Year Supply on Hand at Time, Says Witness.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Dr. Harry A. Curtis, chief chemical engineer of the Tennessee Valley Authority, denied before the congressional investigating committee today that graft or corruption had any part in TVA's purchase of 570 acres of phosphate land at a profit of $527,185 to the International Agricultural corporation.

However, Dr. Curtis admitted that at the time of the purchase TVA had enough phosphate for thirty-four years at its current rate of operation.

The denial of graft or corruption in the deal came at the end of a two hour cross examination by Representative Charles A. Wolverton [R., N. J.], and it was prompted by a question from Representative James M. Mead [D., N. Y.].

Claims Caution In Buying.

"Did you ever come across anything bordering on corruption or do you know of any attempt at bribery?" asked Mead. "Have you any information that would give leads?"

"No sir," replied Curtis, "this proposition has been completely aboveboard. We exercised caution in buying the property. Mr. Wolverton has been asking questions pointing in that direction, but you will not see anything crooked on the part of anybody in the TVA or the International Agricultural corporation. I'm too old and have come too far to indulge in any skullduggery for the benefit of myself or of anybody else."

"My questions," said Wolverton, "have only been in performance of my duties on this investigating committee. We're trying to bring out the facts, and whether the purchase of phosphate lands by an official of TVA was justified if it gave a profit of $527,000 to the seller.

After Facts, Says Quizzer.

"If justified, it will be so found; if unjustified, the report will so find it. It's a disagreeable job for me, but I'm after all facts and my mind and judgment are open."

Dr. Curtis will return to the stand again tomorrow for his fourth appearance. The phosphate land under inquiry is in Williamson county, 570 acres with 6¼ million tons of phosphate, bought by the corporation in 1934 and 1936 for $148,387. In 1937 the land was sold to TVA for $678,459.

Questioning of Dr. Curtis brought out that before this deal TVA bought nine other tracts with 3,727,000 tons of phosphate rock between July, 1936, and May, 1937. In addition TVA had eleven leases, the tonnage on which was not given. The land acquired from the agriculture corporation, the witness said, was expected to make the supply good for 100 years. These figures, he said, were based on merely the experimental work and the purchases looked toward expansion of activities.

Change of Mind Revealed.

One letter read into the record by Curtis to John R. Sheffield of the agricultural corporation in July, 1936, said the deposits were too high in silica and unsuitable for TVA purposes.

"After that, however," said Wolverton, "on Feb. 15, 1937, you recommended transfer of $453,000 of funds for this purchase. What occurred to change your mind?"

"During the summer of 1936," replied Dr. Curtis, "the I. A. C. reprospected its holdings. The deposits appeared much better."

"Did you or any other TVA men make an examination of the property between the time when you said the property was unsatisfactory and the date when you took an option on the land?" asked Wolverton.

"An option is not a purchase," said Curtis. "We took the option, then made our own reprospect of the rock."

Asked to Justify Purchase.

Curtis said the deposits are in a continuous area, close to a railroad and a town, which cuts down the items of mining and hauling. When Wolverton asked what justification there was for the purchase as an immediate necessity when TVA had deposits good for 34 years, Curtis answered:

"Because Tennessee phospate is becoming extinct and also because our works are still in the experimentation stage. We wanted rock for experimentation plus whatever ultimate expansion TVA may undertake."

Gordon R. Clapp, TVA personnel director and another of today's witnesses, testified that J. P. Burrows, son of J. T. Burrows, a vice president of the International Agricultural corporation, was on the TVA pay roll at one time as an engineer. Young Burrows was appointed to an $1,800 a year job in October, 1935, Clapp said, but he resigned in January, 1937, to take a mining job in Mexico.

Ghost Towns Described.

Earlier in the day's testimony the plight of three small ghost towns in the Pickwick reservoir area was described to the committee.

The villages—Wright, Riverton and Waterloo—are in Alabama, and they depended on agriculture in the rich river bottom lands. The bottoms have been flooded by the TVA reservoir. Therefore, merchants have been losing customers until, as Attorney Will H. Mitchell told the investigators, the hamlets are as dead as deserted mining camps in the Bret Harte country out west.

The farmers were paid by TVA for the lands that are flooded, and some of them are still sticking to the hillside remnants of their farms trying to scratch a living off the poor soil. But business men whose trade has been ruined can get no damages for loss of business and depreciation of property, as there is no legal liability.

Discuss Moral Obligation.

This disclosure led to a discussion of legal liability versus moral obligation— and the case rested there.

"These three towns present an unnatural situation," said Attorney Mitchell. "I don't know another like it in America. Wright has 100 population, Riverton, 250; Waterloo, 500, and the agricultural background that was the economic basis for these towns has been swept away.

"All their values were fixed upon the riches of the alluvial lands now flooded by TVA. We're all for TVA, but here is a case of hardship worked upon people whose towns have suddenly become ghost towns. People have been there for generations. There is no legal damage there, but surely there is a moral responsibility."

Tells of Rise in Taxes.

Replying to questions, Mitchell said that while business has dropped almost to the vanishing point, county and school taxes are going up, because the flooding of the bottoms removes about 10 per cent of the property from the assessment rolls of the entire county.

Happy Hollow at Riverton was described by Clopper Almon of Sheffield, Ala., whose father was a congressman and one of the godfathers of the Wilson dam project at Muscle Shoals.

"Happy Hollow," Almon said, "has Negro families who own their own homes. They made a living as croppers, cultivating lands in the bottoms that now are flooded. They've got to get on relief or move on.

"In Riverton 40 or 50 home owners and four stores are affected. The property in the flooded area was paid for, but this other property in town, which was based on the productivity of the fat lands, is no legal liability."

Consider Ways to Help.

Ways of helping the stranded villagers were discussed at length. Finally Mead remarked that the state and county have a moral obligation to take care of the villagers and that the government already has been a benefactor to the community with the money spent by TVA. The problem was left for future cogitation.

ACTS TO BLOCK DOUBLE CROSS BY DIXIE DAVIS

Dewey Calls 4 Witnesses Before Grand Jury.

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey today forged one more link in his case against James J. Hines, Tammany Hall chieftain and Roosevelt patronage dispenser, who is to go on trial next Monday.

In a last minute move to place additional evidence on the record before Hines' trial on charges of having been the principal political fixer and dominating force in operation of the city's $100,000,000 a year policy racket, Dewey took before the grand jury four significant witnesses.

Dewey has charged that Hines, J. Richard [Dixie] Davis, and other policy trial defendants took over control of the Dutch Schultz gambling empire after his murder in Newark. Davis, former attorney for Schultz, has entered a plea of guilty under the Dewey indictment and will testify for the state against Hines.

Guards Against Double Cross.

The purpose of Dewey's action today apparently was to prevent any last minute double cross when Davis' time comes to testify against Hines.

One of the grand jury witnesses was James M. Noonan, Albany lawyer, who was chief defense counsel for Schultz on two occasions when the gang leader faced federal trial on income tax evasion charges.

Another grand jury witness today was Leo Rosenthal, currently free on $20,000 bail as a material witness in the case against Hines. He has been identified by Dewey as a long time associate and aid of Hines, Davis, and of Abe [Bo] Weinberg, who was named in the Hines-Davis indictment but is believed to have been slain.

Rosenthal was followed by Morris Selk, an associate of Joseph Shalleck, one of Hines' defense counsel. The fourth witness was a stenographer in Shalleck's office. His name was not given.

The substance of any of the four witnesses' testimony was not made public, but Selk declared heatedly: "It is an outrage. Dewey thinks he's a Hitler. They wanted to find out from me all the conversation I had with Leo Rosenthal."

It was said tonight that Dewey will take Davis before the jury again tomorrow, again to record his vital testimony before he takes the stand.

Drive Spreads to Brooklyn.

Meanwhile, other developments were numerous in Dewey's racket war, which has spread even to Brooklyn.

On the Brooklyn side of the East river, burial ground for many victims when the rackets were taking their own vengeance, an electrical contractor was sentenced to prison for racketeering, and fourteen policy game defendants were sentenced to terms of three months to three years.

The Brooklyn policy prosecution was a minor offshoot of the Dewey investigation. Principal defendant was Louis Weber, reputed head of a ring operating eight lucrative numbers game branches. He and three others were sentenced to three years on the blanket conspiracy charge; the other ten co-conspirators, convicted after a sixteen day trial, drew indeterminate terms.

The electrical contractor was Benjamin Reiss, president of the Master Electrical Contractors' association. He was sentenced to nine months in prison for perjury. A Special Sessions court found him guilty of false testimony before a special grand jury investigating charges of rigging of bids on private and public electrical contracts.

Prosecutor's Aid Accused.

Bringing things close to home, District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn [Kings county] filed in Special Sessions court information against William F. McGuinness, his suspended assistant, and George Murphy, a court's building elevator starter. Geoghan charged eleven overt acts in connection with an alleged conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The specific act charged to the two is a conspiracy to fix a perjury case for payment of $100 by the defendant. Geoghan stepped into the case after a magistrate had conducted a personal investigation and preferred charges against the pair.

POLITICAL WRESTLING IS BIT TOO ROUGH FOR MAN MOUNTAIN DEAN

Norcross, Ga., Aug. 8.—Man Mountain Dean, wrestler and motion picture actor who yearned to grapple with Georgia's problems as a member of the state legislature, withdrew today from the Democratic primary because, he said, his opponents became personal in their remarks. "If I stay in politics I'll slug somebody," said Dean, whose real name is Frank S. Leavitt. "Politics is too rough. I can take care of myself in the ring but I guess I'm not so hot on the stump."

DEMOCRATS ASK ROOSEVELT TO VISIT ILLINOIS

When President Roosevelt reaches Washington he will find letters urging him to speak at an Illinois Democratic rally at St. Charles Sept. 3.

The letters were written by Democratic county chairmen. According to an announcement yesterday, a committee consisting of J. E. Alschuler, Kane county chairman, Martin J. O'Brien of Chicago, and Scott W. Lucas, nominee for United States senator, will go to Washington to present a formal invitation. The announcement said they will "urge the necessity" of the President's appearance before Illinois voters.

On Sept. 4 St. Charles will play host to the Republicans of thirty-two northern counties at an outing arranged by Charles A. O'Connor, G. O. P. chairman of Kane county. O'Connor has invited other chairmen to a luncheon at St. Charles Thursday noon, when a conference will select a national speaker for the rally.

U. S. COURT CLERK IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN OFFICE

PANAMA, Panama, Aug. 8.—(AP)—James J. Walker, clerk in the Canal Zone District court, was found dead of a bullet wound today in his office in the court building.

Walker, who came from Milwaukee, was 46 years old. His body was found slumped over a desk with a .38 caliber revolver nearby. The shot had taken effect in the heart. Gorgas hospital doctors said he had been dead for ten hours. He is survived by a sister, Elizabeth Walker Cohen of Chicago.

NEW INQUIRY LAW OF GOV. EARLE IS VOIDED BY COURT

Ruled an Invasion of Judicial Power.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Gov. George H. Earle's plan to substitute a legislative committee for the grand jury in the investigation of charges against himself and thirteen associates was ruled unconstitutional today. It was ruled invalid as an invasion of judicial power.

An appeal from the opinion of Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, specially assigned to Dauphin county [Harrisburg] for the court inquiry was taken immediately to the state Supreme court, by Attorney General Guy K. Bard and the chairman of the legislative committee.

Plans Hearing Today.

Chief Justice John W. Kephart said that he would hold a hearing tomorrow.

The laws in question, passed a week ago at a special legislative session, would suspend the Dauphin county grand jury inquiry into the charges of blackmail, extortion and coercion for political purposes in the spring primary campaign. They would give the legislature prior right to conduct such an investigation of civil officer holders, with a view to impeachment first and criminal action second, if found guilty.

Evidence Is Impounded.

Schaeffer also refused to lift a previous order impounding material District Attorney Carl B. Shelley has accumulated for the grand jury inquiry, scheduled to start today but postponed pending the appeal.

Shelley and Earle's former attorney general, Charles J. Margiotti who made the charges against Earle and the others were scheduled to appear tomorrow before the house investigating committee.

Shelley was the first—and only witness—called by the committee. He refused to testify about his material, because he claimed that he would violate the court's order.

Ryan's Lead in Ballot Recount Cut to 28 Votes

State Representative John G. Ryan's lead was cut to 28½ votes yesterday when Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski ruled on another batch of the 832 contested ballots cast in the last primary. Ryan is contesting the nomination of Adam S. Mioduski for a seat in the legislature. Last Friday he was ahead 189½ votes in the recount.

Kentucky Vote Is Called Omen of G. O. P. Victory by Hamilton

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, today said the Kentucky primary election last Saturday indicates Republican victories in the fall elections. He commented on the fact that the majority of Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic leader in the senate, over Gov. A. B. [Happy] Chandler was much smaller than the Roosevelt supporters expected. He reminded that Chandler received more than 200,000 votes.

"Despite the efforts of the Roosevelt administration, Senator Barkley's victory failed to come up to general expectations," Hamilton said. "It was believed generally until a few days ago that he would receive at least 65 per cent of the Democratic vote of Kentucky. The incomplete figures indicate that he received about 55 per cent.

Roosevelt the Issue.

"What has happened in Kentucky can be counted only as an omen of Republican success this fall. In the primary contest President Roosevelt and his policies were the issue. Mr. Roosevelt injected himself into it. Administration spending agencies flooded the state with money.

"The use of the WPA in that fight was denounced by the Democratic controled Sheppard committee as a deplorable situation and one imperiling the right of the people to a free and unpolluted ballot."

Majority Passes 60,000.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Senator Alben W. Barkley's lead over dent by voting for Gov. Chandler. There could be no clearer issue."

Gov. A. B. [Happy] Chandler in the Democratic senatorial contest exceeded 60,000 tonight. Chandler conceded defeat this morning in a message to Barkley.

Tabulating or votes cast in Saturday's primary was resumed after a Sunday recess, required by law. Barkley had 274,131 votes to 213,800 for the governor in returns from 4,058 of the state's 4,313 precincts.

Mrs. Chandler, in an interview, said her husband's defeat was caused by the 250 to 300 million dollars of federal funds spent or promised in the campaign.

KRASCHEL CALLS OFF LEGION TALK DUE TO ILLNESS

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Gov. Nels G. Kraschel, who went to Davenport today to address the state American Legion convention but canceled his address there due to illness, returned to Des Moines tonight, where he entered a hospital. Dr. Walter L. Bierring, state health commissioner, announced that the governor was suffering from a kidney stone and would not be allowed to see visitors for three days.

Lewis' Group Assails Governor.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Labor's Nonpartisan league, headed by John L. Lewis, declared tonight that Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel of Iowa had "forfeited the backing of labor throughout his state" by using the National Guard to force a settlement of the Maytag strike at Newton, Ia.

FIGS AND THISTLES

By CALEB

IN A CERTAIN distant country, we are told, many of the people still believe that trees, streams and rocks are dwelling places for superhuman beings whose voices they sometimes hear raised in song, warning, or admonition.

An unfortunate condition results because those who listen seem to hear an endless variety of advice. The stones contradict the trees, the trees do not agree with what the streams say, and the result is bewildering in the extreme.

To confuse the issue further, those who listen only to the stones do not always hear the same things. To each a different message comes, often directly contradicting the ones his neighbor hears. It seems strange that in these enlightened times such confusion should exist. One feels a sense of pity for the distraught peoples as they follow the variant voices hither and yon.

As a matter of sober fact, their situation is not so unusual as it may appear to be. In other localities, theoretically more advanced and enlightened, the trees and stones have not yet given tongue—but are in the minority.

In many lands today whoever can read, hear, or see is subjected to a steady bombardment of conflicting theories and ideas. There is literally no escape from them. Fortunately, many of the theories advanced are so involved and complicated that they can scarcely be understood, and are automatically discarded. Those that are clear often advocate widely varying courses—much like the conflicting oracles of stone and tree.

It is easier than ever before to win widespread circulation and publicity for every theory and quick-hatched plan of the moment. Since no one can in justice censor these ideas but the originators themselves, one new and important form of patriotism may be their refusal to announce or circulate premature or immature ideas.

Perhaps the day is not far off when the true patriot will serve his country by refusing to confuse its issues further or impede its progress by speaking or writing carelessly for general consumption. Silence—at least until the matter has been thought through—may become the badge of honor in a battle of words.

Meanwhile the old and simple truths obtain. Men still do not gather figs from thistles, nor do they reap for long where they have not sown. These things remain unaffected by the march of progress and the making of speeches.

REPEAT YOUTH'S ACCUSATIONS IN DOCTOR SLAYING

Witnesses Tell His Story Involving Deputy.

South Paris, Me., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A jury hearing the trial of Francis M. Carroll for the murder of Dr. James G. Littlefield was told twice today that Paul Dwyer, 19 years old, accused the former deputy sherif of the slaying before going to prison for the crime.

E. Walker Abbott, defense counsel for Dwyer last November, testified that before that trial the boy told him the same story as he told at this trial.

Fear for His Life Told.

Dwyer's trial ended abruptly when he pleaded guilty and accepted a life sentence, only to come back to the same courtroom last week and accuse Carroll of slaying both Dr. Littlefield, 67 years old, and his wife, Lydia, 63.

Dwyer pleaded guilty, the lawyer said, because he was in mortal fear both he and his mother would be killed.

Earlier, Sherif F. F. Francis, Carroll's former superior, testified the day Dwyer was sentenced he heard from one of the deputies what Dwyer now contends is the true story of the death of the Littlefields.

Arrested on Morals Charge.

After Dwyer went to prison, Carroll was arrested on a morals charge involving his daughter, Barbara, 18 years old, and later was indicted for murder.

Barbara was Dwyer's former sweetheart and the state contends that Dwyer told Dr. Littlefield of letters she had written to him alleging mistreatment by her father.

Dr. Littlefield's threat to send Carroll to prison, the state prosecutor said, was the motive of Carroll in slaying the doctor on Oct. 14. Dwyer was found several days later in North Arlington, N. J., with the bodies of Dr. and Mrs. Littlefield stuffed in his automobile.

He said the prowler entered Sunday between 1 and 6 p. m. He reported the loss of a $2,000 string of pearls, a $1,500 diamond and sapphire bracelet, a pocket watch, a pearl pin, and a bracelet watch. On a dresser, and untouched by the thief, was a $2,000 diamond clip.

Testifies in Slaying

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Four men seized in connection with the assassination Saturday morning of two of Ald. Joseph P. Rostenkowski's [32d] lieutenants were released late yesterday. They will answer to charges of disorderly conduct tomorrow. The inquest into the deaths was continued until Aug. 25.

The four were in a party that toured a number of taverns and inns with the victims Friday night and Saturday morning. The murdered men, slain as they lay sleeping in an auto in front of the alderman's door at 1349 Noble street, were Leo Mosinski, formerly a state policeman and a reputed associate of the slain racketeer, George Barker, and Bruno Switaj.

Those arrested and released after witnesses failed to identify them are John Janowski, who owns a saloon at 1346 Cleaver street; Paul Borski, 1542 Bosworth avenue; John Wolek, 619 North Racine avenue, whose police record charging burglary, robbery, manslaughter, and attempted murder goes back to 1923; and Joe Wachulski, also known as Joe Buck, who served two years in Pontiac reformatory for robbery.

Seized in Investigation of Bootleg Liquor Ring

Chicago federal authorities disclosed yesterday that they arrested Henry Brieske of Montello, Wis., here Saturday in their investigation of a northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin bootleg liquor ring. He was taken to Madison, Wis. Government officials recently seized Nicholas Aboskетis of Waupun, Wis., as head of the ring.

murder. He said the union affairs had been peaceful for some time and that he knew of no rivals for authority.

On Aug. 20, 1934, Dungan was the target of three machine gunners. They fired more than fifty bullets, but he escaped in a speedier car and found refuge in the Deering police station.

This attack followed by a few days the assassination of Roy Thompson, another business agent of the union. Some weeks previously Michael [Bubs] Quinlan, an old time prohibition gangster who had been trying to muscle into the painters' union, was shot and killed.

Official's Wife Slain.

Two years ago on Jan. 3, 1936, Mrs. Elsie Henneman was shot and killed by a shotgun blast while riding with her husband, George. He is secretary and treasurer of Dungan's union and acted as the latter's lieutenant, bodyguard, and chauffeur.

Henneman named Schaaf as the killer. Police expressed dissatisfaction with the identification, Schaaf provided an alibi, and the grand jury refused to indict him.

Henneman and Dungan were arrested half a dozen times for carrying revolvers or other guns in their automobiles. Each time, save one, they were acquitted in court. Once both were convicted, but the convictions were set aside by the Illinois Supreme court.

Dungan's last arrest on a gun charge was Sept. 2, 1937, when police seized him and Edward J. Loftus, a trustee of the union. They were discharged two months later by Judge Eugene J. Holland of the Municipal court who ruled the police should have had search warants. Judge Holland is a neighbor of Dungan. His home is at 3117 Lowe avenue.

Dungan's last arrest came on March 21. Melvin Aspen, a union painter, charged that Dungan and other officials beat him and kicked him out of the union office at 1446 Adams street. The charges were dismissed in court.

Broker Resists Robbers; Slugged, but They Flee

Accosted by three robbers early today in front of 6416 Wayne avenue, Harry A. Brown, 52 years old, a real estate broker, lunged for the gun held by one of the thieves. The bandit stepped back and knocked him on the head. Brown shouted for help as he fell and the robbers fled. Brown lived at 1423 Thome avenue.

2 ARE CLEARED IN LOMBARD LABOR WAR SLUGGINGS

The Du Page county grand jury, investigating the recent labor violence in Lombard, yesterday cleared two men accused of terrorism, then adjourned for two weeks.

William Oetke and Roy Leverenz, the latter a business agent of the Du Page County Building Trades council, were cleared. They had been named by Warren B. Bolton, a contractor, as sluggers who attacked him when he tried to deliver material to a picketed building project.

Before the jury Bolton admitted a mistake in identifying Leverenz. He said he recognized Oetke among a group of pickets, but was not sure of his identification as a slugger. Police guards protected workers and trucks at the project yesterday.

Peer's Gardener Accused of Slaying Woman Clerk

EDINBURGH, Aug. 8.—(AP)—James Kirkwood, 30 years old and married, a gardener for Sir William J. Thomson, former lord provost of Edinburgh, was charged today with the murder of a spinster dairy clerk. Her body was found yesterday in a shallow grave in the garden of Sir William's mansion. The clerk, Miss Jean Powell, 36 years old, disappeared Saturday.

Good Night CHICAGO
Good Morning CALIFORNIA

United's de luxe CONTINENTAL is the fastest Sleeper! Leave at 11:40 pm DST, arrive in Los Angeles before business opens (8:55 am). Just 12¼ hrs! Or United's OVERLAND FLYER Sleeper leaves later, for daylight flight over scenic West.

★ BOARD THE MAINLINER SLEEPER in Chicago. Retire when you wish—the Skyroom is always available for "nighthawks" to read, smoke or play cards.

★ YOUR MAINLINER BERTH is as large as a twin bed, and extra comfortable. There are separate dressing rooms for men and women.

★ GO ONE WAY, RETURN ANOTHER. The Main Line offers the shortest mileage, and no extra fare for those who wish to visit both Los Angeles and San Francisco.

UNITED'S pioneer, Main Line route is outstandingly scenic—Cedar Breaks, Zion and Bryce National Parks, Valley of Fire, Boulder Dam and Lake Meade are only a few of the "high spots." And you'll be enthusiastic about United's cuisine aloft—as well as the thoughtful, "guest-of-the-line" service you'll receive.

Constipated? You Should Get at the Cause!

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they don't "get it over" at all—until they get at the cause of the trouble!

Chances are it's simple to find the cause if you eat only what most people do—meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin $B_1$.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

[ADVERTISMENT]

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CHARGE SPEED TRAP OPERATION IN THREE CITIES

Irate Autoists Complain of Treatment.

BY HAL FOUST.

Safety campaigns by civic clubs and newspapers, have aroused the zeal of trafic policemen. They are receiving much of the credit for the current reduction in the automobile accident rate. However, these campaigns in some instances have aroused overzealousness, and motorists are complaining of speed traps.

The complaints come from all sections of Chicagoland. John Owen of South Bend, Ind., wrote to THE TRIBUNE warning readers of the large number of arrests on U. S. 31 in the village of Roseland, Ind., between South Bend and Niles, Mich. The pavement is broad and the town has a population of only 777, so there is a disposition to ignore 30 miles per hour signs. The local constabulary profits.

Evanston Also Accused.

Evanston, with its national reputation for accident prevention, is not exempt from speed trap complaints. Edward A. White, 7203 North Damen avenue, alleges that a patrolman who doesn't patrol hides in an alley to watch for violators in Asbury avenue north of Howard street.

Melrose Park, mentioned periodically in speed trap stories during the last decade, is the subject of a report from Alfred Gaffga, 428 South Taylor street, Oak Park. He said he was doing 38 in a 40 miles per hour zone in Lake street [U. S. 20] and that the village policemen charged him with doing 51. He paid $15 to the judge on this testimony.

H. Lenc, 4147 West Ogden avenue, paid $8.35 to a justice of peace in Lawrence, Mich. As he approached a trafic light it changed from red to green. He passed a waiting automobile on its right. He was arrested.

Eumhurst Denies Charge.

George Kunnerow, chief of the Elmhurst police department, yesterday protested against charges that there is a speed trap in his suburb. Daniel C. Curtis resigned as police magistrate of Elmhurst last week after the city treasurer told the council that there was a shortage of $170 in receipts from fines.

"Contrary to published reports," said Chief Kunnerow, "no speed trap was involved in Mr. Curtis' troubles. We are making about twenty trafic arrests per week, which is low for a city of this size."

TEST 136,741 CARS AND REJECT 10,000 IN SAFETY LANES

Deputy Vehicle Commissioner Edward J. Gorman said yesterday that 136,741 automobiles and trucks have been tested on the city's ten safety lanes since July 1. Of these, 126,708 passed inspection while the others were rejected and failed to return for another test. Drivers of 30,000 vehicles which were designated for testing last month but failed to get stickers were warned that they will be arrested within a few weeks if they do not appear at the lanes.

West Town Personal Property Schedules Filed

Hundreds of personal property schedules were received yesterday by Assessor John S. Clark from taxpayers in the town of West as the deadline fell on returns from that district. A 50 per cent penalty is added to the assessor's appraisal if a taxpayer fails to schedule his own property for taxation. Deadlines for South town, including the loop, and the town of Lake fall tomorrow.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR SURRENDERS; ILL, HE CONTENDS

Gives Self Up Week After Crash Fatal to Two.

Iner Peterson, sought since an automobile collision in which two women were fatally burned on July 31, surrendered yesterday to Capt. Thomas J. Duffy of the Sheffield avenue police.

Iner Peterson.

Duffy said Peterson told him that he suffered an attack of pleurisy shortly before the tragedy and could not remember what happened.

The fire that followed the collision caused the death of Mrs. Edna Schultz, 48 years old, of 5841 North Drake avenue, and her daughter, Roma, 20. Mrs. Schultz's husband, Matt, 48, is still in a serious condition in the Swedish Covenant hospital of burns incurred while trying to save the women. Peterson crashed into the Schultz car in Peterson avenue near Kimball avenue.

Faces Inquest Sept. 13.

Peterson, who is 33 years old, lives at 8107 Osceola avenue, Niles. Police say he fled on foot after the collision.

Duffy said he would turn Peterson over to the Albany park police for the inquest, set for Sept. 13.

James V. Clyne, a former Joliet banker, died on the way to a hospital yesterday after his car had struck the support of an underpass on United States highway 66 a mile north of Joliet. Authorities said they believed a heart attack caused him to lose control of the car as he was returning from Chicago. They were unable to determine if his injuries or heart attack caused death. Mr. Clyne, who was 50 years old, lived at 401 North Nicholson avenue, Joliet.

Michael Capra, 16, 2909 Parnell avenue, was killed last night when his bicycle collided with an automobile as he rode out of an alley on 30th street between Parnell and Normal avenues. Police held the driver of the car, Nello Bugnone, 20, 3330 Parnell avenue.

1 Killed, 3 Hurt in Crash.

August Schultz, 76 years old, of Kewanee, was killed and his wife Anna, 45, and Otto Neubert, 58, were injured yesterday when their automobile collided with a truck at 159th street and Western avenue, west of Harvey. The truck was driven by Bruno Bladowski, 29, of 4855 South Winchester avenue.

Ralph McCray Jr. of Chicago, 15 years old, was killed Sunday at Somerset, Ky. He was standing by the roadside with a Somerset boy who was also killed.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 493 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 379 were killed in Chicago, where 11,352 were injured in the same period.

DOESN'T TAKE POLICE TIP OR TAXI; GETS TEN DAYS AS TIPSY DRIVER

A few minutes later they saw Smith driving home to 3349 Madison street. They arrested him and took him before Judge Stephen Adamowski in Safety court.

"Apparently you don't pay any attention to warnings," the judge said. "I'm not going to warn you. Ten days in jail for drunken driving."

SAVE 3 JAGUAR KITTENS FROM A MOTHER'S TEETH

Many members of the cat family kill their first litter, but usually become more maternal with the second. Nellie, however, killed her babies three years in a row. Zoo officials decided to take a hand.

When her fourth litter was born two weeks ago, the kittens, two females and a male, were taken to the home of Mrs. Otto Holdick, wife of the night keeper of the zoo. Mrs. Holdick and her daughter, Mrs. Stacia Helsop, took turns for a week giving each cub a bottle every two hours. They both are exhausted now, but Chita, Lupe, and Pedro are fat balls of spotted golden fur.

Two western tigers in adjoining dens in the nearby lion house have had a total of six cubs in the last seven weeks. One had two seven weeks ago. Another had four the day Nellie's were taken away. They've had nine, altogether, in other years.

A MOTORMAN LOSES FIVE MINUTES, AND A MOTORIST LOSES $15

Motorman John Mertes clanged his bell. He suggested. He urged. He beseeched. He ordered. But he couldn't get the automobile in front of his Madison street car to go faster than 10 miles an hour. He was on time at Wood street. He was five minutes late when he reached Western avenue, six blocks beyond.

The motorman told Judge Frank M. Padden about it in Trafic court yesterday, and looked down his nose at Edward Gilbert, 24 years old, of 1052 North California avenue. Gilbert said he hadn't seen any places to turn out of the street car's way. But the judge fined him $15, just the same.

ALBEN'S ALSO HAPPY.

Senator Alben Barkley has won his renomination in Kentucky and with it, if Senator Sheppard of the senate campaign investigating committee has been well informed and is speaking by the book, the privilege of going before this committee and later before the senate elections committee to clear himself of charges of demoralizing the free and independent electorate of his state.

Mr. Sheppard may have been asked in the last few days by some of his colleagues just what he thought he was contributing to the more abundant life by so many statements charging the New Dealers with corrupting the ballot and putting a burden on the conscience of the nation. Mr. Sheppard has indicated that he might possibly have been going into the matter a bit too strongly. However, he was relying upon reports from investigators he had sent into Kentucky and other states and was referring particularly to the Tennessee primaries and the primaries which Senator Barkley carried over Gov. Happy Chandler.

Although it was indicated quite clearly in advance that the senator would win his renomination, as there was every reason he should, the White House politburo is relieved now that the thing is over and that Mr. Barkley has only investigating hazards to jump. Ways and means of stopping pertinent inquiries no doubt will be found in a gentlemen's agreement to think no more of it.

The purge was not engaged in Kentucky because, as Mr. Roosevelt in visiting the state said, the people had to decide only whether they would renominate his good friend Alben or nominate his friend Happy. Happy had always been welcome at the White House and never went away empty handed. Alben was to be preferred because of his experience in senatorial matters, because of his leadership as the administration chief of the conscript fathers, and because he knew all the ropes. It would take Happy a long time to learn his way about, whereas Alben could move around in the dark and always know where he was.

Gov. Chandler professed that he was just as good a New Dealer as Senator Barkley and that he would be a more active one in behalf of the Kentuckians. Although Mr. Roosevelt reminded the people that Barkley had brought them over 300 million dollars of United States treasury funds, Happy said he could do better than that.

The communistic Democratic Front could have been satisfied with either of the two candidates, but John Lewis and his C. I. O. radicals and Stalinites went to Barkley in a bargain which made Jim Farley and the White House take a licking with Tom Kennedy, Lewis' man for governor in Pennsylvania. Inasmuch as Mr. Roosevelt had tossed his glove to Alben, there was great relief when he made the grade against the popular young governor, who seems to have recovered from whatever it was that poisoned him, and had a really handsome vote of confidence in running a rather close second.

Apparently the two factions took the top off everything and abused federal reliefers, the WPA workers, state employés, federal employés, state and federal funds to the limit. Here, as in other states where the New Deal riches have brought out violent conflict, what the other fellow does is atrocious, and all do the same things. In Ohio, for instance, it is to be noted that Gov. Davey, a Yes-but New Dealer, is being castigated by the head office of the Social Security board for slipping a card expressing his good-will into the envelopes carrying old age pension checks to Ohio beneficiaries. Mr. Davey, being the wrong man to take advantage of the federal and state money in this fashion, the Social Security administrators threaten to cut off the state's federal quota.

CONTAGIOUS ABORTION.

The articles on Bang's disease recently published in THE TRIBUNE will, it is hoped, hasten the eradication of this plague. The progress which has already been achieved in the campaign against syphilis justifies the hope that Bang's disease may be brought under control once the public is made aware of its menace, and this is said even though the two diseases have little in common.

Bang's disease attacks certain domestic animals as well as man. In cattle it takes the form of contagious abortion and as such causes enormous losses to owners of herds. In the opinion of competent veterinarians it is the most costly of all the plagues which attack domestic animals and in Illinois alone results in an annual loss of 5 million dollars to farmers. The prevalence of the disease is high, as may be judged by a comparison with the incidence of bovine tuberculosis. At its worst, twenty years ago, it was estimated that between 3 and 4 per cent of the cattle in this country were infected with tuberculosis. There is reason to believe that no less than 15 per cent of our cattle today have contagious abortion.

In man the disease is known as undulant fever, and as such is the cause of some deaths and frequent protracted illnesses. The disease is commonly contracted either by drinking unpasteurized milk or by eating uncooked meat. The contagion can be avoided by a widespread understanding of the ways in which it is transmitted. In cities like Chicago, where the milk supply is controled, the danger is minimized.

Bang's disease has been known to medical and veterinary science for half a century, but its prevalence has not received wide publicity. As the syphilis campaign has shown, public knowledge must precede public coöperation. So far as syphilis was concerned the ordinary citizen knew about it and feared it, but the taboo was so strong that, until THE TRIBUNE led the way in defying it, there was no adequate means of informing the public about prevention and cure. There has been no corresponding taboo regarding Bang's disease, but only a widespread ignorance of the nature of the disease and its menace.

We can hope that the focusing of attention will bring pressure to bear upon farmers and the public authorities to hasten the eradication of the plague.

THAT'S BASEBALL.

Mickey Cochrane, the manager of the Detroit American league baseball team, has been fired with the same suddenness with which Charley Grimm was separated from the not-doing-so-well Cubs. In Cochrane's case, as in Grimm's, the dismissal was not only sudden but all in the best of feeling. The management just didn't want any more of them and out they went.

This is making the manager's life an unhappy and undesirable one. Cochrane took a team which finished fifth in 1933 and won the American league pennant for it in '34. He lost the world's pennant to the St. Louis Cardinals in a seven game series. The following year he won both the league and world championships and in 1936 and '37 he finished second to the New York Yankees, who at the top of their stride were regarded as unbeatable. In 1938 he is fired.

Grimm, in about the same period, won two National league championships, losing one world series to Cochrane's Detroits and another to McCarthy's Yankees, McCarthy having been fired from the Cub management because he could not lick the Athletics. Grimm and Cochrane were two managers among sixteen who twice had taken their own league prize and Cochrane had added the highest trophy to his accomplishments. That would seem to be doing fairly well, if the competition in either league is worth anything. If better is to be expected of a manager then it would seem that at least fourteen of the sixteen engaged in major league handling of a ball club should be fired every year.

Professional baseball may soon degenerate to the level of football in the institutions of higher learning, in which half of the coaches sit up Saturday night wondering what their job's going to be worth Monday morning. The reason for the distress in both the professional and amateur circles is probably the same. The management which can't win can't pack 'em in. The baseball owners might do well to get together and figure out a way of rotating the championships year by year. Then the managers would not need to feel that their jobs are among the most adventurous of enterprises.

THE CHILD IN THE MOVIES.

Jackie Coogan's efforts to get an accounting from his mother and stepfather of the amounts he earned as a kid in the movies and as a minor make it apparent that the law might well be modified in recognition of new conditions. So far as this young actor can reasonably reckon his prospects the most profitable part of his career is behind him. He is now of age, but in growing up he grew out of the peculiar abilities which gave him a great earning capacity.

When he was a child and legally incapable of having an estate he made a great deal of money. It wasn't his. He couldn't dispose of it and he could not save it. That is the predicament of every minor. In ordinary life it is not a serious matter for the child because he's being supported by his parents, and his earnings, even if he is working, are small. In Hollywood the screen babies may earn large salaries and accumulate fortunes for their parents or guardians.

Coogan's misfortune was to lose his father. Probably if the family had been kept intact his interest in his earnings would have been better protected. That a trust should be established for a person whose productive period falls within his legal minority seems socially wise and just. The law recognizes only the parents' rights. The child is theirs and his earnings are theirs. If they use him as a money maker while he is under age and turn him loose on the world as an adult with a hard scramble ahead of him and hundreds of thousands of dollars behind him, that is his sad misfortune. He had his career when he couldn't control his earnings or make provision for the time when he would lose his money value. The law does not take his plight into consideration and it would seem socially desirable that it should.

WHAT REALLY IS HAPPENING.

[Azusa (Cal.) Herald.]

The question is often raised, "why is it that the papers will carry two stories side by side—one from China and the other from Japan—each giving a different version of the same battle?"

The answer is rather simple, but hard for those living in America, one of the last strongholds of true freedom of the press, to understand.

You don't "get" news in China or Japan; you "take" it. You don't go out to get a story yourself, you simply take the story that is handed to you by a government bureau. So that you can't find out what is actually happening, but only what the government wants you to know.

Therefore when both the Chinese and Japanese claim a victory on the same day, it's because their spokesmen assert it; when the Spanish loyalists and rebels both announce the capture of the same city, it's because their headquarters proclaim it; when the news dispatches from Tokio and Moscow contradict each other, it's because the two representative governments fail to agree.

And even if a reporter should be ambitious and aggressive enough to get a true story by independent means, he would not be allowed to send it over the government-censored telephones or cables. So that the best a news service—such as Associated Press or United Press—can do is to send both stories and let the reader take his pick or strike a happy medium.

The second bassoonist had a night off, says Architect Ernest Grunsfeld, and, going out in front of the opera house, decided he would buy a ticket, and, for once, hear what the opera sounded like from the front of the house. The opera was Carmen and he bought a good $5 seat. The next day at rehersal the first bassoonist asked him what he had done on his night off.

"Well, I took kind of a busman's holiday and went to the opera," he said.

"How was it?" queried the other.

"Well, you know that part where we have been going 'ooompah, ooompah' for years?" he asked. "Well, the rest of the orchestra goes 'da da de da, da. . . .'" [humming the melody of the Toreador song].

—The musical bartender of the town is at 6516 North Western avenue. He plays sax, clarinet, flute, and fife, and will play anything from Bach to Bathtub Blues. "Who wants a drink before the next number?" he inquires. A customer asked for Schubert and the barkeep played the Serenade on the flute. And the next piece was a clarinet solo that would send a jitterbug into action.

One night she's drifting out to sea
And then they tie her to a tree;
I wonder what the end will be—

They dynamite her in a submarine.

Koster and Biel's, also Kohl and Middleton's, were two popular amusement spots—I think on either Clark or State street. In front of one of these places a man dressed in medieval costume stood leaning on a staf, staring at the people on the walk. The trick was to try to make him smile, and if you succeeded you were admitted to the show free. We kids spent a lot of time trying to make that mug smile, but we never did, and I never saw any one else that did. One of the high spots of these shows was the professor who lectured on the evils of drink, and who had drawings and paintings of the ravages of the "Demon Alcohol" on the human system. As a rule, the professor himself was the best exhibit of the dangers of too much alcohol.

These were the days of the famous Jimmy Michaels of Australia. Jimmy, I believe, was the first bicyclist to be paced by a motorcycle, and was noted for always chewing a butt of a cigar when he was racing. Fred Titus was an American rider who was also well known at the time. The Klondike craze was at its height and all kinds of arctic equipment was on display in the windows of railroad ticket offices. Yvette Guilbert of France was singing at the old Academy of Music. I think many of us remember her not alone for her singing, but also for the vogue she started—that of wearing elbow length black fingerless gloves.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR THROAT.

WHILE sore throat is not so common, perhaps, as headache or constipation, nevertheless the illness is more serious and incapacitating. The tissues in this area offer many hiding places for bacteria. Certain structures—for example the tonsils—contain crypts [recesses] into which infected food particles may be crowded. As a result microbes may lodge at the very bottom of these channels and set up congestion. Many can testify that two or three times a year a siege of tonsilitis is encountered. This means, or should mean, several days in bed for each seizure, until the patient is able to return to work—a substantial loss of time.

Recovery comes with improvement in the resistance of the body. As the acute irritation subsides the poison no longer is produced. There may remain, however, a certain amount of rawness which may persist for a week or more. If so, the chances are that some organisms have been left behind, perhaps dormant but ready to spring into action should the bodily reserve drop appreciably. Most of us, in fact, constantly harbor within the mouth enough germs to account for inflammation if they are given an opportunity to multiply.

Much can be done for those who complain of frequent or even intermittent irritation. A fairly large number of individuals note each morning on arising that swallowing is slightly painful. Only after breakfast, or possibly by the middle of the forenoon, will this rasping sensation disappear. In such circumstances we may assume that a slight infection is present. Pus may drain from the sinuses during the hours of sleep or escape directly from tonsil tissue.

Others observe that on the day following prolonged exposure or unwonted exercise, particularly after becoming overheated and cooling off too rapidly, the throat may be all ablaze. Contributing factors are too much food [hence indigestion], lack of sleep, or any indiscretion which leads to a loss in the combative powers of the blood.

Good hygiene of the region is essential, beginning with the teeth, tongue, and sinuses. Gargles are often helpful, as thus much food débris is washed away. If some mild antiseptic can be used, so much the better. A good solution is made with common salt, from a half to one teaspoonful in a glass of warm water. One that contains chlorine is fatal to bacteria. But we can accomplish far more by keeping the surfaces clean and allowing nature to dispense its own prophylactic than by expecting any outside agent to destroy the invading hosts of germs.

During an acute flareup [sore throat or tonsilitis] water should be taken abundantly, and hot drinks, especially lemonade, are beneficial. In addition an ice bag applied externally may afford much comfort. Many physicians advocate the alternate use of hot and cold packs—heat for ten to fifteen minutes, then ice in a suitable container. The diet should be light—soft toast with plenty of butter, poached or coddled egg, hot milk, and all the hot tea the patient will drink. Orange, grapefruit, and tomato juice may be given freely.

Often such episodes are far more menacing than they appear, for the reason that toxins or pus, or both, may be absorbed into the circulation, eventually causing injury to the kidneys, the heart lining, or other vital organs. Because of the possibility of such absorption, every severe attack should be under the watchful eye of a competent physician. Rheumatism, endocarditis, and acute kidney inflammation repeatedly come from just such indispositions—at first regarded as of little moment.

One who is beset with recurring throat trouble should make every effort to locate and eliminate the spot from which the irritation proceeds. Between times, every measure should be adopted to regain normal health. Good food, sunlight, plenty of rest, and adequate exercise to keep the circulation in order are all indicated.

REPLY.

The condition is far from natural. Have the entire respiratory system examined by a competent physician.

ESTATE DISTRIBUTION.

Chicago, July 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A widow passed away two years ago leaving two children, one grandson, and one adopted daughter. This widow left a cottage and a $3,000 mortgage, which was past due. A will was drawn up by a real estate agent and she appointed her brother as [1] administrator. This real estate agent and one of the heirs wanted the will probated even though the amount involved was considerably less than $5,000.

2. A lawyer was appointed, probably by the Probate court, as the administrator did not hire him. The heirs had a verbal agreement with the real estate agent that he should sell the house. He did sell it.

3. Can he sell it without the signature of the heirs?

4. Approximately what will the probate costs be and about how much can the lawyer charge? G. H. K.

1. In general, the personal representative named in the will is called an executor rather than an administrator.

2. You do not state the purpose of the lawyer's appointment. If the executor named in the will refuses to act, then the court would appoint an administrator with the will annexed, and this administrator might have employed the lawyer.

3. Unless the will expressly gives the power to sell, there would be no such power excepting where the sale is necessary to pay debts.

4. Depends on facts that are not before us.

WHY DID'NT U. S. TEACH HIM ENGLISH?

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Twice this week I have read dispatches in your paper in connection with the alcalde of Ponce, Porto Rico. What is your aim in giving him so much unfavorable and uncalled for publicity? You try to ridicule poor English, unaware, perhaps, that his vernacular tongue is Spanish.

Also, you lose sight of the fact that the Americans have been assiduously teaching the Porto Ricans English, and if after thirty or more years the people thus taught express themselves so poorly it is time for the government to stop such a futile enterprise. The money the island uses in the teaching of the English language should be spent in buying food for the famished natives. Let them continue expressing themselves in the same vernacular they have been using for the last 400 years, Spanish. Yours, for the fearless publication of this letter,

A PORTO RICAN.

PROPOSES THE WORD USONO.

Hartford, Mich., Aug. 4.—The appropriation of the word America by our people is a source of irritation to people of the two Americas, North and South, who promptly claim that they are also Americans. They feel the impending "big stick" of domination over private rights.

A solution of the difficulty can be offered. Use Usono for the noun and Usona for the adjective to conform to our neighbor on the south, Mexico, and our neighbor on the north, Canada. Usono has been used for thirty years to my knowledge as an Esperanto word for United States of America, and is already known to tens of thousands of people in all parts of the world.

EXPERIMENTING WITH HEALTH.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—In projecting the government's action against the American Medical association as a monopoly, Assistant Attorney General Arnold states: "If the newer forms of organization should result in inferior standards of therapy, as is feared by their medical opponents, that fact can be revealed only by experiment." In other words, the administration is now proceeding to experiment with the people's health.

Let the public decide which is best—cheap medical service or competent medical service. I am thinking as a mere layman. LEO S. THEIN.

WHY NOT USE THE TUNNELS?

Chicago, Aug. 3.—You hear the people complaining about trafic on the streets of Chicago. To get rid of a good deal of that why doesn't some one suggest that the Van Buren street tunnel be used and also the La Salle street tunnel? The latter is used only for cars going downtown. Nothing enters the tunnel going north, and as for the Van Buren tunnel, that is not used at all.

Couldn't these two tunnels be used for some purpose? JAS. C. COLLINS.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, turn to page 24 in the Want Ad section for the correct answers, and mark your score:

1. What was Harriet Beecher Stowe's most famous story?
[a] "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," [b] "Uncle Tom's Cabin," [c] "Uncle Remus."

2. In what business is an "em" a unit of measure?
[a] printing, [b] well drilling, [c] dressmaking.

3. What was the territorial capital of Illinois before it became a state?
[a] Kaskaskia, [b] Shawneetown, [c] Springfield.

4. What was the first state capital of Illinois?
[a] Kaskaskia, [b] Vandalia, [c] Peoria.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION.

Should Franklin III., IV., V., and VI.
From out the White House disappear,
Take comfort, all Americans,
Hope on, and be of utmost cheer;
Gird up your loins and come in crowds
To shout until your tonsils burst,
When good King Franklin doffs the crown
And hands it down to James the First.
From sire to son successions vary
With Presidents hereditary.

The two term men who made it twice
You must admit that they were "some,"
Ulysses G., the soldier bold,
He reached and tried to grab the plum;
Yet, somehow, folks since George's day
A prejudice have always nursed
Against third terms; but then, my word,
I'm sure they'd all love James the First.
So don't be mean and act contrary
With Presidents hereditary.

This third term "bogie" must be squelched;
Three strikes are due to ev'ry player;
Third terms, of course, can be allowed
To Presidents or Jersey mayor.
Let's have a New Deal on the square
With old time notions quite reversed.
Here's luck to Franklin, raise your glass
And hip, hooray, to James the First.
Roust out the bands and make you merry
With Presidents hereditary.

George Washington? O! Yes, we know,
Refused to be a third term owner,
But lots of people—Teddy, too,
Believed that George had "pulled a boner."
Third terms a Roosevelt weakness are,
So, if the worst might come to worst,
Let Franklin the convention rule,
And thus all petty quarrels bury

AN AMERICAN.

A GOOD TIP TO CHICAGO.

Fayetteville, Ark., Aug. 2.—Speaking of ragweed in your city—and I notice there is plenty of it—why not have your many men who are on relief cut it, or, better still, dig it up and burn it. Nearly every vacant lot in Chicago is covered with the giant ragweed, to which most hay fever sufferers are most sensitive.

Possibly your city keeper of the weeds doesn't know ragweed when he sees it. Few people do.

Chicago would be such a grand place for us sneezers if it weren't for your weeds. Instead of going there for the season I go to northern Wisconsin and have done so for fourteen years. Thank goodness for Wisconsin.

Here's hoping that good ole Chicago will wake up.

Yours for better and fewer weeds.

MRS. CHARLES H. STONE.

LONGS FOR CORN BREAD.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—I wonder if there is a restaurant in Chicago where one could get real corn bread. Being a southerner, I demand it with vegetables. So many times "corn bread" is on the menu, and I order it. Then I think maybe the cook "slipped up" and forgot the sugar. But it's the same old story—just another piece of cake; and who likes beans with cake? I don't.

ALVERNE WINGFIELD.

HIS LULLABY IS HUSHED.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—One man's meat is another man's poison. That one has whiskers on it, but it still holds true.

Take, for instance, our unfortunate friends in Park Manor and Gresham who can't sleep because of "the banging of cars and screeching of whistles and brakes."

I grew up in the shadow of a railroad yard. Engines chugged and brakes screeched, cars banged, to say nothing of great clouds of smoke and cinders. I grew up healthy and normal and happy, not in spite of it, but rather, I think, because of it. Naturally, as soon as I was old enough I went to work on the railroad, first as a clerk and later as a switchman. Factories belched smoke; there was noise and grime, and it was good.

Then something happened. I don't know what. I still live close by the railroad. But the noise is gone. My job went with it. No more banging, nothing but an ominous silence.

Sure, there's still a lonesome engine puffing away, its feeble chug only heightening the stillness. One engine where there were a dozen.

Now I lie awake, too, because my favorite lullaby is hushed. A RAIL.

REASSURES EDITORIAL WRITER.

Northbrook, Ill., Aug. 4—In an editorial, "Housewives, If Any," your writer complains bitterly over the modern housewife's waning interest in and knowledge of food preparation. His chief concern seems to be her lack of knowledge of the old-fashioned method of cooking apple butter in copper kettles, and her apparent ignorance of food preparation in general.

I would call attention to the ever increasing demand for practical material in food preparation and consumer education which is adequately met through the home economic courses in the Chicago public high schools. As an instructor in home economics, I should like to invite the writer to visit some of these classes, where he will find a sizeable number of these potential housewives learning to cook and liking it.

JEAN B. BARTELME.

POLITICS REACHING OUT.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—On behalf of myself and the members of the staf of the Ravenswood hospital I want to compliment you on your fairmindedness in today's editorial in the matter of "prosecuting the doctors."

While most of us considered that this talk in Washington concerning the American Medical association as a trust or monopoly is but a smoke screen behind which the administration is reaching out for more votes, we all recognize the danger involved. Encroachment of political control upon every business and profession is fraught with extreme danger to all of us. It may be that the American Medical association, in defending itself from the unjust criticism of Cummings et al., may be the instrument of stopping such political encroachment.

THEODORE BACMEISTER, M. D.,
Chairman of the Staf.

322 VOCALISTS AWAITING MUSIC FESTIVAL TESTS

West Side Preliminaries to Begin Tonight.

Festival Tickets!

Reserved seats for the Chicagoland Music Festival are now on sale at 50 cents and $1 each. They may be obtained by mail [make check or money order payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.] or by calling at the Chicago Tribune public service bureaus at 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower lobby.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Three hundred and twenty-two vocalists living on the west and south sides of Chicago and in Cook county will compete, beginning tonight at 7 o'clock, in the last of a series of six preliminary voice contests of the Chicagoland Music Festival.

Elene Gardner.

The auditions will be held in the Chicago Woman's club theater, 72 East 11th street.

Tonight tenors, contraltos, and baritones from the west side will appear, and tomorrow night sopranos, mezzos, and basses. On Thursday and Friday nights the singers on the south side will appear for their tests in the same order. The north side contests were held last week.

Finals Set for Aug. 18.

Six voices are chosen on each side of the city and the winning eighteen will be heard Thursday night, Aug. 18, in the Cook county finals to be held in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel.

The judges tonight will be Carl Craven, Louise Gilbert, and Mrs. Zerline Muhlmann Metzger; tomorrow, Charles LaBerge, Freda Draper, and Samuel Burkholder; Thursday, John T. Read, Harriet Case, and Franklin Hathaway, and Friday, Alice Terrell, William Wilson Mount, and Kathryn Witwer.

Among the contestants are Miss Gudrun Karen Thorson, 22 years old, a contralto, of 4125 Newport avenue, who will be heard tonight, and Miss Elene Gardner, 19, a soprano, of 2411 South Millard avenue, who sings on Friday.

Preliminaries Open to Public.

A new feature has been added to the festival program in Soldiers' field on Saturday night, Aug. 20. The Chicago Black Horse band and the 122d Field Artillery Lancers, two crack organizations, will appear in a ten minute equestrian drill. Sixty-five horses and men will take part. Warant Officer Thomas J. Madden is the director of the mounted band and Capt. Hubert H. Harz is in charge of the Lancers.

PURSE AND CANE TRAP A BURGLAR RIDING BICYCLE

Sheffield avenue police were suspicious of Theodore Sosnowski, 21 years old, when they saw him early yesterday riding a bicycle and carrying a woman's purse and a cane. They arrested him and traced the articles to the burglary of Miss Myrtle Alm's home at 1836 Oakdale avenue.

His finger prints revealed Sosnowski had been in trouble with the police since he was 12 years old. In 1934 he was shot while escaping from a burglary. The charge was changed to petty larceny and he served six months in the Bridewell. Last March 18 a similar charge was reduced when he was sentenced to the Bridewell, being released last month.

DIG BOMBPROOF MEETING PLACE FOR LAWMAKERS

PARIS, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Ground has been broken behind the chamber of deputies for a vast bombproof shelter where the lower house of parliament may hold sessions underground even while enemy bombers are attacking the capital.

With parliament on a vacation, officials of Bourbon palace, which houses the deputies, revealed work had begun on the most elaborate bomb refuge in France, and one of the biggest in Europe.

In the garden where parliament met under Charles X. more than a century ago, workers are digging the shelter. The job may take months to complete. Trees in the garden will be left standing to hide both the palace and its refuge from the view of airmen.

One of the builders' problems will be keeping water of the Seine river out of the underground quarters. Escape doors may provide the deputies with access to the network of Paris sewers should bombs block other exits.

WPA WATCHMAN MENACES 2 WITH GUN; GETS 60 DAYS

James Portenzi, 65 years old, a WPA watchman, was sentenced to 60 days in the house of correction yesterday when arraigned before Judge Eugene Holland on two charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Portenzi, who lives at 428 South Oakley boulevard, was arrested Sunday night by park district police after he had drawn a revolver and ordered two fishermen to leave the 11th street beach. They are Lawrence Zaccone, 1531 Fillmore street, and Russell McMillen, 3534 Parnell avenue. Portenzi, who had no permit to carry the gun, was rebuked by Judge Holland for using foul and abusive language in the presence of children and for exceeding his authority. He was supposed to be guarding a toolhouse on East 7th street.

Attorney for Alleged Spy Found Guilty of Contempt

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—George C. Dix, attorney for Johanna Hofmann, the red-headed hair dresser from the North German-Lloyd liner Europa, who is under indictment as a German spy, was found guilty of contempt of court today by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of Texas. Judge Davidson acted because Dix during a hearing a week ago quoted an assistant United States attorney as saying he had a Texas judge sitting "who will do anything I ask him to do." The judge said that while he did not intend to impose any punishment, he wanted the record to show that Dix had been found in contempt.

Expert Maker of Candles, Antonio Ajello, Dies at 78

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Antonio Ajello, 78 years old, one of the world's leading candlemakers, died today at his home. In his workshops here were preserved many of the craft secrets of the medieval guilds, including the arts of timing candles, perfuming them, and sculpturing them. When Enrico Caruso died Antonio built a candle 18 feet high, 5 feet in circumference, and weighing a ton. It cost $3,700 and is burned one day a year in a church in Pompeii, Italy.

SUDETEN GERMAN SLAIN IN BOHEMIA TAVERN QUARREL

Quiz Brings Demand for More Rural Guards.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 8.—(AP)—An official report on the slaying of a Sudeten German was closed today with a recommendation for increasing the strength of the constabulary in remote districts where the possibilities exist of heated arguments over Czechoslovakia's minority problems.

Wenzel Baierle, 28 years old, was stabbed to death this morning near Glasenwald, in Bohemia. The official report said he and two companions quarrelled in a tavern with a number of German Social Democrats, who oppose Konrad Henlein's Sudeten German [Nazi] party.

Authorities said Robert Hoiden confessed the stabbing. Hoiden lived in Vienna the last twenty-eight years, but fled Austria when Germany annexed the country.

Mediator Hears Hungarians.

Czechoslovakia's "minor minorities" today engaged the attention of Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator and adviser in the issue between the Sudeten German minority and the government.

Runciman listened to the complaints of Czechoslovakia's Hungarian minority. Hungarian revisionists have been making urgent demands that the Hungarian minority be returned to Hungary.

Runciman returned from a week-end spent in a Czech area of the country. He would not disclose whether he had visited the Sudeten German region.

Press in New Outburst.

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The slaying of a Sudeten German in Czechoslovakia touched off a new anti-Czechoslovakian outburst tonight in the Berlin press.

Banner headlines reading "New Czech Terror Wave" and "Another Czech Murder" were displayed over an account of the finding of the body of Wenzel Baierle near Glasenwald, in Bohemia.

The Boersen Zeitung commented sharply that "the German people no longer are ready, now or in the future, to look on and tolerate the fact that Germans are harassed only because of their nationality and are made the game of unbridled, incited mobs."

SENTENCE 5 TO DIE FOR PLOT ON SOVIET MINES

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Frustration of a plot to wreck the coal mining industry in the Donetz basin was reported today by the Ukrainian newspaper Socialist Donbass, which said the five ringleaders were sentenced to death.

The newspaper said the former director general of the Donbass coal trust, a former director of the Mukaeva coal trust and three engineers were condemned to be shot while two others received sentences of 25 years imprisonment.

Testimony indicated the defendants deliberately disorganized coal transportation and planned caveins and mine explosions which caused a number of casualties.

Tests Separation

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Whether or not Jobyna Ralston is serious about the permanence of her surprise "trial separation" from her actor husband, Richard Arlen, the pair has already settled property divisions. Their attorney, Jerome Mayo, says that both parties signed a settlement on the eve of Arlen's departure for a personal appearance in Kansas City. He was not in a position to say whether there will be divorce proceedings, indicating that neither party will hurry to press the matter in court.

When first announcing the rift, Miss Ralston said that the separation was "one of those trial things."

Parting of the couple after twelve years of married life came as a surprise in Hollywood. They have one son, Rickey, 3 years old.

NAZIS DEPRIVE JEWS OF JOBS 'AS SALESMEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Jews who eked out a meager existence selling goods in their home towns after they were forbidden to be traveling salesmen will be deprived of this source of income after Sept. 30. This was announced today by the ministry of economics. Businessmen will be compelled to dismiss Jewish agents.

The ministry said "this will eliminate Jews from a profession whose members, through their contacts, can contribute greatly to the support of Naziism."

VIENNA, Aug. 8.—Catholic nuns are being gradually removed as nurses in hospitals and homes and as school teachers throughout Austria, it was disclosed today.

BOY CONFESSES TO SLAYING OF GIRL NEIGHBOR

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Wirt Parr, 17 years old, was held by Pryor, Okla., authorities tonight in the fatal clubbing and burning of Alma Manning, 19 years old, a high school honor pupil. The youth was under guard in an undisclosed jail after leading officers to the girl's body.

County Attorney H. A. Kehn said Parr, son of a farm widow, confessed he stopped the girl on a road between their two farms near Pryor. When she resisted his advances and tunred away, the enraged youth knocked her down with a club and choked her, the prosecutor said.

"After I knocked her down she looked so pitiful I couldn't attack her," Kehn quoted the boy as saying. "I dragged her to a brush pile, put her on it, and set it afire."

FIRES LEAVE 18,000 HOMELESS IN TWO PHILIPPINE CITIES

MANILA, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Two fires in widely separated sections of the Philippine Islands today left 18,000 homeless and caused damage estimated at $1,150,000.

In San Pablo, Laguna province, 15 blocks of modern buildings were destroyed. Five hundred dwellings, mostly the property of wealthy persons, were burned and officials estimated the homeless at 6,000. The flames consumed the Municipal building, the city market, and several business buildings.

In the Tondo slum district of Manila fire swept through 16 blocks, destroying 2,000 native huts and leaving 12,000 persons homeless. Many suffered minor injuries.

MRS. CHRYSLER, WIFE OF MOTOR CAR MAKER, DIES

Stricken in Home a Few Hours Earlier.

Great Neck, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, 62 years old, wife of the automobile manufacturer, died at her home tonight after a cerebral hemorrhage. All members of the family were at the bedside when death occurred at 6 p. m.

Mrs. W. P. Chrysler.

Mrs. Chrysler was stricken earlier in the day and was placed in an iron lung. She had been treated several months for high blood pressure, her son, Walter Jr., said. She complained after dinner Sunday night of feeling ill and retired early.

Mr. Chrysler Also Ill.

Mr. Chrysler, who also has been confined to his Kings Point estate, arose shortly after 2 a. m. and found his wife unconscious. He called a physician, who ordered oxygen from the fire department. Dr. Arthur Chase, who had been attending Mrs. Chrysler, was summoned from Saratoga and arrived shortly after noon. An iron lung was immediately ordered and Mrs. Chrysler was placed in it, but she never revived.

Mrs. Chrysler was the former Della V. Forker, who became engaged to the millionaire automobile manufacturer when as a machinist's helper in the railroad shops at Ellis, Kas., he was earning only $1.50 a day. Her father was the town's leading merchant.

Chrysler often said in later years there was no one in the world like Della, whom he married June 6, 1901, when he was 26.

The Chryslers began their married life in Salt Lake City, Utah, with $60, as Chrysler liked to recall. He then was working ten hours a day as a railroad mechanic.

Enters Auto Field in 1906.

Chrysler many times said his wife always submitted to his judgment in matters pertaining to his work. She often remarked she was willing to follow him anywhere and take his word that he was doing the right thing. That was true during his career as a railroad man and when he entered the then dubious field of automobile manufacturing. He joined the Buick organization in 1906.

Mrs. Chrysler is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Byron Foy, Mrs. Bernice Garbisch, and two sons, Walter P. Chrysler Jr. and Jack Chrysler.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Introspection

FATHER HARMON, FORMER PASTOR IN CHICAGO, DIES

The Rev. Thomas L. Harmon, former pastor of the Roman Catholic Annunciation church, died yesterday of a heart attack in St. Vincent's sanitarium, St. Louis. Illness caused by his world war service compelled him to leave his church and go to the sanitarium two years ago. He was 62 years old.

Father Harmon served two years as first lieutenant chaplain. During this time he was under fire for four months at St. Mihiel and the Meuse Argonne, winning a citation for courage. He was the first priest in Chicago to volunteer his services.

Funeral services will be held in the church at 1650 North Paulina street at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Surviving are four brothers and three sisters. They are William R., and Matthew A., Alexander J. and George S. Harmon of Los Angeles; Mrs. W. L. Eck, Mrs. R. F. Cone, and Mrs. A. J. McCauley of St. Louis.

QUESTION SMITH TODAY ON BIDS FOR PAVING JOBS

F. Lynden Smith, state director of public works, will appear in the United States courthouse today for questioning in connection with the Cook county road contract investigation being conducted by United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe. He will be accompanied by G. H. Baker of the state highway department and both will be questioned by Assistant United States District Attorney Warren Canaday.

Smith, who was campaign manager for Gov. Horner's state ticket at the April primaries, rejected original bids on a group of highway contracts. The second bids were $472,000 lower. Mr. Igoe also is investigating the possible misuse of federal funds in the primary campaign.

In Springfield yesterday, Gov. Horner scoffed at hints that rejection of the first bids was politically motivated.

"I don't understand it," he said. "I think Smith should be commended for saving Cook county all that money on the contracts."

GEORGE MAYER DIES SUDDENLY AT WAUKEGAN

George Mayer, prominent in politics and Jewish fraternal affairs for many years, died suddenly yesterday in his home, 414 Gillett avenue, Waukegan. He was 68 years old. He complained of feeling ill on his arrival at home, and fell dead in the bathroom a few minutes later, presumably of a heart attack.

Mr. Mayer was an international director of B'nai Brith, and a former auditor under two Cook county treasurers. He was once a candidate for congress from the First district, and for ten years was a member and formerly vice chairman of the Lake county Democratic central committee until his retirement last April. At the time of his death he was chief investigator in Lake and McHenry counties for the state department of finance.

He leaves his widow, Stella, and four children.

Ada Leonard Recovering; and There'll Be No Scar

Miss Ada Leonard, a strip tease dancer, was reported yesterday well on the road to recovery, her body still unblemished. Rather than face her audiences with a scar, Miss Leonard refused to undergo an operation when stricken with appendicitis. Taken to the Grant hospital, her appendix burst and peritonitis developed. Blood transfusions saved her life.

Couple Divorced by Court, Then Before Three Rabbis

Her husband, Abrahara, was a Romeo despite his 68 years, Mrs. Bertha Dubin, 5428 North Kimball avenue, told Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday. She was granted a divorce on a charge of desertion. After the civil hearing the couple was divorced in a religious ceremony before three rabbis. Mrs. Dubin was represented by Attorney Harry X. Cole.

Mitchell, Ind., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Two pretty sets of twins, who have identical names, but are not related, met for the first time here recently. They are Martha and Mary Johnson of Mitchell and Martha and Mary Johnson of Crawfordsville, Ind. Each Martha is a few minutes older and heavier than each Mary. Each pair lives on Main street in their respective towns. The Crawfordsville twins saw the names of their Mitchell namesakes in a newspaper and came here to visit them.

Coast Guard Buys Site for New Radio Station

The Chicago coast guard will build a new radio station this fall west of Northbrook, Ill. It will replace the present communications plant in Wilmette Harbor. Assistant United States District Attorney David H. Neuman yesterday closed a deal with the Lake Shore Trust & Savings bank as trustee, whereby it deeded a tract of twenty-seven acres of land on Dundee road near Waukegan road to the government for $6,750. The new plant, which is to be financed by the Public Works administration is to cost $126,750.

A Bargeload of Cloth Arrives from South

A bargeload of denim, to be made into 44,000 work shirts and pants by the Works Progress administration, arrived yesterday at the Federal Barge line docks, 2905 South Western avenue, from New Orleans. It is said to be the first textile cargo shipped through the Illinois waterway. The 221 bales contain 300,000 yards of cloth.

Report Due Sept. 30

A four man engineering board yesterday began a survey to determine if Chicago's proposed subways are "socially desirable" and adequate. They will report on or before Sept. 30 to Harold L. Ickes, public works administrator, on the advisability of granting $14,328,000 in federal funds toward the $31,840,000 project.

Establishing offices in the Civic Opera building, they began by reviewing transit modernization plans and past subway proposals. Members are Col. Henry M. Waite of Cincinnati, O., former first assistant PWA director; Joshua D'Esposito of Chicago, Robert Ridgway and Henry M. Brinckerhoff of New York.

The extent to which the proposed subways would render real service to Chicago transit patrons will be stressed, Col. Waite said. The survey also will determine whether it can be completed within the allotted time.

PYTHIANS HEAR FRATERNALISM IN U. S. EXTOLED

An explanation of fraternalism as the balance wheel of the nation was made yesterday at the opening session of the Knights of Pythias' biennial convention in the Morrison hotel. Addressing 250 delegates, who represent 3,000,000 members, Fred H. Jones of Los Angeles, supreme chancellor, asserted that the absence of greed and avarice in America may be traced to fraternal orders.

"The whole purpose of fraternalism is brotherhood," he said. "Selfishness has no place in it. Most men in public life belong to a fraternal order and what they have learned in its rituals they put into practice publicly."

The women's auxiliary of the order, known as the Pythian Sisters, is meeting in the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Elizabeth Hoyt of Chicago is chief. Both conventions will continue until Saturday.

Modjeska's Great Grandson to Wed Stricken Girl

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Ralph B. Modjeski, 25 years old, great-grandson of the late Helena Modjeska, famous Shakespearean actress, appeared alone today at the county clerk's office to apply for a license to marry Miss Mary Enid Mills, 26 years old. He was alone because Miss Mills was at home, too ill to accompany him. Neither will there be a honeymoon for the present, Modjeski said, because Miss Mills must go to a sanitarium for six months. The date for the marriage, which probably will be performed at her bedside, has not been fixed.

HOLD FUNERAL OF EX-GOV. FIFER AT BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Illinois leaders were among the crowd that attended the funeral of former Gov. Joseph W. Fifer here this afternoon. Among them were Gov. Henry Horner, former Senator Otis F. Glenn, Justice Clyde E. Stone, former Gov. Charles S. Deneen, and Congressman Scott Lucas.

The body lay in state, the coffin flag draped, at the family home until the funeral hour. Brief services at the residence were followed by rites at the Unitarian church. The Rev. Rudolph W. Gilbert paid tribute to the public services of the civil war veteran, 97 years old.

Members of the American Legion formed an honor guard at the home and at the church and conducted military rites at the grave in Park Hill cemetery.

STATE TO LAUNCH ITS LOCAL RELIEF QUIZ AT PEORIA

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission on Wednesday will begin a series of investigations of local relief administrations with a review of the situation in Peoria, it was disclosed yesterday. The purpose is to eliminate persons not entitled to relief.

In a review of the 7,983 cases on the rolls of seventeen downstate relief units last April the IERC recommended that 2,143, or 27 per cent, be closed because the clients were not eligible. It was presumed that similar reductions could be effected in more of the 1,454 local administrations receiving state relief funds.

IERC field staf workers did all the work in past reviews. Now, however, the local units will supply the staf and the IERC the supervisors.

FIND LINCOLN'S APPLICATION TO PATENT A BOAT

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—From a long unopened safe investigators today removed evidence that Abraham Lincoln, tried, 89 years ago, to patent an invention for assisting steamboats through shallow river waters.

The safe, once the property of the United States patent office but now owned by Crosby Gaige and Douglas C. Hertz, was opened by Locksmith Charles Courtney. Inside was a printed application for a patent, filed March 10, 1849, and signed A. Lincoln, Springfield, Ill. Lincoln's idea was to fit river boats with pontoons which would lift the vessels over bars or through shallow water without discharging their cargo.

CUT YOUR WEEDS OR FACE $100 FINE, CITIZENS WARNED

IF YOU CAN'T HEAR BOSS BARK, MAYBE YOUR BITE'S BAD

Are you having trouble hearing? Do you appear to be going deaf? Perhaps it's because your teeth are biting imperfectly. In the current issue of the Journal of the American Dental association this cause of some deafness is advanced by Dr. Oscar V. Batson of the University of Pennsylvania.

Sufficient clinical evidence is at hand, Dr. Batson asserted, to indicate that malocclusion [imperfect biting] can be the cause of deafness. Incorrect chewing, he said, often disarranges the regular opening of the Eustachian tubes which control air pressure in the middle ear.

COURT DECISION LEAVES FARMER WITH TWO WIVES

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—As the result of a decision today by Circuit Judge Loren E. Murphy, George Hartsook, 52 years old, former Maquon farmer and heir to a $40,000 estate there, finds he has two wives.

The decision was in a divorce suit filed in April, 1937, by Marie Hartsook, whom George married twenty-six years ago. As his defense Hartsook said he obtained an Arkansas divorce on July 6, 1937. Last October Hartsook married Gertrude Walker.

Judge Murphy ruled today that the Arkansas decree was not valid because Hartsook did not have a bona fide residence in that state.

Dunham Woods Horse Show to Be Held Sept. 11

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE men in charge of the seventh annual Dunham Woods Riding club horse show are planning several unusual features that undoubtedly will be highly entertaining to the hundreds of spectators. The novelty classes in the program of nineteen classes will be side saddle, hackney, and bareback costume jumping.

The show is to be given on the morning and afternoon of Sunday, Sept. 11, at the club in Wayne and, as usual, the proceeds will go to the Wayne fire department. There will be a horse show ball at the club on the night preceding the show. Raymond Otis Mitchell is chairman of the show committee and his co-workers are Groverman Ellis, Charles R. Lindsay III., John Dole, Arthur Farwell, Jesse Burt, and Lewis DeMartelly.

Mrs. Dole, Mrs. Montgomery Orr, and Miss Sally Sitterly are assisting the men of the committee in planning the show and the ball. Mrs. Dole, as chairman of the entertainment committee of the club, is busy with plans for this Saturday's party, a water carnival and dinner-dance around the big outdoor swimming pool. Leonid Remisoff and Ray Johns are in charge of the swimming and diving exhibitions.

E. Cummings Parkers Are Parents of Twins.

The nursery that Mr. and Mrs. E. Cummings Parker have been preparing in their north side apartment will have two occupants instead of one. At St. Luke's hospital yesterday Mrs. Parker, the former Caryl Bloomingston, became the mother of twin sons. The babies are the first grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bloomingston and of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Parker. No names have been decided upon for the twins, whose father always is called Ted.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas K. Huntress [Betty Ashcraft] are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, a boy, on Saturday at the Chicago Memorial hospital. The baby will be named for his father. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Ashcraft are the infant's maternal grandparents. His paternal grandmother, Mrs. Marjorie Huntress, is here from Washington., D. C.

After Sept. 1 young Douglas will be at home in the nursery of the house his parents have been remodeling at 50th street and Ellis avenue, about a block from Mrs. Huntress' parents' home.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins to Return Tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Watkins are arriving at home tomorrow after a week's visit with Mrs. J. Ogden Armour at The Timbers, her home near Traverse City, Mich.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Small have gone to their summer home in Canada to stay until Sept. 1.

Walter Frazier is leaving Friday to spend two weeks with the John R. Winterbothams in their new house in Bermuda.

Mrs. Chauncey Keep Hutchins will go east next month to be a bridesmaid at the wedding on Sept. 23 at Brookline, Mass., of Miss Margaret Hardwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Hardwick of Brookline. Miss Hardwick will be married to Edward Ball Simmons of Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. G. Corson Ellis and two of her four sons, David and Billy, are

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[Tribune Studio Photo.]

Before you set bravely forth in bathing suit or shorts survey the condition of your legs. If the skin needs grooming, soften and scrub it until it will pass inspection.

It takes the bathing suit season to make a lot of women realize that there is and should be such a thing as leg grooming. You'd think, from their surprise when they see how peculiar their legs look beneath a bathing suit, that they just hadn't been aware of those underpinnings the rest of the year. Stockings cover a multitude of deficiencies.

There are varicose veins, for instance. We're asked every day what can be done about them. The answer: Medical attention. Their correction is a medical, not a beauty problem. The lightest of the marks can be covered with waterproof makeup. But we warn you that you mustn't expect miracles in the way of concealment.

Then there is the eternal problem of superfluous hair. Many women use the razor, more use depilatories. In either case, you should remember you're starting something you must be prepared to keep up. Several salons are giving wax treatments which keep the legs free of down for periods of varying length, depending on the heaviness of the growth. And speaking of wax, we are of the opinion that deft professional applications are by far the best. Waxes are preparations which call for expert, precisely timed application and removal. If you try the job yourself, and bungle it, you are in a mess.

Rough skin on the legs is one of the easiest conditions to correct. Use cream to soften, loofah or stiff brush for friction when you bathe, and then more cream or skin oil. Soften, scrub, and soften some more. Do it daily; the goosefleshy skin will be transformed in a week.

Artists' Union to Hold Mexican Market Friday

A parking lot at 118 East Pearson street will be converted into an open air Mexican market Friday night for a benefit sponsored by the Artitsts' Union of Chicago. Mexican music, dances, crafts, and food will prevail. Booths will house paintings of Mexican scenes by Chicago artists. Robert Wolff is president of the union, which has about 300 members.

WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Jane Louise Chilcott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Chilcott of 1337 Fargo avenue, to James Stafford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stafford of Altadena, Cal., will take place on Aug. 20 in California. Mrs. Chilcott has left for the west coast for her daughter's wedding. Dr. Chilcott, who is in Colorado, also will be present. Mr. Stafford and his bride will live in Temple City, Cal.

Days of Liszt Brought to Life by Rosenthal

BY CECIL SMITH.

Fifty years of musical history were brought to life at Grant park last evening, in one of the most picturesque and affecting concerts ever given there. Moriz Rosenthal, who at 76 can look back with pride over an active concert career of fifty years in Europe and America, made his bow before the vast and appreciative Grant park audience, in the company of Hans Lange and the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Mr. Rosenthal's long life has brought many rich experiences and many honors. His first two piano teachers were both first hand pupils of Chopin, and he himself studied for nine years with Franz Liszt. He knew Brahms and Rubenstein and a host of other nineteenth century celebrities who to us youngsters are no more than the stuffed shirt personages of musical history textbooks. He played in all the great halls and salons of Europe, and he was appointed court pianist to Emperor Franz Josef of Austria.

Yet probably nothing he has ever done in a single evening has ever enkindled the imagination of so many people as his concert in Grant park last night. When he sat down, after the printed program was all over, to play the Chopin-Liszt "Chant Polonais" he opened for these thousands a vista of the wistfulness and tender sentiment of romantic music the like of which most of them never had seen before and never may see again. The gentleness, the suppleness, and yet the manliness of his playing carried the audience far away from the steely precision of modern pianism, back to a day when hearts were full and sentiment was recognized as a necessity to art.

In this encore, and in his two earlier pieces, Liszt's "Hungarian Fantasy" and his own "Carnival on Themes by Johann Strauss," one did not bother to look for technical perfection. It was not there, to be sure, for time has diminished the rapidity of his scales and the clarity of his passage work. But such defects recede from sight, completely overshadowed by the nobility of his musical thought and the authority with which he transplants into our own time the pristine greenness of the music of his own young manhood.

The park district honored Mr. Rosenthal in presenting him before this vast and eager audience, and in so doing honored itself immeasurably.

The contributions of Mr. Lange and the orchestra were Berlioz' early overture, "The Corsair"; Beethoven's Second symphony; Albert Noelte's skilfully scored Suite for Strings and Kettledrum; the Polonaise from Tschaikowsky's "Eugen Onegin," and the overture to Rossini's "Semiramide."

The orchestra found a better stride than in its two previous Grant park concerts.

Frederick Stock Returns from European Vacation

Dr. Frederick A. Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has returned to Chicago after two months in Europe. In the course of his vacation Dr. Stock visited Germany and England, and talked with various composers about the possibility of composing scores for the fiftieth anniversary of the orchestra in 1940. In a few days he will go to his summer home at Ephriam, Wis.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

The World Is Full of Corrigans

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 8.—Young Corrigan meant to fly to the west coast and landed in Ireland. That's his story and he has stuck to it. . . . History always has been made by the "Corrigans" of the world. . . . First voice teacher of Enrico Caruso told him to give up singing, that he didn't have a chance. . . . First girl that John D. Rockefeller Sr. courted turned him down flat because her mother didn't want the daughter to waste herself on a chap who didn't have a bankroll. . . . They didn't discover, until it was opened, that Pittsburgh's magnificent United States postoffice didn't have a mail chute. . . . New York City built an upper deck to the 59th street bridge, didn't discover until the first cars started across that the track was too narrow. . . . It took hours to pry the cars loose. . . . Drake university alumni had an ivy chain procession around the campus; learned a few hours later that some "Corrigan" had made it of poison ivy. . . . Jack Benny was fired from a radio program because the sponsor's wife preferred organ music.

Eddie Cantor rushed into a banquet at the Hotel Pennsylvania and insisted that he'd have to go on right away as he had an important date uptown. . . . Cantor panicked them for thirty minutes and then learned that he had gone to the wrong ballroom. . . . The benefit he was supposed to play was on the third floor. . . . No New York producer would bankroll "Street Scene." . . . William A. Brady finally took a chance, made millions with it. . . . Ann Nichols couldn't persuade any Broadway producer to buy a half interest in "Abie's Irish Rose" for $2,500. . . . It made $2,500,000. . . . Warner's turned loose Loretta Young, Myrna Loy, Ginger Rogers, and Clark Gable on the grounds they had no future. . . . Universal thumbed out Bette Davis. . . . M.-G.-M. canceled a contract they had on Deanna Durbin. . . . The woods are full of Corrigans.

NBC listened to Edgar Bergen's routine with Charlie McCarthy in an audition and told him that there was no place in radio for a ventriloquist. The Shuberts engaged Argentina, "Follies" in Philadelphia, the week before it opened on Broadway. . . . The Shuberts engaged Argentinta, Spanish dancer, for "International Revue," paying a tremendous sum to bring her to this country. On arrival, they were shocked to find that she was fat and elderly. To break the contract they made her do her dance before the orchestra played the overture. She stuck it out, and they finally had to pay her off in full. . . . Fredric March changed his name from Bickel, because he didn't want to embarrass the family. Now the family wishes he had made the Bickel tag internationally famous.

In 1908, the Giants lost the National league pennant because Fred Merkle forgot to continue to second base. . . . Neither Charles Laughton nor Clark Gable wanted to play the leading rôles in "Mutiny on the Bounty." They were so sure it would be a flop. . . . Fred Astaire, after his first picture, "Flying Down to Rio," begged Pandro Berman not to release it and offered to buy off his contract. . . . Buddy De Sylva, Lew Brown, and Lew Henderson were so ashamed of the maudlin sentiment of "Sonny Boy" that they persuaded Bobby Crawford not to print their names on the title sheet of the song. It sold more copies than any other song they ever wrote. . . . When Sol Wurtzel, years ago, told Warner Oland of his idea for the Charles Chan series, Oland ridiculed the proposition—on the ground that a Swede couldn't play a Chinese rôle. . . . Roy Riegels became famous by running backward in a football game. . . . The All-Americans of his year are forgotten. . . . Riegels is still famous.

Gov. Lehman, New York Democrat, appointed Thomas Dewey as New York special investigator. Dewey crushed the New York Democratic party by his investigation. . . . C-O-Double R-I-G-A-N spells Corrigan. Yes, sir. . . . Is everybody happy? . . . When they built the famous Music Box theater in New York they discovered they'd forgotten to install a box office. . . . Will Rogers, as a sentimental gesture, took over Fred Stone's rôle on Broadway when Stone broke both his legs. Producer C. B. Dillingham was delighted until he learned that Rogers insisted on $7,500 a week, instead of Stone's $5,000 a week salary. . . . United States government munitions experts rejected the Browning machine gun. We had to pay a fortune to get it back.

In the Olympic games, the American coaches told Ted Meredith to go out and set a blazing pace in the 800 meters so that the foreign entries would fold up and permit Mel Sheppard, United States middle distance star, to win. Meredith set such a blaz-

Be Sure to Learn Whether You Can Save—with the New Metropolitan Telephone Service

People who make frequent calls to near-by places should learn all about the new Metropolitan Telephone Service, which brings reductions on calls within the "Metropolitan Telephone Service Area" to points where the initial rate is not more than 15c.

In general, under Metropolitan Service, 5c calls within the "Metropolitan Area" are reduced to 4c, 10c calls to 8c, and 15c calls to 12c. When the number of calls reaches a certain point each month, still further reductions apply.

Tenderfoot's Inheritance

By Marie De Nervaud

SYNOPSIS.

Jobless, Anne Claxton leaves New York to make a living on the ranch she has inherited in Wyoming. She refuses the last minute proposal of her city beau, Gerald.

INSTALMENT II.

AN ACCIDENTAL MEETING.

Anne had a frantic desire to run after the retreating train, to call out to the train passengers on the observation platform to take her with them, but with determined courage she conquered her panic. She walked over to the station to take stock of her position.

Why hadn't some one come to meet her? Was it possible her wire to Mr. Jennings hadn't reached him?

A quarter of a mile or so away the town spread its straggling length across the mesa. Anne was on the point of deciding to leave her bags and trunk where they were, and walk down to it, when a tiny cloud of dust at the end of the road gradually spread. She saw a horseman coming full speed toward her.

She walked to the edge of the platform to meet him, her heart beating fast with the excitement of this first encounter with one of the men of the "great open spaces."

It was undoubtedly Mr. Jennings. From the pace he was setting, he was doing his best to make up for lost time.

A few seconds more, and the rider pulled his horse to a halt. He swung out of the saddle, and came over to her.

She'd imagined Mr. Jennings would be a much older man, somehow! Why, he couldn't be more than twenty-five!

She noted the wavy black hair as he pulled off his broad brimmed Stetson, and the surprisingly blue eyes deep set under heavy dark brows. They were nice masculine blue eyes. He had a swift grin that lighted his face into humorous, attractive expression. She noted, too, the grace of his tall, rangy figure as he stepped toward her.

He apparently was as astonished to find Anne as she was to see him. He gazed incredulously at the slender figure on the platform in the trim blue traveling suit, her smart hat slanted to one side at just the proper angle to display gleaming golden hair that curled distractingly over a pink ear.

"Jumping Geehosephat!" His voice was low, but held that same sense of reserved power that his walk suggested. "You're not my aunt!"

Anne laughed at this unexpected greeting.

"Did you expect me to be?"

He joined in her laughter, a sudden deep chuckle.

"Sure I did! She was scheduled to arrive on this train, and was I scared about being late! Whew!"

"Then you're not Mr. W. F. Jennings, of Red Butte?" Anne asked.

"I'll say I'm not! Wait till you see him! If you were a man I'd have to shoot you up for that! But look here!" A sudden illuminating discovery spread over his face. "You're not Old Man Claxton's niece, are you?"

Anne nodded.

He let out a long, low whistle, and a perplexed line creased his forehead. He studied Anne again. He seemed at a loss for a moment to know just what to say, then abruptly asked, "Is it true that you're planning to live at the X Bar Nine?"

Anne nodded again. "I hope I can make a success of it. I've a lot to learn, I know. As long as your aunt hasn't come," Anne went on, "I wonder if you'd mind riding back to town and telling Mr. Jennings I'm here? There doesn't seem to be anybody about the station."

"Zeke's drunk again, more than likely." He stated this not so much as an item of news, but as an occurrence to be taken for granted. "Did you wire Bill Jennings you were coming?"

"Yes, but perhaps he didn't get the wire."

"Perhaps." There was no conviction in the stranger's tone. "I'd be glad to ride back for you, but I happen to know Bill Jennings isn't there. He's off for a couple of days at the Triangle Three."

"O!" Anne's yellow brown eyes widened at this distressing and unexpected piece of news. W. F. Jennings was her only point of contact with this strange country. "Well—I—couldn't I telephone to him?"

The stranger's swift grin lighted up his worried expression. "Telephones don't reach that far out into the mesa," he explained with a friendly chuckle, "but I'll be glad to ride out and tell him you've arrived. You can spend the night at the hotel. It's not much to boast of, but it's clean."

"O!" Anne's exclamation held a disappointed note. "You mean—you mean you couldn't leave right away to get him?"

"Sure I can, as soon as I arrange for some one to meet my aunt. She'll probably arrive on the next train."

"Well, then, couldn't he come back with you?" Anne raised inquiring eyes to his, adding apologetically, "I don't want to hurry you, but it is important for me to see him as soon as possible. I'd rather go right out to my ranch than spend the night at the hotel. You see——" Pride stopped her abruptly. What was it about this man that made her feel so confidently at ease that she'd actually been on the point of confessing that she didn't want to spend the money for a hotel?

"I'm afraid not," he shook his head with kindly amusement at her tenderfoot suggestion. "I might have to scout around a bit to find him when I got there. It's a matter of forty miles or so to the Triangle Three."

"Forty miles!" Anne echoed with a gasp of dismay. "Why, I wouldn't dream of asking you to ride forty—eighty miles for me! I—I'll stay at the hotel, of course. I suppose—I suppose it wouldn't be just the thing to go out to the ranch until after I've seen Mr. Jennings?"

"Decidedly not!" Anne was startled by the abrupt finality with which he met her suggestion. "Look here! Why don't you come up to the hotel now and have a bite of lunch, and we'll talk this whole thing over? Maybe I can throw some light on the situation." As Anne hesitated, he added, with an apologetic laugh, "Gosh! I'm clean forgetting my manners! Knowing who you were, I just kind of took it for granted you knew who I was. I'm Steve Hayward, owner of the Flying Five, your neighbor on the south."

Anne responded to this piece of news with heightened color. "Why, then, you're the one who wanted to buy my ranch!"

"Not by a long shot!" he declared fervently. "I've got all I can do riding my own mortgages! It's Jake Collins, of the Triangle Three, who wants to buy you out."

"The Triangle Three!" Anne echoed. "That's where you said Mr. Jennings had gone!"

"Yes." There was an ominous undercurrent to the admission. "That's why I figured it would be a good idea for you to have lunch with me, and let me tell you a thing or two about the lay of the land. How about it?"

Anne impulsively allowed her instinct to guide her. She smiled her acceptance. "That's awfully good of you," she looked straight into his eyes, with a friendly directness and liking that was utterly devoid of coquetry. "I would like to know anything you can tell me about the ranch."

A few minutes later, an old car appeared in the distance, careening down the road toward her.

"Not much of a bus," he observed cheerfully, as he loaded her bags into the back seat, "but I picked up the first one I came to."

"Who does it belong to?" Anne asked, as he helped her into the front seat.

Four Aces Swamp Foes in 54 Boards; End Bridge Tourney

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The four aces—Oswald Jacoby, David Burnstine, Howard Schenken, B. Jay Becker, and M. D. Maier of New York—brought an early windup to the national contract bridge championship today. They piled up the huge score of 9,900 points for 54 boards of play against Fred D. Kaplan, A. M. Barnes, Charles Lochridge, and Morrie Ellis, also of New York.

The match was scheduled for 72 boards, but with only eighteen hands to play the Kaplan team conceded the match. To win would have required an average plus score of 550 points for each remaining board, an almost impossible feat.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

As a general rule, it is wise to consider carefully one's follow suit play even at the possible cost of giving information to the enemy. The average player's conception seems to be that in the matter of covering or not covering honors, for example, decisions must be instantaneous, whether they be right or wrong. This usually is not the case. Only when it is apparent that declarer has a choice of finessing or playing for a drop, or a guess for a two way finesse, is it vital to keep him in the dark.

There are, however, other instances in which a second's hesitation is fatal. The situation in today's hand illustrates one of these.

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 3 hearts | Pass | 3 no trump | Pass |
| 4 hearts | Pass | Pass | Pass |

The bidding was quite orthodox. South, with a solid suit missing only the ace and a total of eight winners, correctly started with a three bid. North, with one-plus honor trick, had a choice between raising the hearts and bidding three no trump. The doubleton spade made a raise somewhat tempting but, as against that, North's trump support was under par. And, as North reasoned, South always could go to four hearts over three no trump but could not go back to three no trump if North raised to four hearts.

West opened the spade king. Declarer, without the flicker of an eyelash, played the seven spot from his own hand, carefully "holding out" the deuce. West looked a long time at his partner's three spot. Obviously, he considered shifting to trumps but finally continued with the spade queen. Now, of course, declarer swooped down with the ace and promptly ruffed his spade deuce. He then knocked out the heart ace and finally conceded a diamond trick for a total loss of only three tricks.

It must not be thought that I am defending West's line of defense, nor excusing his failure to shift to a trump after holding the first spade trick. The fact that he was "missing" the deuce of spades, and that partner might have that card, hardly could carry weight in this hand. It was inconceivable that East originally had started with only the three and deuce of spades, or that he might be calling for a continuation. From West's point of view, the bidding and the cards in sight in dummy strongly suggested that the best chance of defeating the contract lay through cashing at least two spade tricks. If, by any chance, East had the spade ace, it almost certainly would "keep," but the pressing danger was that declarer had the ace and was laying off in order to grab the second spade trick and ruff a third round.

Later, West feebly argued that he had been afraid to shift to hearts because he might "put East in the middle" with a high trump honor. This statement, which is heard so often in average circles, rarely has any basis in logic.

Dummy had an entry, the diamond ace, and two trumps. If declarer had a trump finesse to take he always would be able to take it of his own volition and, thus, West could not put his partner in the middle unless he were already there. Obviously, a shift to trumps at the second trick would have let East clean out dummy's potential ruffers, and declarer would have found himself with two unavoidable spade losers in addition to the diamond and heart tricks he actually lost.

leaving on Aug. 20 for Desbarats, Ont., to be away until Sept. 10. Mr. Ellis will join them for Labor day. Their other sons, Thorne and Corson, are at camp at Timagami in Ontario, Canada.

Robert M. Hutchinses In Bermuda for Month.

Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, and Mrs. Hutchins are spending a month's vacation in Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Strawn and their daughter, Louise, are leaving tomorrow to visit Mrs. Strawn's sister, Mrs. De Forest Hulburd, at her island lodge at Crabb Lake, Wis. They will be away for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Seipp will return in two weeks from a vacation at the Seigniory club in Quebec, Canada.

Some California notes: Shepard Vogelgesang, who is in charge of the color design for the San Francisco exposition, went from San Francisco to Montecito for the week-end to be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Bissell, who gave a luncheon for him Sunday.

The Wallace Kirks and her son and daughter-in-law, the Samuel Culbertsons, have taken one of the guest cottages at the Valley club for the rest of the summer. Mrs. Allen L. Withers and her daughter, Miss Allene Withers, former Winnetkans, have arrived from Pasadena at the San Ysidro ranch for the rest of the summer. Miss Withers returned recently from Europe.

At the Biltmore in Santa Barbara are the Robert J. Dunhams, Mrs. Ralph M. Shaw, Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, and the Le Roy W. Fullers. The Clarence B. Mitchells have left their Hope ranch home for a trip to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King left Saturday for their home in Santa Barbara, Cal. They will be away until Sept. 1.

Yager-Smith Nuptials Take Place in New York.

The wedding of Miss Helen Genevieve Smith, daughter of Mrs. James A. Smith of 390 Riverside drive, New York, formerly of Yonkers, N. Y., and the late Mr. Smith, to Dr. Francis Montgomery Yager of Evanston, son of Frank F. Yager of Chicago and the late Mrs. Yager, took place yesterday in the Broadway Presbyterian church in New York. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Ambassador hotel in New York.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy of Lake Forest, Mrs. Warren Shoemaker of Hubbard Woods, and Mrs. Mark Cresap of Winnetka will go to Lake Geneva Friday to judge the flower exhibits in the midsummer show of flowers, fruits, and vegetables. The show is sponsored by the Lake Geneva Garden club and the Lake Geneva Gardeners and Foremen's association.

The show will be open on Friday from 1 to 10 o'clock and on Saturday from 9 in the morning until 5 o'clock, central standard time.

Mrs. Stallwood MacChesney, who is spending the summer in Lake Forest, has cards out for a luncheon and bridge party next Tuesday at the Knollwood club.

For Your Late Vacation

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

Are you taking a belated vacation this year? If you are, or want a lightweight dress for the first fall days, you will have use for this pattern, which creates a simple frock with heart shaped neckline. The puffed sleeves echo the scalloped treatment. Under the yoke effect at the shoulders is enough shirring to lend attractive fullness to the bodice. The same grosgrain ribbon that trims the neckline and the sleeves is used for a simple belt. Patterned silks are especially suitable for this pattern, since its plain lines make prints an admirable foil.

If you prefer to use the pattern for a strictly autumn dress, then style it somewhat in the manner of the version sketched at the right. A soft black crêpe was selected for the original. The sleeves are lengthened and the belt is a wide affair tied with a bow. This is the sort of frock you can wear without embellishment of any kind, or you can dress it up with bright accessories. Remember that stern, unrelenting black is quite the style for fall.

Style No. 2762 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with 1⅞ yards of binding.

Eyes Deserve Lovely Frame of Groomed Brows, Lashes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Beautiful eyes deserve a frame to set them off. Yet how often does the average woman brush her eyebrows? How much attention does she give her eyelashes?

Think of the moving picture stars, with beautiful eyes. Sonja Henie, Greta Garbo, Claudette Colbert. All of them give their eyes an exquisite setting. Could they use them so eloquently and effectively if they were half concealed by straggling eyebrows? Imagine your favorite screen star with sparse eyelashes and pale eyebrows!

It is no longer fashionable to wear a thin penciled line for eyebrows, and it never was very beautiful. It robbed the face of character. But stray hairs should be plucked to accentuate the natural line of the brows. A space between eye and brow sets the eyes off with a margin. Nor should brows be allowed to meet in bushiness. A space between the eyebrows will make the eyes seem wider apart and the face lovelier.

Brushing the eyebrows daily will train them in the right direction and make them smooth and neat. Unless your hair is black or iron gray, don't darken your eyebrows to a startling black.

The growth of the eyelashes can be stimulated by putting on vaseline, odorless castor oil or special eyelash growing cream. This will help darken them, too. If you use mascara, apply it only to the lashes on the upper lids, or, if your lashes are very pale, very faintly to the lower lids.

Coloring on the lower lashes is likely to suggest dark circles and the years. Never let the lashes stick together.

You can purchase an eyelash curler nowadays, but in using it be careful not to pull the eyelashes out. Never cut eyelashes, believing it will encourage them to grow.

A film of cream or oil on the upper lids gives that most, dewy-eyed look. Eyeshadow should be applied lightly. It should grow fainter and fainter toward the nose to avoid making the eyes seem close together.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herbst of Los Angeles, Cal., announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa, to James Gerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Gerber of Wilmette. The wedding will take place in September.

Ire in Child May Be Prelude to Sickness

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

How have you felt today? Been sitting on top of the world?

But yesterday were you down in the dumps?

"And yet," do you say to yourself, "I don't know why?"

Children are only human and so have their ups and downs, too—their "off" days as well as their "on" days. But we who are parents are apt to expect our children to be absolutely even in their feelings, moods, reactions.

They can't be. Of course, a healthy child is usually sweet and sunny, but there are times when, for reasons we can't always discern, they may be fretful, irritable, or cry easily. The cause may be physical; it may be psychological. But we mustn't take it too hard if it's a rare thing.

However, this is a fact: That often what seems like ill temper or laziness is only the forerunner of a cold or some other illness. Children, especially small ones, are not conscious of low physical tone as grownups are.

We, for instance, have had enough experience with bodily sensations to recognize certain ones as warnings—not necessarily as warnings of illness, but as nature's warning that we are overdoing or eating unwisely, or sleeping too little. And so we do something about it.

Not so with children. The onset of an illness is nothing they notice, or would know how to interpret if they did. So all we usually see is the result in their behavior. The experienced mother looks keenly at the child who, usually sunny or serene, acts up.

Time was when the butcher would throw in with the meat order a free piece of liver for the cat. He won't do it any more, indeed not! Every one who has access to the verbal or written advice of doctors and nutritionists knows now that liver is an extremely valuable food, and the demand for it has increased so greatly that the marketman couldn't possibly afford to give any away.

Liver can be cooked so that it is tender and delicious, and it can be cooked so that it chews like old shoe lether and doesn't taste much better.

Cooking at a low temperature is the rule. Liver may be cooked very quickly by frying or broiling, or it may be cooked by baking, braising or similar methods, for a longer period. But always the rule of moderate heat applies.

Scald lamb or pork liver before cooking it, but do nothing at all in the way of preliminary preparation to beef or calf liver.

Liver ranks higher than any other food as a source of iron. Pork liver is three times richer in this element than beef liver, but isn't used as often because its flavor seems less delicate. Calf liver is the choice for flavor and tenderness, but isn't as rich in iron as beef liver. Whatever the choice, liver in some form should be served frequently, particularly in families with children, or where some one in the group has tendencies toward anemia.

FRYING LIVER.

Liver will be cooked almost as soon as it is browned on each side. The pieces should be rolled in seasoned flour and placed in a small amount of fat in a frying pan, over moderate heat. After the meat has browned on both sides, turn down the heat and continue cooking for a minute or two. Calf liver is most often cooked by frying. Bacon is the usual accompaniment, as it supplies fat lacking in the liver itself.

DEEP FAT FRIED LIVER.

Cut the liver into cubes or into long, thin strips. Marinate in well seasoned French dressing for 15 minutes. Dip in egg and crums, and fry in deep fat heated to 350 degrees [note that this is a lower than usual deep fat temperature] only until brown.

BROILED LIVER.

The liver should be sliced a half to three-fourths inch thick. Dip the pieces in melted butter and broil only long enough to change color of the meat. This will be about three minutes to a side. Use a moderate, not a high, heat in the broiling unit.

BRAISED LIVER.

Roll each slice in seasoned flour and brown in a small amount of fat. Cover the pan, turn the heat low, and cook until the liver is tender. This method is best for liver from older animals.

If liver is to be ground or chopped for use in patties or a loaf, it's well to drop it into boiling water and let it simmer [not boil] for about three minutes, in order that the grinding may be easier. If moisture is needed in the liver dish, the water in which the organ is precooked may supply it, so that no nutritive properties are lost. Liver loaf is one of the finest dishes prepared from this most precious meat.

The Housewife

In the summer it's convenient to have several bedspreads that will tub well so that you can have a fresh, immaculate one on the bed all the time. What could be nicer than spreads of seersucker, for you never have to iron this material?

We discovered a simple but well made spread with a single ruffle as finish in this fabric. The colors available are charming: light yellow, light green, clean pink, rust, and blue. And the cost is little. You could hardly get the material and make this spread for less.

Plaids Take Lead in Fall Fashion Parade

BY RHEA SEEGER.

That rage for Scotch plaids last season was a mere beginning. Evidently the sample was sufficiently potent, for new fall dresses, skirts, jackets and costume accessories, all made of giddy Scotch mixups, are already intoxicating the appreciative shopper out for something sure to revamp a dull wardrobe. Entire suits of authentic clan plaids are visible for blocks.

Dresses designed for college wardrobes will certainly highlight any sedate and dignified campus. Scarlet, bright green, blinding blues are used for background colors and the plaids cross them in abandoned splendor of yellow, white, jade green, and even magenta.

Nothing so gorgeously gaudy has been seen in years. Even the topcoats and double duty cravenetted raincoats use plaid wool as one-half of the general makeup. But it's the gay little one or two piece dresses that take the money.

There's something irrepressibly crisp and young to these criss-crossed plaid beauties that is useless to resist. If a few birthdays make you uncertain about such a dress, try the separate skirts of plaid. Cool the thing down with a white sweater and a dark jacket. Or try a fitted jacket of bright plaid and a dark skirt.

Dark or light colored fall suits will take a plaid blouse for a telling bit of Scotch zip. So will solid colored wool dresses use the Scotch influence of belt or even band trimming. Scarfs and even bags blazing with true Scotch touches should revive any otherwise dull ensemble.

Taffetas of plaid design are effective materials for dress blouse or lining for uplift of drab toned wardrobes. Greatcoats of gloriously bold plaid woolen winter fabrics will be seen the first good excuse. They're not only eye appealing, but the warmest outer layers to be found for spectator sport wear. Added to their visible glory is the fact that such woolens last a lifetime without a hint of their dateline.

Sally Seeks 100 Ardent Young McCarthy Fans

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Only two more days to go if you want to see Charlie McCarthy in his latest picture, boys and girls! Thursday's the deadline for all letters, you know, so get a move on if you want to be at the Palace with me on Aug. 18.

There will be 100 lucky boys and girls who'll come with me to see "A Letter of Introduction" and a stage show. I'm going to select my guests on Thursday, so if you haven't already written in for an invitation, better hop to it.

All you have to do is write a letter which will prove to me that you'd really have a good time if I should select you as one of my guests. You can tell me anything you like and in your own words. However, don't forget that you must give me your full name, address and age. Please do not ask for invitations for friends in your letter. If you know some one who wants to come, you may send your letters in together, but each child must earn his own invitation.

Minnesota Star Is 7 Under Par.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Miss Patricia Berg, the gifted young redhead from Minneapolis, indicated yesterday at the Butterfield Country club that she is becoming slightly weary of running second in the Derby of the Women's Western Golf association, longest medal play event in the world for gal swingers.

Patty Berg.

The stocky little girl who is rated one of the best competitors the game ever has seen, fired a blistering 73, seven strokes under par and only three above men's figures, in the first eighteen hole lap of the seventy-two hole event, which will be resumed with another eighteen today, followed by rounds of similar length tomorrow and Thursday.

For three years Patty has played grand golf in the Derby, but not quite good enough to catch one party—Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., who is seeking her fourth consecutive title in the current meet. The slim, dark haired Miss Miley was somewhat off her usual pace yesterday, settling for a par round of 80. In setting a tournament record of 309 while winning last year's race at Onwentsia, Marion was under par on each of her four rounds.

It's a Tournament Record.

No sooner had the champion finished than Patty, wearing a pair of rain slacks, dashed onto the green with a 36, 37 for the 73, which set a new record for a single round in the Derby, breaking her own 1937 mark of 74 in the second round at Onwentsia. It was one of the best medal scores ever submitted in a woman's tournament, the greater part of it being wrought under miserable weather conditions. It was a card to be compared favorably with the great 69 which Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, who defeated Miss Berg in last year's national final, scored in the North and South in Pinehurst last March.

The rain hampered the field considerably, but four players managed to break par, while two others equaled it. In addition to Miss Berg, rounds of 78 were turned in by Ellamae Williams of Medinah and Dorothy Traung of San Francisco. Edith Estabrooks, former Western junior titleholder from Dubuque, Ia., who played with Miss Berg, stayed very much in the running with a 79. Miss Miley's par of 80 was matched by Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City.

Three Shoot 82s.

The cards of the three leaders and Miss Miley follow:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Par—Out | 555 | 535 | 463—41 |
| Par—In | 535 | 453 | 545—39—80 |
| Miss Berg—Out | 354 | 434 | 562—36 |
| Miss Berg—In | 435 | 443 | 545—37—73 |
| Miss Williams—Out | 555 | 531 | 556—40 |
| Miss Williams—In | 535 | 452 | 545—38—78 |
| Miss Traung—Out | 455 | 525 | 562—39 |
| Miss Traung—In | 635 | 443 | 545—39—78 |
| Miss Miley—Out | 465 | 535 | 453—40 |

She Had Quite a Round.

Miss Berg's card included an eagle, six birdies, and one bogey. She holed a five yard chip shot for the eagle at the first, chipped up to four feet at the third, and then missed a ten foot try for another eagle at the fourth. A chip dead to the pin earned her another birdie at the sixth, after which she incurred her only bogey at the seventh, where she failed to connect with the green and then missed an eight foot putt for a par. She redeemed herself with a tee shot to within eighteen inches of the pin at the 150 yard ninth. Seven pars and two birdies disposed of the back nine. She holed a twelve footer at the tenth, and then put an eight iron five feet from the fourteenth flag and holed out for a four.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Patricia Berg, Minneapolis | 36 | 37 | 73 |
| Dorothy Traung, San Francisco | 39 | 39 | 78 |
| Ellamae Williams, Medinah | 40 | 38 | 78 |

BALA ORMONT IS TOO FAST FOR 2 HANDICAPPERS

Her Speed Ends Chances for $1,000 Prize.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The youngster was Bala Ormont, owned by the Louisville turf firm of Friedberg and Axton. She stepped home a half length in front of some of the fastest juveniles at the track to win from Layover from the W. C. Reichert stable of Belleville, Ill. Four lengths back of these two leaders came Range Dust, the favorite.

Range Dust had been a star in the shorter races for 2 year olds earlier in the season. The distance of the Matteson purse yesterday had been stretched to six furlongs, the first time the baby racers had been asked to go that distance at Washington Park this year.

Range Dust Has Early Speed.

Range Dust showed his usual high flight of early speed but Bala Ormont, a daughter of Ormont-Balata, began to do her running at the top of the stretch.

She soon mowed down Range Dust then went on in long even stride to shake off a challenge from Layover in the final half furlong.

Don Manners, a colt from King ranch in Texas, also showed great speed at the beginning of the struggle. He was racing along with Range Dust when suddenly he bolted to the outside fence. Bala Ormont was running directly behind him.

When he ran out Bala Ormont dashed through on the inside, saving considerable ground. She liked the extra half furlong so well that it is doubtful if this advantage had anything to do with the final outcome of the race.

A Scalawag to Two Persons.

To those who backed Bala Ormont and received $5.80 for each $2 wagered the Kentucky filly was the star of the day.

Two persons in the crowd, however, were willing to rate her as a scalawag.

They were the only two alive in the $1,000 amateur handicappers contest when the Matteson purse came along. Neither had selected Bala Ormont. One had picked Range Dust and the other La Gata, so both suffered as a result of Bala Ormont's stretch running ability.

The amateur handicappers dropped 6,896 sets of selections into the big red boxes before the first race was run. After the 15 to 1 shot, Orchids Next, won the first race, 372 still were alive. Cee Jane, at a $55 mutuel payoff, caused the greatest damage of the afternoon. Her victory hit 346 more of the budding handicappers.

Then Came Bala Ormont.

Five still were alive when the fourth race was run. Cloud D'Or's easy victory put three of them out of business. Then along came Bala Ormont.

Another excellent race on the program was the Thornton Claiming handicap. It engaged six top grade selling platers each valued at $4,000.

Victory went to the favorite Legenda which had been raced into a long lead by Jocky George South soon after the start. The daughter of Insco stayed out in front to win by two lengths despite the top weight of 118 pounds she carried.

Palamede put on one of his famous stretch drives, but it got him only second money. Rhiniz finished third. Legenda paid $6.20. Her mile in 1:38 4-5 was the fastest race of the afternoon.

Sox Just Can't Believe It; Only 1 Game Today

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox, as well as those who pay to get into Comiskey park, will be given a chance today to see what can be done by a new broom which is supposed to sweep clean. The Detroit Tigers will be present as visiting foes and they have a new manager, Del Baker, who was installed last Saturday evening because the club owner apparently didn't think Mike Cochrane had performed satisfactorily as a leader.

The series with the Tigers will be unusual, at least for the Sox, regardless of the outcome. It involves three games, all of which are slated for separate afternoons, so the Sox, having rested yesterday, might get the impression they are on another vacation.

The Boys Still Hope.

Against the four eastern teams which completed their visits here Sunday the Sox built up only five victories while losing ten decisions, but the first division desire still is rampant. The return of Jackie Hayes, regular second baseman, bolstered this thought. Hayes merely returned from his home in Alabama, but he was ordered not to come back until he was certain of the condition of the knee which was injured in Philadelphia several weeks ago. The fact that he is back indicates he may be playing again in less than a week and his presence in the lineup should improve the mid-infield defense.

There will be additional improvement in the infield as soon as Luke Appling, an excellent performer under ordinary conditions, discontinues worrying over the ankle he fractured during an exhibition with the Cubs in Los Angeles in March. Luke hasn't been performing regularly for much more than two weeks and the ankle probably is as strong as it ever was, but Luke fears to take chances.

Knott to Pitch Today.

For his pitching in the first of the series today Manager James Dykes promises to rely on Jack Knott, the ex-Brown, who has thrown some fairly good ball since getting on J. Louis Comiskey's pay roll. Vern Kennedy, ex-White Sox, will pitch for Detroit.

Don't Look Now, but Uncle Has Your Sweep Tickets

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 8.—[Special.] This little note is for the prospective purchasers of tickets on the Irish sweepstakes who may be wondering what has happened. The tickets, $2,500,000 worth, were confiscated by customs officers aboard the steamer Capulin today.

LAST MINUTE RETURNS SWAMP VOTE AUDITORS

Announce All-Star Staf Tomorrow.

BY ARCH WARD.

Harry Kipke, former player and coach at the University of Michigan, is the man to beat in the national coaches poll which ended at midnight Sunday.

Exclusive of returns which were filed to THE TRIBUNE last night too late to be included in today's standings, Kipke has a lead of 895,070 points over Bo McMillin of Indiana, who has received more votes than any other man in the history of the All-Star poll except Kipke.

The total number of first place votes in the coast to coast contest has reached the astonishing figure of 14,645,880. Tabulators were busy in a dozen centers all day yesterday handling the final returns. The complete standings will appear tomorrow morning.

They're Really Organized.

The tremendous total in this year's coaches' poll is attributable mainly to the organized efforts in behalf of Kipke and McMillin. The former Michigan leader has had the enthusiastic support of the great motor industries of Detroit some of which had their agents throughout the United States working in his behalf. Kipke's votes have come from all 48 states.

The rush of ballots for McMillin is the culmination of months of effort. His supporters at Indiana and in other centers where he has played or coached football had been quietly laying the groundwork for his campaign for three or four months.

More than 4,000,000 votes were reported to THE TRIBUNE between midnight Saturday and noon yesterday. In addition to the enormous returns for Kipke and McMillin, there were thousands for Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, Raymond Pond of Yale and A. J. Robertson of Bradley.

Four Appear Certain.

In at least four of the five positions on the All-Star staf the only uncertainty is the size of the vote. Kipke, McMillin, Layden and Pond have clinched places on the board. The fifth man will be either Robertson of Bradley or Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern. Robertson has a wide lead on first place votes, but the Northwestern gridiron chief has had strong support from McMillin and Layden boosters who marked their second or third choices for him.

The five winners will speak over the Mutual Broadcasting System at 8:15, Chicago time, tomorrow night. W-G-N will be the Chicago outlet. Pond will talk from WOR, Newark, and Kipke from WJR, Detroit. The others will broadcast from W-G-N. All will be in Chicago Friday to take charge of the squad of sixty-seven All-Stars for their game with the Washington Redskins, Aug. 31.

Fans Are Anxious.

Interest is so high in centers where the vote has been heavy that newspapers and radio stations are deluged with calls from fans inquiring how their candidates are faring. At Bloomington, Ind., clearing house for McMillin votes, and at Radio Station WJR, headquarters for the Kipke campaign, tabulators worked through the night Sunday to keep the figures up to date. More than 100 young men and women from Wayne university, the University of Detroit and other neighborhood schools are helping out in the Kipke counting room. The number of first place votes filed from Detroit for Kipke Sunday alone was 1,008,641.

The Peoria Journal Transcript, which has been aided by friends of the small colleges everywhere, turned in 88,634 first place votes Sunday for Robertson of Bradley. Other newspapers in central Illinois added substantially to Robertson's total.

Layden on Ballot.

The Fort Worth Star Telegram filed 14,900 votes for McMillin, who played high school football there. The Fort Wayne, Ind., Journal Gazette, which served as clearing center for north eastern Indiana, turned in 403,220 for McMillin. Layden, Waldorf and Pete Vaughan of Wabash shared the second and third places. Indiana alumni employed radio and voting booths in almost every town and hamlet in

REVOLTA WINS ILLINOIS P. G. A. TITLE WITH 137

Metz Is Second, Stroke Behind.

Johnny Revolta of Evanston won his third consecutive Illinois Professional Golf association title yesterday by shooting a 36 hole score of 69—68—137, eleven strokes under par, at the Bon-Air Country club.

Trailing by one stroke was Dick Metz of Mill Road farm, who carded a 68—70—138. Metz led the field by one stroke at the end of the morning eighteen holes with a 33—35—68.

Two members of Northmoor's staf, Ky Laffoon and Jack Grout, tied for third with respective scores of 71—70—141 and 74—67—141. In carding a 35—32—67 Grout tied the course record held by Tommy Armour of Medinah, who finished fifth with 73—71—144.

Putter Saves Johnny.

Revolta sprinkled ten birdies and an eagle along the 36 hole route. He was over par on only one hole, the ninth in the afternoon, where he took a 4, one over, missing a four foot putt.

After shooting a 33 on the first nine, Johnny reeled off nine straight pars to post a 69. He started off the afternoon round with a par and two consecutive birdies. He added four more birdies to finishe the round with a 68. His putting carried him to his third victory. On the 18 his 40 foot effort stopped on the lip of the cup and kept him from a 67. His card:

COCHRANE TAKES PLANE FOR WEST AND VACATION

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Still noncommittal, Mickey Cochrane, deposed manager of the Detroit Tigers, left the city today. Altering his plans, Cochrane departed by plane for Chicago on the first leg of a vacation trip to a Wyoming ranch. He had originally intended to leave tomorrow.

Whatever it might mean to Mickey, he is potentially eligible for Michigan unemployment insurance, the state unemployment compensation commission revealed in a statement today.

The Tigers have been paying a tax on the first $3,000 of Cochrane's reputed annual $45,000 salary and, under the law, he would be eligible for the maximum benefit check of $16 for sixteen weeks if he still is unemployed at the end of the baseball season.

Tourney Will Rank Boxers in Each Division

Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois athletic commission and his fellow commissioner, Sheldon Clark, yesterday announced plans to hold a continuous tournament in each of the eight weight divisions to bring out leading contenders for the various world championships and thus stimulate interest in boxing in the state.

Every boxer holding an Illinois license is eligible regardless where he comes from, be it New York, California, or Europe.

Commissioners Issue List.

The commissioners released a list of eighty-seven licensed boxers—three bantamweights, twenty-one featherweights, twenty lightweights, fourteen welterweights, ten middleweights, five light heavyweights, and fourteen heavyweights, including Joe Louis, who is listed from Michigan, though he has been living in Chicago more than three years.

The nominees weren't rated, the chairman explaining that if the candidates want a rating they will have to earn it by eliminating rivals.

The tournament will receive a trial in Marigold Gardens next Monday when four matches of eight rounds will be held.

These contests bring together Tommy Pallatin, South Bend, and Emil Joseph, Pittsburgh; Tommy Howell, Danville, and Eddie Helstrom, Chicago; Harvey Woods, St. Paul, and Johnny Helstrom, Chicago, and Alex Kettles, South Bend, and Harold Ullmer, Milwaukee.

Promoters will be furnished a list of candidates with the admonition that these fighters be used in preference to those not licensed in Illinois.

In this way the commission is expected to obtain new licensees, a move which will bring additional funds, inasmuch as each licensee must pay $5 to the state.

Release date of the first ratings has not yet been set.

The state commission has given flyweight title status to the contest between Jackie Jurich of California and Peter Kane of England in Liverpool next month. . . . Dr. Frank A. Lagorio, chief medical examiner for the Illinois commission, yesterday was taken to his summer home in Delavan, Wis., to recuperate from a knee operation. . . . The Missouri fight board has concurred in the suspension of those involved in the Jimmy Adamick-Jack Trammell fiasco on the west side June 8. . . . Tommy Gilmore has had his referee's license renewed, Dick Mastro his manager's card, and Joe Coffey his promoter's license. . . . Art Oliver, south side heavyweight, will leave today for St. Louis, where he meets Tony Musto of Blue Island for ten rounds Friday. . . . Walter Christie, Argo welterweight, is paired with Vernel Williams in a five round amteur headliner in Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard, tonight. . . . —F. M.

Angott Hands Camarata Beating in Ten Rounds

Sammy Angott of Louisville, Ky., handed Nick Camarata of New Orleans, La., his first defeat as a lightweight in a ten round bout in Marigold Gardens last night.

Two lefts to the head staggered Camarata in the fifth and a right to the chin dropped Nick for a three count in the next round. Angott fell through the ropes and onto the ring apron from the impetus.

Throughout the ninth Camarata was in distress from a barrage of blows to the head and body. Angott and Camarata each weighed 132 pounds.

The second largest crowd of the season gathered in the outdoor arena to see the slugging match. Spectators numbered 2,591, and gross receipts were $2,881.

In the secondary feature Frankie Kainrath, who won two Golden Gloves and three Catholic Youth organization championships in a four year amateur campaign, made an auspicious professional debut by scoring a three round technical knockout over Andy Canal, south side bantamweight.

The contest was set for four rounds. Kainrath, who weighed 120 pounds, registered three knockdowns in the first, one in the second and two more in the final round. Canal weighed 122¼ pounds. Other results:

Frankie Agnes beat Gene Spencer [5].

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Charging that the United States Lawn Tennis association sought to "intimidate" him by taking charge of his Davis cup hopeful and star pupil, Frank Kovacs, George Hudson started a one man rebellion against the ruling body of United States tennis today.

Hudson, Oakland, Cal., coach of Kovacs, Bobby Harman, Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco, and Patricia Canning of Alameda, declared: "At the Seabright tournament, due to the pressure being brought upon Kovacs by tennis officials, it was no longer healthy for the lad to be seen in my company."

Hudson said he contemplated legal action against the U. S. L. T. A. to clear himself of implied charges that he was unduly "capitalizing" his connections with young stars and for the purpose of shedding light on the "real conditions existing in amateur tennis."

Golfer Golfs 171 Holes, but Gets No Plantation

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—It took Bill Coleman, 22 year old Auburn youth, fifteen hours today to play 171 holes of golf on the nine hole, 3,154 yard layout of the Highland Golf club course. Coleman's score for the entire play was 734 strokes. He carded ninety-eight pars, twelve birdies, and one eagle.

PLAYS 173 HOLES.

Independence, Mo., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Charles Richardson, 18, read about how J. Smith Ferebee of Chicago played 144 holes of golf, then went out today and played 173 holes over three nine hole courses, one 3,162 yards long, one 3,168, and another 3,100. He said he averaged about 82 strokes for each 18 holes.

Athletics Purchase Miles from Chattanooga Club

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, announced tonight the purchase of Outfielder Wilson Dee Miles from the Chattanooga club of the Southern association. Miles, 27, had a batting average of .328 in 146 games last year and was among the leaders in his league.

Ambers Claims He's Fighting for 2 Crowns

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong's welterweight title will not be officially at stake when he goes after Lou Ambers' lightweight crown Wednesday night, but Ambers will claim it if he wins decisively and the public probably will recognize him.

The New York Athletic commission has ruled that only the 135 pound crown will be at stake, but that will make no difference to Manager Al Weill if Ambers wins.

"We'll wait until Wednesday night and see what happens," Weill said. "If it is a fast, exciting fight and Lou wins by a wide margin, he'll be the welterweight champion in the eyes of the fans and that's what will count."

Tickets Move Slowly.

The advance sale for the fifteen round bout in the Polo grounds is slow. A brief week-end spurt led Promoter Mike Jacobs to predict a $100,000 sale, but more conservative sources estimated the fight would gross nearer $80,000. The advance sale now is $25,000.

Betting continued to favor Armstrong at odds of 11 and 12 to 5, with little wagering. A sudden influx of Ambers money late last week was gobbled up rapidly and there has been none since.

Louis Watches Ambers.

Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis flew in from Detroit today and was rushed out to Summit to watch Ambers in his final workout. Joe refused to make a prediction.

Armstrong, who will be gunning for his third ring title in less than a year, took a day off at Pompton Lakes. He failed to impress observers in his last drill Sunday.

While Louis is in town, Jacobs expects to talk with him about plans for a September fight, maybe with Tommy Farr. Max Baer's mother died last night and it is not believed he will fight until the indoor season, anyway.

ALICE MARBLE ADVANCES IN EASTERN MEET

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—For the third straight day rain interfered with the eastern grass courts tennis tournament at the Westchester Country club today. Of 36 matches scheduled, only 18 were completed.

Alice Marble, in a third-round women's singles match, whipped Helen Bernhard of New York, 6-0, 6-1.

The most interesting development in the men's play was the unexpected entry and equally unexpected exit of Ronald Shayes, a member of the British Davis cup squad. Shayes, just off the Queen Mary, was inserted into the draw against Ernie Sutter of New Orleans, 1937 intercollegiate champion, and lost 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Bryan Grant and Elwood Cooke, both won handily. Mrs. Dorothy Andrus was eliminated in the second round, going down, 6-4, 6-4, before Margaret Osborne of San Francisco.

Lewis' Attorney Sues Commission; Demands $300,000

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Peter Lauria, an attorney representing John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, today announced that he had started a $300,000 suit in the Supreme court against the New York state athletic commission which recently declared Lewis' title vacated for failure to meet Tiger Fox.

"Lewis has been done irreparable damage," Lauria said, "by the boxing commission. Lucrative bouts he had booked in Europe and Australia may be canceled because of the commission's action. Today I filed a writ of certiorari against the three commissioners, Gen. John J. Phelan, Bill Brown, and D. Walker Wear, for $300,000."

CHICAGO NINE IS BEATEN, 13 TO 11, IN PRINTERS' MEET

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Teams from New York, Baltimore, Cincinnati, and the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul won their opening games today in the Union Printers' International baseball tournament.

New York blanked Pittsburgh, 6 to 0, in a contest cut to six innings by agreement. Detroit had a tying run on base in the ninth inning of its game with the Twin Cities team, but lost, 6 to 4. Baltimore came from behind to defeat the championship Washington, D. C., nine, 8 to 7.

Rain washed out a potential victory of Chicago over Cincinnati. Cincinnati led, 13 to 11, at the end of the seventh. The Chicagoans scored four in the eighth with two men out, but the rain halted the game and the score reverted to the end of the seventh, which gave Cincinnati the contest.

Tomorrow's games: New York vs. Baltimore; St. Louis vs. Cincinnati; Detroit vs. Indianapolis; Twin Cities vs. Chicago, and Pittsburgh vs. Washington.

Kipke Retains First Place in Coaches' Poll

A total of 473,658 votes for McMillin, collected from points all over the United States, came to THE TRIBUNE from the Bloomington World. Explaining the figure, the newspaper stated: "Today's roundup culminates a seven months' drive in behalf of McMillin by Indiana students, alumni and friends. Votes were received from almost every state."

Gophers Favor Kipke.

Kipke is the favorite in the Minneapolis Journal returns. The final day's file from there gave Kipke 12,754 first place votes and McMillin 4,322. The Minnesota coach, Bernie Bierman, is ineligible for the All-Star staf as a result of his victory in the 1936 poll.

The Lafayette, Ind., Journal-Courier sent 26,757 for Mal Elward of Purdue. Lansing, Mich., Kipke's home town, reported more than 200,000 from newspaper and radio campaigns in that area. Radio station WJIM was the clearing center. Station WGAR, Cleveland, added 25,630 to Kipke's total. The Lexington, Ky., Herald-Leader polled 221,000 first place votes for McMillin. Fans in central Kentucky voted through that newspaper.

Landsdowne Pins Williams; Schnabel and Bruns Draw

Patrick Landsdowne, English light heavyweight wrestler, tossed Al Williams of Fox Lake in 28 minutes 10 seconds last night in White City. Hans Schnabel held Bobby Bruns to a draw in a thirty minute bout, Jimmy Heffner pinned Jerry Meeker, 22:20; Jack [Bad Boy] Brown threw Roy Rickenbacher, 14:02, and Buck O'Neil tossed Kid Chapman in 18:00.

RETRIEVERS GO TO SCHOOL FOR OCTOBER TRIALS

Francis Hogan Takes Dogs to Superior, Wis.

BY BOB BECKER.

An unusual summer training school for retriever dogs was opened two days ago on the south shore of Lake Superior. It's the first venture of its kind we have heard of in the central states. The school is expected to polish up some top notch Labradors, Chesapeake Bay retrievers, and goldens which Chicago and northern Illinois sportsmen will see in action in field trials late in October.

When Chicago's hot, oppressive weather began to interfere with the training of retrievers for the fall field trial circuit Francis Hogan, leading retriever trainer of the central states, loaded a truck with his charges and headed for Superior, Wis. The cooler weather in that section and the cool water of Lake Superior permit more intensive training during August than one can get around Chicago, where high temperatures make it impossible to work retrievers much during the day.

Has 28 Dogs in String.

Hogan has twenty-eight dogs in his string, most of which are Chesapeakes, Labradors, and goldens owned by Chicagoans, although there are several springer spaniels in the group also being groomed for fall trials. According to the latest report from Superior, Wis., sportsmen are enjoying a free dog show every day. The retrievers are being trained on live birds both on land and in water, and their long distance swims to get birds are giving observers a treat.

Chicago sportsmen will have a chance to see these retrievers on Oct. 22 and 23, when the Midwest Field Trial club of Chicago, the pioneer retriever organization in the central states, holds its annual fall trial near Barrington. Fletcher Garlock, president of the club, states the American Kennel club has approved the October dates for the trial which will match eastern retrievers against the best in the central states.

Chicago Trials in October.

Preceding this event will be the Wisconsin retriever trial scheduled for Sept. 17 and 18, and others in Minnesota, Omaha, and St. Louis—a series that gives the central states an ideal circuit of tests for all kinds of retrievers. Sportsmen who want further information about the Chicago trial on Oct. 22 and 23, or advice on retriever breeds, either for hunting or trials, may write Mr. Garlock at 135 South La Salle street.

AUGUSTANA STAR QUITS CLEVELAND FOR RUGBY OFFER

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 8. — (AP) — Wayne Sheley, star quarter back at Augustana college last year and one of the nation's leading scorers, disclosed today that he will play with the Winnipeg Rugby club instead of reporting to the Cleveland Rams of the National Football league.

Sheley announced several months ago he had signed for $125 a game with Cleveland. The Winniueg offer, it was said, involved $1,000, assurance of board and room for the season, a paying job on the side, and a scholarship in the University of Manitoba.

Blues and Palmer House Win in Semi-Pro Tourney

The Mounds Blues and Chicago's Palmer House Indians remained in the running for the Illinois semi-pro baseball title last night in the Elgin tournament, the former by eliminating Joliet, 5 to 1, and the Indians with a 13 to 0 triumph over the Chicago Cragins.

Bears Invited to Play Colored Stars for Charity

George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears professional football team, yesterday received an invitation to have his squad appear against an All-Star colored eleven in a charity game in Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 23. The invitation, sent to Halas by Joel D. Hunter, representing the Chicago United Charities, follows:

"We are a joint committee representing Hull House, Abraham Lincoln Center and the Chicago United Charities, three reputable charities, all serving without distinction between race, color, or creed.

"Recently you agreed that the Chicago Bears would participate in a charity game at Soldiers' field on Friday night, Sept. 23, if a suitable opponent could be found. This has been done. A powerful all-star squad of colored players, the best in the country—drawn from the outstanding Negro colleges as well as from many other universities—will be assembled to meet the Bears.

"American Negroes have contributed many thrills in all branches of sports, particularly in football and track, and have proved their competitive caliber and sportsmanship. Many of them have represented the United States in the Olympic games. We now have Negro stars on the varsity teams of Northwestern, Minnesota, Cornell, Syracuse, South Dakota, Iowa, and the University of California at Los Angeles.

"With the strongest, fastest and most experienced Negro stars in the lineup there is no doubt that a tremendously powerful team will be assembled. The squad will be coached by E. P. Hurt of Morgan college, whose team, according to the Associated Press, has not lost a game in six years—a record of forty-eight consecutive victories.

"Won't you help in this worthy cause? The participating charities will be grateful."

HACK WILSON TO PLAY AGAINST MILLS ON AUG. 21

Hack Wilson, former Chicago Cubs home run hitter, is coming back to Chicago. The pudgy outfielder, who established a National league home run record of 56 during the 1930 season, will appear with the Tube City Brewers of McKeesport, Pa., in a doubleheader in Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, on Aug. 21.

BUT WE REFUSE

Meister Bräu has always been an all-grain brew—and always will be

I'M mighty proud that our Meister Bräu is the largest selling bottled beer in this great mid-western area. And I think that's because we still make it the old, slow way we made it 47 years ago.

We could speed up by using sugars or syrups in the beer. This saves time and work. And makes a beer some people may like. But we prefer the old way. Brewing an all-grain brew.

And we could save money by using a cheaper grade of hops. But I found 25 years ago that makes a raw beer.

Our old methods keep the life in the beer—keep its natural foam and sparkle. Like in draft beer. Hence Meister Bräu has the true flavor of draft beer at its best.

I know you'll find a real difference in our beer. Order Meister Bräu today in bottles or cans. You'll be glad you found a beer made with old-time care.

CUBS FACE REDS; SOMEBODY'LL BE FOURTH TONIGHT

French Will Seek to Break Tie in Opener.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 8.—The Cubs and the Reds are in an exact tie for third place today as they contemplate their three game series which opens tomorrow. Each team is ten games above the .500 mark with fifty-four victories and forty-four losses. It scarcely seems tactful to mention that both are eight games behind the Pirates.

Larry French, who shut out the Giants his last time out, and who previously had shown a return to form, will pitch the opener here. He will be opposed by Paul Derringer, one of the Cubs' major annoyances through the years.

He's Been Resting.

French, who worked frequently while compiling a record of eight victories and fifteen defeats, has had a lot of rest since his last performance. He hasn't pitched since last Thursday.

Manager Gabby Hartnett apparently has altered his plans as to the employment of French. Larry, as a reliever, on July 26, won the first game of the invasion of the east. He went in in the course of a four run Brooklyn rally in the seventh and contributed a double to a two run spiurge in the ninth which enabled the Cubs to win, 10 to 8.

French did not pitch in the night game in Brooklyn on July 27 in which the Cubs tossed themselves out of second place by blowing a 2 to 0 lead after one was out in the ninth. On July 29 he was pitching when the Phillies won on an infield error and the next day he was pitching when Pitcher Claude Passeau drove in the winning run after two were out in the eighth.

Three Relief Appearances.

The three aforesaid appearances were all relief engagements. On Aug. 4, against the Giants, Larry started. He allowed six hits to preserve a 0 to 0 status through the first five innings. After the Cubs busted through with five runs in the sixth, Larry became really serious. He didn't allow a hit in the last four innings.

The Cubs have done fairly well with the Reds this year. They are ahead of them, 7 to 5, in the season series. After the three games here the Cubs will move back to Pittsburgh, where they will play three games which should either revive the pennant race, in so far as they are concerned, or kill it very dead.

PIRATES WIN SUIT TO STOP BROADCASTS

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker today banned the broadcasts of National league games at Forbes field not authorized by the Pittsburgh baseball club.

The National Broadcasting company, the club and two sponsors of a program which until recently had described the games after they were completed, had requested the injunction against station KQV as part of a suit asking $100,000 damages.

The station said it had obtained accounts of the game through placing an observer with binoculars in a house across the street from Forbes field.

The court said he considered that "unfair competition," holding the Pirates had a "legitimate right to capitalize on the news value of the games by selling exclusive broadcasting rights."

CUNNINGHAM TO RUN EXHIBITION AT RIVERVIEW

Glen Cunningham, national A. A. U. mile champion, will run an exhibition on the Irish day program at Riverview park Sunday. Marvin Thomas, in charge of the program, will select a Chicago runner to pace Cunningham.

The Irish day meet, sanctioned by the A. A. U., will be featured by a ten mile marathon for the Central A. A. U. championship with Walter Bergman of Ogden A. C., defending the title.

Down Draft Girls Meet Monarch Team Tonight

The Chicago Down Draft girls will play a fast-pitching softball game tonight at Shewbridge field, 74th and Aberdeen streets, with the Malvaz-Monarchs, winners of thirty-four of their last forty games. Ann Plaetz will pitch for the Down Drafts. The game follows a curtain-raiser which starts at 7:30 p. m.

Expect Ten to Start in Hambletonian

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Hambletonian, Kentucky Derby of light harness horse racing, is expected to bring ten, possibly twelve, 3 year old trotters to the post Wednesday for its 13th running at Good Time park.

The owners and trainers have until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning to decide whether they'll pay the additional starting fee of $250 for trotting's richest race. As the grand circuit meeting opened today ten trainers indicated they would have their horses in line when Starter Steve Phillips sends them away in the first of the two out of three heats. Two other trainers said they had not made up their minds.

Long Key, McLin Favorites.

Heading the list are E. J. Merkle's Long Key of Columbus., O., with which Ben White, veteran trainer and driver, will seek his third Hambletonian victory, and McLin from Lawrence B. Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., Shoe farms. McLin, purchased last week from W. H. Cane for $20,000, will carry Hanover's hopes for its third victory in the Hambletonian. Hanover's Bertha won for Hanover in 1930 and Shirley Hanover came through last year in record time.

Long Key and McLin weren't much as 2 year olds. Long Key came into prominence, however, by winning the stallion and American stakes, trotting one heat of the former in 2:01½. McLin, last in five starts as a juvenile, turned in several fast workouts and then won one heat from Long Key in the American before changing stables.

Greyhound Races Today.

Other probable starters are Elbridge Gerry's Dale Hanover and E. Roland Harriman's Prohibitor, two of the ranking 1937 juveniles; J. J. McIntyre's Earl's Mr. Will of Cleveland; Earl's Princess Martha, owned by Earl F. Shropshire of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Murk Kyler's Professor of North Tonawanda, N. Y.; Homer Biery's Royal Spencer of Butler, Pa.; Sun Dial from the Newbrook stables of Short Hills, N. J., and the Duchess, purchased last winter by Count Mangelli of Milan, Italy, and left in this country in charge of Will Caton.

Meanwhile, Greyhound, world's fastest trotter, went through his final trials for tomorrow's clash with Gibson White's Rosalind, winner of the 1936 Hambletonian, W. N. Reynolds' Ed Lasater of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Brogan from Harriman's Arden homestead.

PROBABLE MAJOR LEAGUE PITCHERS IN TODAY'S GAME

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Probable pitchers in major league games tomorrow, with their won and lost, follows:

St. Louis at Pittsburgh—Warneke [9-4] vs. Bauers [6-8].

Terry Pitches as Giants Win McGraw Benefit, 9-1

Truxton, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Manager Bill Terry and his New York Giants came to the home town of their late manager, John J. McGraw today, and in an exhibition game defeated the Truxton All-Stars, 9 to 1. A crowd of 5,000, which included Mrs. McGraw, witnessed the contest which was held to aid the McGraw memorial fund. Terry hurled the closing innings for the Giants.

WINDY CITY SOFTBALL.

GRIMES FINED, SUSPENDED FOR HIS 'BANDIT ACT'

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Manager Burleigh Grimes of the Brooklyn Dodgers received notice from National League President Ford Frick today that he was fined $25 and suspended for three days for his actions following a decision by Umpire Larry Goetz in Sunday's double-header with the Cincinnati Reds.

Danowski Agrees to Join Giants Again This Fall

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Ed Danowski, former Fordham half back, will return to the New York Giants this fall, it was decided in a conference between Danowski and John V. Mara, president of the Giants, today.

EAGER DODGERS PAY PHILS CASH FOR LA MASTER

Southpaw Will Report to New Boss Today.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The Brooklyn Dodgers strengthened their pitching staf today with the purchase of Wayne La Master, a left hander, from the Phillies. It was a straight cash deal, Secretary John McDonald said.

La Master, 30 years old, will report tomorrow when the Phillies come to Ebbets field for a two game series. He is expected to help Vito Tamulis, the only other southpaw on the staf.

In eighteen games this season La Master has yielded eighty hits and thirty bases on balls, and has fanned thirty-six. Although credited with only one complete game, he has a record of four victories and seven defeats with the eighth place Phillies.

La Master entered the major leagues with the Phillies last year and took part in fifty games. His record of fifteen victories and nineteen defeats was considered remarkable, as his club finished deep in the cellar.

Mrs. Dorris Ward and Jessie L. MacBath, winners of the $5,000 amateur handicappers $5,000 prize on Saturday each were presented with checks for $2,500 by Walter L. Gregory, president of the Washington Park Jocky club, yesterday afternoon.

Orchids Next, owned by J. E. Hughes of Lake Forest, Ill., finally made good in yesterday's first race after she had failed numerous times this season. In three races at Arlington Park she was the hottest kind of a tip. Only once was he able to finish as good as second. Her connections gave up on her and she rolled home yesterday at odds of nearly 15 to 1.

W. S. KILMER'S 46 YEARLINGS BRING $107,300

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Consignment of forty-six yearlings from Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Court Manor stud, situated in the Shenandoah valley in New Market, Va., went under the hammer in the sales paddock tonight as the second week of nightly yearling auctions opened. They brought a total of $107,300 or an average of $2,333 per head. Top price for the sale was $12,000.

The Kilmer sales always attract considerable attention because of the Binghamton, N. Y., sportsman's outstanding contributions to the American turf. His Sun Beau, many of whose get were sold tonight, is the world's greatest money winner with earnings of $376,744. Among his latest racing stars is Nedayr, a son Neddie and recently winner of the rich Arlington Classic.

The $12,000 colt, a big, well developed brown son of Sun Briar-Rose Petal, was knocked down to Selby Burch, who outbid Anthony Pelleteri to acquire the youngster.

A black colt by Neddie-Mint Friary again saw Pelleteri finishing second when the Millsdale stable trainer failed to match the tall Three Stable's bid of $6,900. Warren Wright of Chicago, master of the Calumet farm, game $6,000 for a bay filly by Sun Briar out of Felside.

Singer Bing Crosby, who is busy with his Delmar track in California, entered the buying through an agent who bought for him a Neddie-Fair Mist colt for $1,600.

WORLD'S GRAIN PRICES FALL TO NEW LOW MARK

Wheat and Corn Dip Over 2 Cents.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

| | Yesterday. | Saturday. | Year ago. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Wheat | $0.62¾ | $0.65 | $1.10⅝ |
| Corn | .50⅛ | .52⅜ | 1.03¼ |
| Oats | .22⅛ | .22⅜ | .29⅜ |
| Rye | .40⅞ | .43¼ | .81⅛ |
| *Soy beans | .80⅜ | .82¾ | 1.00¼ |

*October delivery.

The drastic decline in world grain markets which has been under way for several months continued yesterday. Wheat, corn, oats, rye, and barley futures in North American markets and the deferred deliveries of wheat in Liverpool sold at new low levels for the season.

At no time did the markets show a disposition to rally, and closing trades were near the lowest levels. Net losses on wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were 2⅛ to 2⅝ cents. September wheat sold as low as 62½ cents a bushel. Corn declined 2⅜ to 2¾ cents a bushel.

Other Prices Compared.

No. 2 red winter wheat sold on the exchange yesterday at 66 cents and No. 2 white oats at 25¼ cents a bushel, the lowest prices recorded in Chicago since 1901, with the exception of the depression markets in 1932, 1933, and 1934. No. 2 yellow corn sold at 51¼ cents, a new low since 1922, excepting 1931 to 1934.

Lack of speculative buying and an extremely slow export demand were said by brokers to be largely responsible for the break in the wheat market. Corn was depressed by favorable weather conditions for the new crop, especially in parts of Iowa and Nebraska, which received good rains over the week-end. Other grains followed the trend in wheat and corn.

Speculators who bought wheat and corn futures last week in the belief that there might be an upturn in prices were said to have sold their holdings yesterday.

Efforts to Peg Prices Fail.

Neither the American government's loan program on wheat and corn nor the Canadian government's guaranteed minimum price for this year's wheat crop had any effect on the markets. September wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade closed at 62¾ cents, or 12¼ cents a bushel below the loan level on No. 2 red winter wheat. September corn at 50⅛ cents was within ⅛ cent a bushel of the government's loans on No. 2 yellow or white corn produced in 1937. About 45,000,000 bushels of corn have been pledged by farmers as security for loans.

October wheat in Winnipeg closed at 71⅝ cents, or 8¾ cents a bushel below the minimum figure guaranteed to farmers for No. 1 northern spring wheat delivered at Fort William or Vancouver.

DELAY OFFERING NEW BOND ISSUE OF ARGENTINA

Postponement of an offering of $25,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds of the Argentine government was announced yesterday by Morgan Stanley & Co. The bonds had been scheduled for issuance on Thursday but the Argentine congress has not yet enacted necessary legislation.

Proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used for the payment of Buenos Aires short term and floating indebtedness and for part payment of property acquired by Buenos Aires for street widening and construction.

Lehman Brothers heads a group which is offering $4,000,000 Cleveland, O., 2½ per cent, 2¾ per cent, and 3¼ per cent bonds. The New York state public service commission yesterday authorized the Yonkers Electric Light and Power company to issue $9,515,000 of 12 year 3½ per cent debentures during 1950.

THREE RAILWAYS GAIN IN TRAFIC; FOURTH HAS DROP

Increased revenue freight trafic in the week ended Aug. 6, compared with the preceding week, was shown by three major railroads which reported yesterday. A fourth road, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, announced lowered loadings compared with the week ended July 30.

The most substantial rise was shown by the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific road, which loaded 27,016 cars in the week ended Aug. 6, against only 25,814 in the preceding week. All roads showed declines from the corresponding week last year. Comparative car loading figures follow:

| Wk. ended | Aug. 6. | Prev. wk. | Yr. ago. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Atch T & S F | 24,767 | 24,762 | 30,581 |
| B. & O. | 37,950 | 37,363 | 51,780 |
| C. M., St. P. & P. | 27,016 | 25,814 | 30,583 |

Lockheed Aircraft Fills $337,000 Rumanian Order

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The Lockheed Aircraft corporation today finished the filling of a $337,000 order with the delivery of a high speed transport plane to a Rumanian air line. The ship was the fourth and last to be delivered to the air line. The planes, powered with Wright cyclone engines, carry eleven passengers and have a crew of three, with a top speed of 250 miles an hour.

Crop Estimate Drives Cotton Futures Down

Cotton futures prices declined as much as $1.70 a bale yesterday. A government estimate for a yield this year of 11,988,000 bales caused the break. Partial recoveries left closing prices in principal markets 0.12 to 0.20 cent a pound lower than at the close of the preceding session.

The federal crop reporting board's prediction was 600,000 to 700,000 bales higher than had been expected by most traders. The board's estimate places production in the United States at the smallest figure since the 1935 crop. It compares with an Aug. 1, 1937, government estimate of 15,593,000 bales and with the record harvest of 18,946,000 bales in 1937.

Crop 78 Per Cent of Normal.

Condition of the cotton crop on Aug. 1 was 78 per cent of normal, the board said. This compared with 81 per cent a year ago and a ten year average of 69 per cent. The indicated yield of lint cotton per acre was placed at 217.9 pounds, compared with a record yield in 1937 of 266.9 pounds. The indicated yield per acre is still the highest since 1898, except for last year's yield.

Some buying developed late yesterday as it appeared that government loans on cotton would become mandatory. The closing average price in ten designated southern markets was only 0.08 cent above the price of 8.27 cents a pound at which loans must be ordered by the Agriuctural Adjustment administration.

Ravages of Prices.

Spot cotton closed 0.10 to 0.19 cent lower. The price of standard middling cotton in New York closed at 8.36 cents a pound. Futures prices in cents per pound follow:

AUTO FINANCING CONSENT DECREE OFFERED BY U. S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The justice department submitted to independent auto finance companies today a proposal for settlement of the government's anti-trust proceedings against the Ford Motor company and the Chrysler corporation.

The proposed consent decree, which is subject to the approval of the Federal District court at South Bend, Ind., provides that the government drop its charges and that auto finance companies affiliated with Ford and Chrysler abandon certain allegedly coercive practices.

The proposal was submitted to the independent companies because they made the complaints which resulted in the prosecution. The proposed decree officials indicated, would prohibit automobile manufacturers from paying rebates to dealers who insisted that customers finance purchases through manufacturer-affiliated companies.

Ford, Chrysler, and General Motors corporation, their affiliated finance companies, and 40 individuals are under indictment at South Bend on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust act.

FEDERAL AGENCY PLANS TO WIDEN LOANS ON WHEAT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Officials said today that the Commodity Credit corporation may announce soon a revision in its wheat loan program which would make some No. 4 winter wheat eligible for loans.

The announcement, they said, probably will extend the loan provisions to wheat which meets the grade qualifications of types to which loans now apply, but does not meet the weight requirement.

Wheat loans under the present program are applicable to winter wheat of type No. 3 and better and to spring wheat of type No. 2 or better. The loans average about 59 cents a bushel to producers.

SPENCER KELLOGG QUARTERLY DIVIDEND OF 30 CENTS ORDERED

A reduced quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share was declared yesterday on the common stock of Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., New York oil products company. In the preceding quarter the corporation paid 40 cents a common share, and in 1937 a total of $1.60 a share.

Three dividends were ordered by directors of the Charles E. Hires company, beverage concern. Regular payments of 50 cents a share were declared for the next two quarters on the class A common stock, and a $2 interim payment was ordered on the class B common.

Stage of Business as Reflected in 4 Leading Barometers

BUTTER PRICE LOWER DESPITE NEW RECORD IN FEDERAL PURCHASES

The Dairy Products Marketing association, butter buying agency financed by the federal government, yesterday set a record of 2,740,000 pounds for a single day's purchases. The association, which began buying June 16 to hold prices up, has bought a total of 29,000,000 pounds throughout the country since that time.

In spite of the DPMA's record buying, butter futures slipped ½ cent a pound yesterday to close at 24¾ cents for the November contract. Opening at 24⅝ cents, contracts rallied to a high of 25 cents under influence of the heavy cash buying by the association. Continued reports of heavy production and increasing storage stock, however, more than offset DPMA buying and forced prices lower at the close.

October eggs rallied to close unchanged at 23⅝ cents, after sagging ¾ cent a dozen early in the day. Spot prices for both butter and eggs were unchanged.

SPIEGEL'S SALES IN JULY 4½ PCT. BELOW YEAR AGO

Spiegel, Inc., Chicago mail order house, yesterday reported that July sales were 4.5 per cent below those of July last year. The respective totals were $2,739,286 and $2,868,162. In the first seven months of 1938 sales dropped 9.4 per cent to $24,214,621 from $26,732,100 in the corresponding 1937 period.

A decrease of 16.3 per cent in July sales compared with a year ago was reported by Lane Bryant, Inc., manufacturers and distributors of women's and infants' apparel. Sales totaled $752,585 for the month, compared with $899,610 a year earlier. Seven months' sales were 10.7 per cent below those of last year.

DISTILLER WILL SPEND $400,000 ON IMPROVEMENT

The Calvert Distillers corporation, New York, has set aside $400,000 to compete its improvement program at the Baltimore, Md., plant, W. W. Wachtel, president, said yesterday. This brings the company's construction expenditures in the last eighteen months to a total of $1,000,000. The new additions will include two gin stills, a whisky storage system and new facilities for ground grain and mashing operations.

Lumber Output Declines in Week, but Shipments Rise

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The National Lumber Manufacturers' association announced today lumber production for the week ended July 30 totaled 203,809,000 feet of soft wood and hard woods combined, compared with 206,045,000 feet the preceding week. Shipments totaled 221,072,000 feet, compared with 213,895,000 the preceding week, and new orders amounted to 229,862,000 feet, compared with 261,721,000.

Unemployment in Britain 29,796 Less Than in June

A Reuters' dispatch from London yesterday said British unemployed on July 18 numbered 1,773,116. This was a decline of 29,796 from June 13, but was 448,000 above July 26, 1937. It was estimated that total employed as of July 18 was 11,371,000, a gain of 38,000 over June 13, but a decrease of 300,000 from July 26, 1937.

Business Failures Rise to 238 for Week in U. S.

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Business failures in the United States in the week ended yesterday numbered 238, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today. This was a gain of 19, or 8.7 per cent, from figures of the preceding week. In comparison with the corresponding week a year ago, the latest week had 82 more failures.

Gen'l Motors Sales in July Gain Over June

Sales of General Motors corporation passenger cars and trucks to consumers in the United States in July showed a small gain over June but a drop from July, 1937.

The total for July was 78,758 units, against 76,071 in June and 163,818 in July, 1937. The normal seasonal movement for July as compared with June is upward.

Sales to dealers in the United States totaled 61,826 units in July, against 72,596 in June, and 187,869 in July, 1937. Sales to dealers in the United States, Canada, and overseas totaled 90,030 units, against 101,908 in June and 226,681 in July, 1937.

Seven Month Sales 576,878.

For the first seven months of this year sales to consumers in the United States and Canada totaled 576,878, against 1,035,044 in the first half of 1937. Sales to dealers in the first half of this year in the United States and Canada totaled 481,474, against 1,067,057 in the first half of 1937.

Sales of the Studebaker corporation in July totaled 3,471 units, against 4,381 in July, 1937. Paul G. Hoffman, president, reported. Sales in the first seven months totaled 23,940 units, against 61,025 in the first seven months of 1937.

Total factory sales of passenger automobiles and trucks by all manufacturers in the United States and Canada in July were estimated by the Automobile Manufacturers association at 148,200 units. The six month total was 1,306,032 units, compared with 2,916,869 for the first half of 1937.

June Retail Total 189,624.

Domestic retail sales in June totaled 189,624 units, bringing the six months' total to 1,178,282, against 2,408,550 for the first half of 1937.

Dealer stocks were reduced during June by 38,370 units. The net reduction in the first six months was 161,000 units. Last year during the corresponding period dealer inventories increased by nearly 132,000 units.

R. L. Polk & Co., automobile industry statisticians, reported yesterday that there was a virtual halt in the downward trend of new passenger car sales in July. It was estimated July registrations were off only 0.76 of 1 per cent from June.

U. S. SHORT TERM FINANCING COSTS LOWER FOR WEEK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The cost to the treasury of short term borrowing declined today after five weeks of successive increases. The treasury borrowed $100,000,000 by selling ninety-one day treasury bills for an average price of 99.989, equivalent to an interest rate of 0.044 per cent. This was the lowest rate in four weeks and compared with 99.984, equivalent to 0.062 per cent last week.

Federal Agency Has Loaned Over 21 Millions On Corn

The Commodity Credit corporation reports that it has loaned $21,738,266 on 44,826,737 bushels of corn through Aug. 4. The corporation reported $238,730,758 loaned on 5,464,870 bales of cotton. The corporation also said that through July 30 a total of 69,471,071 net grease pounds of wool had been appraised for loans aggregating $12,130,064. Of this amount $4,963,230 had been loaned on 28,033,098 pounds.

Consider Fairchild Stock Removal on Chicago Mart

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—An application by the Chicago Board of Trade for the delisting of the $1 par value common stock of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane corporation, New York, will be considered at a public hearing to be held Aug. 31 in the Chicago regional office of the Securities and Exchange commission.

Bring in Twelfth Well in North Olney Oil Field

Olney, Ill., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The North Olney oil field had its twelfth producer today in the Miller No. 1 well, which officials of the Fortney Oil company estimated would produce between 1,000 and 1,500 barrels daily. Company officials said the well, which adjoins the Bird Haven property of the University of Chicago, was producing sixty barrels hourly.

RUTLAND ROAD MAKES PAY TRUCE; IS SAVED FROM ABANDONMENT

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—A wage compromise permitting the hard pressed Rutland railroad to continue in operation was disclosed today. Abandonment of the Vermont road had been threatened after months of operating losses.

The Rutland, it was learned, has arranged to pay its union employés 70 to 90 per cent of their wages in cash and withhold the rest. This action brought a truce in a dispute as to whether employés should accept a 15 per cent wage cut. The deduction plan was accepted under protest after Federal Judge Howe ordered the road to consider the withheld balance as a debt to be paid if and when earnings warant. As a result of the compromise, the road's usual passenger and freight services will be continued.

On July 22 bond holders of the Rutland were directed by Judge Howe to prepare to take over the line, which has been in receivership for three months.

U. S. TO PURCHASE CABBAGE TO CUT STATE SURPLUS

Racine, Wis., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation tonight offered to buy up fresh cabbage from Racine, Kenosha, and Milwaukee farmers who can find no market for the heaviest crop in their history.

While the move by the FSCC will provide temporary relief, the farmers still are petitioning the government to make provisions to purchase canned kraut. Speakers at a farmers' massmeeting tonight pointed out that the majority of the growers in the three southeastern Wisconsin counties raise large sized cabbage for canning which cannot be sold on the fresh cabbage market.

More than 200 growers attended a massmeeting tonight at which R. W. Tysen, representative of the FSCC, revealed plans for the purchase. Tysen said the government will begin buying the smaller cabbage Wednesday. "We will purchase only those cabbages which will move for the commercial market," Tysen declared. "We have not been authorized to buy up those that are grown for canning."

MEMBER OF SEC AND DEALERS TO MEET TOMORROW

George C. Mathews, member of the Securities and Exchange commission, will meet tomorrow at the Hotel La Salle with securities dealers of Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana. The conference has been called for a discussion of self-regulation of over the counter securities markets under provisions of the Maloney act. Francis A. Bonner, Chicago investment banker and SEC adviser, will attend.

Tomorrow's meeting was arranged by a committee of twenty-three dealers in the middle west. John E. Blunt III. of the Lee-Higginson corporation, Chicago, is chairman of the committee. He is a member of the Investment Bankers' Conference, Inc., which recently agreed with the SEC on the necessity for building up a strong national association of over the counter brokers and dealers.

Sales of Paint Companies in June Below Year Ago

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The department of commerce reported today that sales by 579 establishments handling paint, varnish, lacquer, and fillers totaled $32,389,541 in June, against $35,293,888 in the preceding month and $39,837,755 in June, last year. Total sales for the first six months were $173,320,481, compared with $225,572,684 in the corresponding period of 1937.

LINK-BELT CO.'S PROFIT $148,262 IN JUNE QUARTER

Liquid Carbonic Net Slips to $594,781.

The Link-Belt company and the Liquid Carbonic corporation, both Chicago companies, had lower sales and profits in the second quarter of this year than in the corresponding 1937 period. This was indicated in interim statements issued yesterday. Link-Belt makes chains and conveying machinery and Liquid Carbonic makes soda fountains and carbonic gas.

Link-Belt's indicated net profit in the second quarter was $148,262. This compared with $234,090 in the preceding three months and $1,000,999 in the June quarter of last year. The company's indicated sales of $4,691,352 in the three months ended June 30 compared with $4,885,700 in the preceding quarter and $7,376,672 in the quarter ended June 30, 1937.

6 Month Profit $382,352.

For the first half of this year, Link-Belt reported a profit of $382,352 against $1,738,585 in the first six months of 1937. First half sales declined to $9,577,052 from $13,163,793 in the 1937 period.

With second quarter sales falling 15 per cent from sales in the like 1937 quarter, Liquid Carbonic's net income slipped to $594,781 from $788,556 in the second three months of 1937. Sales totaled $5,065,360 against $5,970,859. The company had net income of $696,985, or 99 cents a share, in the nine months ended June 30, compared with $979,588, or $1.40 a share, in the nine months ended June 30, 1937.

Certain-Teed Products corporation, manufacturers of building supplies, reported net income for the June quarter of $106,619, or $1.46 a preferred share, against loss of $189,588 in the preceding quarter and net income of $163,056, or 8 cents a common share, in the second quarter of last year.

USE OF CHECKS SHOWS INCREASE IN MIDDLE WEST

Use of checks in the Chicago federal reserve district in the week ended Aug. 3 increased 13.8 per cent over the preceding week. This was indicated yesterday by the weekly report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago on debits to individual accounts as reported by 159 banks in forty-one leading clearing house banks in the district.

The total for the week was $1,057,725,000, compared with $929,370,000 in the preceding week. The Aug. 3 report included the first of the month, when normally there is an increase in the use of checks when bills are paid. Compared with the corresponding week of 1937 there was a decline of 17.1 per cent from the $1,276,533,000 reported.

Debits to individual accounts [checks written] reported by the Chicago banks totaled $632,627,000 in the week ended Aug. 3, against $722,696,000 for the like 1937 week.

British Pound Sinks; Near Old Dollar Parity

The British pound fell in relation to the dollar yesterday, setting a new low mark since March, 1937. Final dealings were at $4.88⅛ cents, or less than a cent and a half above the old "parity" of $4.8664 for the pound.

Persistent rumors that the pending Anglo-American trade agreement would call for placing the dollar and pound on the old ratio in effect before abandonment of gold standards, together with fears caused by developments in the Russian-Japanese border war were believed the cause of the flight from sterling.

British Fund Does Little.

The heavy selling of sterling, apparently mostly by French and Swiss sources, met little opposition from the British control fund. The French franc also was at the lowest price since its 2.79 cent peg was established early in May, but the control fund checked its decline. The franc closed at 2.73½ cents.

The strong demand for gold at rising prices continued in London. The price was fixed at the equivalent of $34.78 an ounce, compared with $34.776 last Saturday. No gold engagements were made in London for shipment to the United States.

Engage Gold from Japan.

The New York Federal Reserve bank announced that $5,800,000 of gold had been engaged in Japan for shipment to San Francisco. The bank's daily gold statement showed no imports or exports of gold, and no change in stocks held under earmark for foreign accounts.

Other European currencies were irregular. The Swiss franc lost 0.00½ cent against the dollar and Holland guilders slumped 0.07 cent. The belga, which is tied to gold, remained unchanged at 16.91½ cents.

BALTIMORE-OHIO PLANS CHANGE IN BOND INTEREST

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Officials of the Baltimore & Ohio rail road expect to submit a tentative plan for readjustment of bond interest to the interstate commerce commission within the next few days, it was reported today. The plan, if approved by the commission and security holders, would become effective Jan. 1, 1939.

The plan would make interest payments on the first and refunding bonds, the convertible 4½ per cent bonds and the junior lien issues on a contingent basis, payable only in the proportion earned. It also provides for the extension of the road's 4½ per cent notes, due in 1939, for five years.

The first mortgage 4s would remain undisturbed, but the plan provides for reducing the first 5s to 4 per cent fixed interest and 1 per cent on a contingent basis.

BANKERS PLAN EUROPEAN TRADE IN U. S. STOCKS

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A group of international bankers has formed an English depository company which will put American stocks on continental exchanges, it was disclosed today.

The company will be known as the International Certificates Depository Company, Ltd. It is now in the process of organization with an authorized capital of £200,000 [$1,000,000]. All the capital is subscribed by one Brussels, four London, four French, and three Swiss banks.

[Financial quarters reported in Paris on Friday that the French government had consented to listings of American stocks on the bourse for the first time since the world war.]

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 8.—Labor leaders are drafting a resolution that all United States businesses in Latin America be forced to pay wages equal to those in the United States for the same types of work, it was learned today. It will be presented to the "constituent assembly" starting in Mexico City on Sept. 5 for the purpose of forming a Latin-American labor union. The assembly will be attended by John L. Lewis, the American C. I. O. leader.

STOCKS RECEDE; SELLING WIPES OUT EARLY RISE

Trading Quiet After Initial Activity.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 8.—Moderate but persistent selling throughout today's session forced stock market prices fractions to around 2 points lower. Except for several large blocks at the opening, trading was quiet. Total trading was 913,930 shares.

At the outset, prices were irregularly higher. Continuation of the demand prevalent in the last two sessions last week accounted for the initial advances. However, when no "follow through" support appeared, prices reacted. An effort to buoy prices shortly before midday proved futile, and resumption of offerings depressed the list.

Renewal of the Russo-Japanese hostilities in the far east and weakness in commodity prices were contributing factors to the decline.

Steel Output Disappointing.

Reports on the steel industry also were regarded as discouraging inasmuch as the American Iron & Steel Institute estimated operations this week at a lower rate than for last week.

The victory of administration backed Senator Barkley in Kentucky and the imminence of President Roosevelt's return to Washington inspired caution in many circles, it was asserted.

On the favorable side of the ledger was the General Motors' report of increased sales in July. The stock of that company was one of the few strong spots among leading shares. It was actively traded and closed at 47½, or only a small fraction from its previous peak. Meanwhile, Chrysler slumped nearly 2 points.

Steels were depressed from the start. Opening fractionally lower, both United States Steel and Bethlehem declined steadily. They closed with losses of 1½ and 1⅝ points, respectively.

Radio Corporation Strong.

An isolated strong spot was Radio Corporation, which moved in the best volume of the day to gain half point. Other communications were mixed.

Rubbers and coppers were prominent in the decline. United States Rubber dropped 1¼ points and Goodyear lost ⅞. Anaconda, American Smelting, and Kennecott were leaders in the metal group.

Rails eased in the afternoon after a steady start. Small fractional losses were the rule, although Santa Fe slumped 1¼ points. Power and light shares moved narrowly lower. Interest was mostly nominal.

Losses in the chemicals ranged from fractions to around 2 points, with du Pont one of the hardest hit. Union Carbide worked 1⅛ points higher, however.

Merchandising issues, led by Montgomery Ward and Sears-Roebuck, lost fractions to one point. R. H. Macey, however, reached a new top.

The exchange reported today that short interests in the market on July 29 amounted to 833,633 shares, a decrease of 216,501 from 1,050,164 shares as of June 30.

AIR LINE FLIES 40 MILLION MILES CHICAGO TO N. Y.

Transport planes of the United Air Lines yesterday completed 40 million miles of flying over the system's Chicago to New York airway, according to President W. A. Patterson. Approximately 16 million miles of the total have been flown at night, Patterson said. United Air Lines transports, which have flown the route since the company took over the line in 1927, now fly more than 15,000 miles a day over the airway.

$8,254,000 WPA Purchase of Clothing Completed

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The treasury department's procurement division today completed purchase of $8,254,000 worth of men's clothing for the WPA. Tomorrow it will begin to buy some $2,000,000 worth of women's coats and suits.

New York Bonds.

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The bond market idled today, with railroads holding fairly steady and industrials and utilities slightly lower. United States government obligations were improved, with gains ranging up to 2-32ds in the more active issues.

Lehigh Valley issues weakened on publication of the plan for extension of the underlying bond issues for 10 years, which would trim down interest payments on these issues by about 25 per cent over the next few years. The 4s closed off 1¾ and the 4½s lost 3½.

Heaviest trading of the day was in Bethlehem Steel 3¼s, which closed ⅜ higher at 99⅜.

Chicago Stocks.

Eight stocks set new highs for the year on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. The list moved unevenly, with 27 advances, 27 declines and 25 issues unchanged. Volume was 24,000 shares, against 27,000 on Friday. THE TRIBUNE average of twenty stocks closed at 11.55, off 0.03.

Bank Stocks.

A downward trend prevailed yesterday among leading Chicago bank stocks. Northern Trust company shares declined $5 to close at $520 bid, $530 asked. Stock of the First National bank dropped $2 to $230 bid, $234 asked. Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust stock closed $1.25 lower at $72.25 bid, $73.25 asked, and American National Bank and Trust company shares were $2 lower at $180 bid, $190 asked. Dealers reported small trading.

Trade Balances.

A nation is said to have a "favorable" balance of trade if its merchandise exports exceed its imports. The theory that this is favorable is based on the assumption that an "export balance" will eventually mean shipments of gold into the exporting country. Other nations, buying more goods than they sell, must eventually pay for the excess by shipping gold to the country which sells more than it buys. Some nations, of course, borrow money in the exporting country, to pay for the goods shipped, but this cannot continue indefinitely.

There are, however, besides ordinary merchandise shipments, certain invisible items which affect a country's final trade balance. Thus, if people in Great Britain buy securities in the United States, the effect is the same as an export from the United States, because the British must provide funds to pay for the securities. This is an invisible export from the United States.

When, however, American companies pay to British investors interest and dividends on the securities, money goes out of this country to Great Britain. The effect, then, is that of a merchandise import, into the United States, because the flow of funds is away from this country. When American tourists spend money abroad, whether or not they buy goods to bring home, the financial effect is that of an import into this country.

CHEAPER MEATS TO FOLLOW DROP IN LIVE STOCK

Hogs and Pork Lose Most; Cattle Steady to Weak.

Lower prices are in store for buyers of most cuts of meats this week. This results from recent downturns in wholesale markets for the various cuts and further declines in live costs of animals at the Chicago stock yards yesterday. Only a few classes of live stock held steady, the bulk selling off slightly to as much as 25 cents per hundred pounds.

Hogs and pork were weakest on the list. Most pork sold about in line with the extremely low close of last week, but the clearance was not complete. Some packers reported that further price cutting was necessary to avert a glut in their plants.

Hot Weather Cuts Demand.

Prices paid for hogs ranged from steady on a few of the heaviest butchers and sows to as much as 25 cents lower on the lightest weight new crop animals, which has been weakest for several days. Both the top and the average declined 5 cents to $9.60 selling from $9 to $12.

Trading in cattle was one of the slowest of the season. Sellers resisted buyers' attempts to slash quotations sharply, with the result that considerable haggling delayed the movement. Most supplies changed hands during the late tradings at steady to slightly lower prices. Top loads cashed at $12.75, with the bulk selling from $9.00 to $12.00.

Not much change occurred in sheep and lambs.

July Slaughter Lower.

Slaughtering of all classes of live stock except cattle decreased last month. Reports from all packing plants under federal inspection yesterday showed a total of 4,971,081 cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep slaughtered, compared with 5,309,882 in June. The total was 4,343,323 a year ago, which was the second smallest July slaughter since 1917.

Packers received and slaughtered 820,031 cattle, the largest number since January, against 815,786 during June. It was the second largest July total since 1926, comparing with 790,020 last year.

Slaughtering of calves declined from 475,242 during June to 436,265 last month, being smallest for July in five years. A year ago the total was 519,826.

The hog total dropped from 2,533,468 in June to 2,253,530 in July.

Filipino Gold Production Sets Six Month Record

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Filipino gold production reached a record of $15,267,000 in the first half of 1938, official estimates disclosed today. Each month showed an increase over its predecessor. The June total was $2,730,000.

HOLMES DENIES PACKING FIRMS CAN SET PRICES

Demand, Supply Rule, Says Swift Head.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Packing houses are merely the channels through which the animals raised by farmers become the meat bought by housewives, and cannot arbitrarily increase or lower prices. That statement was made here today by John Holmes, president of Swift & Co., before the convention of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers.

John Holmes.

"We do not originate meat," he said. "We are a channel. Meat packing plants are like canals along which a comparatively few people can haul a great many barges. The plants cannot add more animals to the farms or ranches.

Demand and Supply Rule.

"All we can do is to keep the channel open and to let prices in the long run be set by the demand from customers and the supply of meat."

Supply and demand cause all major price movements, and packers and retailers do no more than register the effect of changes when they quote prices every day, Holmes said.

People who believe meat packers and retailers want meat prices to rise so they can make more money should be told, Holmes asserted, that packers and retailers are most prosperous when they sell large quantities at steady prices. The industry is one of small profit margin, he explained, and depends on a large, quick turnover.

Will Discuss Wages and Hours.

John A. Kotal, Chicago, national secretary and treasurer, said that much of the business during the four day sessions would be discussions of wage and hour legislation.

A visitor at the convention, C. B. Whalen, in charge of the live stock, meats, and wool division of the United States department of agriculture, said there was no overproduction in the meat industry this year.

U. S. Appeal Court Refuses Bridge Bond Foreclosure

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the District court at Dubuque, Ia., today in refusing to foreclose a mortgage securing a $200,000 bond issue on the Iowa-Wisconsin Bridge company, owners of a bridge across the Mississippi river at Lansing, Ia. The lower court had adopted a special master's findings which held the mortgage and the bonds, with the exception of $15,000 worth, were fraudulently issued.

SHELL WILL PUT 27,500 WORKERS ON PENSION PLAN

Petroleum Group to Give Necessary Funds.

Adoption of a pension plan for 27,500 Shell workers in the United States and Canada was announced yesterday by Alexander Fraser, president of the Shell Petroleum and Shell Pipeline corporations. The Shell group is one of the world's largest petroleum organizations.

Pensions will be provided by the companies without contributions from employés. If an employé receives a social security pension, the Shell pension is to be adjusted accordingly. The plan has been made effective as of Jan. 1, 1938.

Normal retirement ages have been defined as 55 years for women and 60 for men, although retirement at these ages is not compulsory.

Pension Based on Service.

The plan provides for a pension equal to 40 per cent of the employé's average annual wages or salary during the five years immediately preceding retirement. No pension is to exceed $6,000 a year.

Employés who complete 20 or more years of service and reach normal retirement age are eligible to retire with "full pension." Workers who reach normal retirement age before completing 20 years, but not less than 15 years of service will receive proportionate pensions. Shell may grant early pensions at its discretion for special reasons.

Base on Actuarial Valuations.

Shell's contribution of funds for the support of the plan will be based upon actuarial valuations. Fraser said the company does not undertake to make good any investment losses to pension funds, but it intends to place the funds in the hands of suitable third parties for administration.

For members of Shell's Provident Fund, the annual pension is to be reduced by an amount equal to 4 per cent of the sum standing on the company side of a member account in the fund at retirement. Under the Provident Fund employés contribute 10 per cent of their earnings and the company contributes a like amount. The employé is not given the fund until he retires or leaves the company.

Investing Company Reports More Shares Outstanding

American Business Shares, Inc., investing company, yesterday reported an increase in the number of shares outstanding to 2,084,068 on June 30 from 1,680,325 on Dec. 31, 1937.

Middle States Petroleum.

Investors' Guide: I have been considering buying some Middle States Petroleum corporation stock. Will you please tell me something about this company?—Miss A. E. S.

Answer: The Middle States Petroleum corporation is a holding company which wholly or partly owns a number of other petroleum companies, principally producers. These companies produced 1,284,854 net barrels of oil last year, an increase of 96,889 barrels over 1936 production. They drilled 26 wells during 1937, of which 24 proved productive.

The corporation earned $257,446, or 86 cents a class A share, last year, compared with $20,297, or 7 cents a class A share, in 1936. Losses were incurred during the depression. There are 299,954 shares of no par class A stock and 895,529 shares of no par class B stock, both represented by voting trust certificates, outstanding. Only one dividend, a 22 cent payment, has been paid on the class A stock since the corporation was incorporated in 1929. Nothing has been paid on the class B shares.

The consolidated balance sheet excepting stock of the Louisiana and North West Railroad company showed total assets of $3,727,209 at the end of 1937. Current assets were $310,605 and current liabilities were $297,109.

Buda Company.

Investors' Guide: Please give me some information on the Buda company, Harvey, Ill.—H. H.

Answer: The Buda company makes Diesel engines and internal combustion engines for various purposes. It also makes steam and street railway supplies and parts, such as track drills, jacks, gates, etc. Special track equipment for steam and electric railways also is produced, as well as a number of other items.

The company earned $354,877, or $1.93 a share on 183,992 shares or $12.50 par capital stock in the fiscal year ended July 31, 1937. Net profit in the 1936 fiscal year was $199,393, or $8.86 a share on 22,500 shares of $100 par stock. The company has in the past issued only annual statements. The 1938 report has not yet been issued.

The stock was split 8 for 1 and par value was cut from $100 to $12.50 in March, 1937. A dividend of 37½ cents a share was paid on the new stock last year, but nothing has been paid so far this year.

AUTO ACCESSORY SHOW ATTRACTS HOST OF BUYERS

More than 5,000 buyers from thirty states and Canada were registered yesterday for the automobile accessory show and the sports equipment exposition which are being held jointly at the Stevens hotel. Exhibitors at the accessories show estimated that about $800,000,000 of the 4 billion dollars expected to be spent by vacation tourists this year will be spent in necessary retail outlets.

"This estimate is based on the fact that more families than ever before now own cars," said R. Garland Ames, manager of the exposition. "Because automotive operating costs are lower, with the exception of taxes, vacation travel is larger than for some years."

Cost of Clothing for CCC Workers Is Cut to $90.61

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The cost of clothing for an enrollee in the Civilian Conservation corps has been reduced to $90.61 a year, officials announced today. Last year's figure was $96.09.

for those training at
BURNHAM'S

You'll have so many advantages if you're a Burnham graduate. For instance, our training methods are so famous among shop owners that we cannot supply present demand for our graduates. We usually place our graduates in those smart, high price shops where established operators frequently make $50 a week up. Starting under such conditions means more money, greater prestige, faster progress. These are the reasons why more students enroll at Burnham's than any other. Investigate them without fail! Complete beauty kit furnished if you act now. Day and evening classes. Only $5.00 enrolls you; then unbelievably easy terms. Visit the school any week day or any Monday, Wednesday, or Friday evening.
